do is to provide adequate schools."

A. A. Cody, member Canton board—"The citizens who are looking ahead must get out and tell others of this program."

David Underwood, businessman—"I was foreman of the 1948 grand jury that recommended many of the things covered in this county-wide expansion program. We needed them then; we need them worse today. If we fail to pass this bond issue we will be turning back our educational program one or two generations. It behooves every citizen to get out and work for this as never before, and make November 17 a successful day for our schools, and future."

Wayne Corpening, county agent, chairman speaker's committee—"The people will be given the facts; everything will be opened, and they will be thoroughly informed."

Among the school teachers and principals speaking briefly, included: Frank Rogers, E. J. Evans, M. H. Bowles, Mrs. Rufus Siler, Claude Rogers, Mrs. Claude Rogers, Lawrence Leatherwood, and C. E. Weatherby.

in which Haywood excels—Burley, beef cattle, apples, industry, water power, high wage scale, and dairying.

"Of all these, and others, we are extremely happy, but we have frightfully neglected our largest, and most important crop — our children."

"These figures I have presented are from official sources—they are not my figures. These facts, together with the urgent need of expanding our school facilities, causes me to repeat again, with pride: Haywood can well afford this school expansion program, and to that end I shall lend my personal support and influence."

Mr. Woody is among those who will go throughout the county addressing citizens on the school needs, and how they can well be met.

MINUTES OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION AND THE BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS ON OCTOBER 9, 1951

WHEREAS the Board of Education and the Board of Commissioners of Haywood County, realize that, should the school bond election for Two Million Dollars be voted favorably, the supervision of the expenditure of this amount of money would be a major task within itself; and whereas, each member of these respective Boards is anxious that this money be spent so as to receive 100 cents value for every dollar expended in the enlargement of the school program in Haywood County.

Now, THEREFORE, the Board of Education and the Board of Commissioners of Haywood County, in a special called session held at the Courthouse on October 9, 1951, unanimously passed the following resolution in furtherance of its desire to obtain for the citizens and taxpayers of the County a modern, up-to-date school building program, as set forth in resolutions heretofore adopted:

"BE IT RESOLVED, should the school bond election pass at the forthcoming special election, that the Board of Education and the Board of Commissioners will jointly appoint a special building committee of at least three, and not more than five, prominent businessmen of the County to supervise the building program, in conjunction with said two Boards. That the said special committee, together with the said two Boards, shall select, appoint and contract with an architect, or architects, engineers and assistants in carrying on said building program;

"And FURTHER, that this special building committee, in session with the Board of Education and the Board of Commissioners, will and jointly with them, select and employ a person qualifying from experience in judging materials and construction to closely supervise, inspect and be responsible for seeing that all details of any and all building contracts are carried out strictly according to plans and specifications, or according to amended and approved specifications. That the compensation, if any, to said special committee and supervisor shall be fixed by said two Boards and paid from the funds derived from the bond election."

There being no further business said Boards adjourned to the regular meetings.

C. R. Francis, Member.

Section 3 says: "The board of county commissioners in each county in which a county dog warden is appointed under this Act shall establish and maintain a dog pound in each county, the same to be under the supervision of the county dog warden, for the purpose of impounding lost or strayed dogs for a period not to exceed 15 days during which time the county dog warden shall make every reasonable effort to locate and give notice to the owners of such dogs, or if such owners cannot be located, to find new owners for the dogs."

"The dog warden shall keep a permanent bound record of the date on which each dog is impounded, and if at the end of the 15-day period such dogs remain unclaimed by their owners or by prospective owners, such dogs are to be destroyed in a humane manner, under the direct supervision of the county dog warden.
