

Kiwanis Club Plans Big Charter Night Program

Joseph T. Chiot, Kiwanis Governor of the Carolinas District, will present the charter to the Kiwanis Club of Waynesville and deliver the main address of the special Charter Night Program, which is to be held December 11 at 7 p. m. in the Hazelwood School Cafeteria.

In addition to Mr. Chiot, guests will be present from all Kiwanis Clubs in this area, along with their wives. The occasion is one of the few important enough to justify the presence of wives, according to Hooper Alexander, chairman of the special charter night committee. "This is ladies night too," he explained.

"It is always a pleasure to welcome into the international organization a new club such as this one promises to be," said Mr. Chiot in a telephone conversation recently. He added, "I am looking forward to being in Waynesville again; it is a friendly town full of friendly people."

The invocation at the program will be given by the Rev. James H. Coleman of the local club. Group singing will be led by Seth Parkinson, a charter member of the Asheville Club. E. L. Walker, Lt. Governor of the 1st Division, will be toastmaster.

President of the Waynesville Kiwanis, Jimmy Childress, will accept the charter as well as the gifts which will be presented by Fenton T. Erwin, president of the Asheville group, Erwin, however, will be on the receiving end of a streamer which will be given his club in tribute to their work in sponsoring the Waynesville group. The District Governor will present the streamer.

The local club was organized recently and already has a membership counted in the forties. It has gone on record as favoring the school bond program, and it has joined with other civic groups in organizing the Mountaineer Little League for baseball-minded boys. Other plans are being made in keeping with the expressed determination of its members to make the Waynesville Kiwanis Club something more than a social group.

P. Ledbetter, vice president; and Jack Justice of Canton have been invited to the regular dinner meeting of the Club Tuesday night.

Justice will be the principal speaker, telling Kiwanians about the Little League at Canton and giving details as to its organization. The secretary and treasurer of the Mountaineer Little League, Ben Messer, was not given an invitation to the dinner, inasmuch as he is already a member of the Kiwanis.

Doctor Tells Dewese To Take It Easy

X-rays taken in Asheville Saturday afternoon revealed no broken bones in the muscular frame of J. C. Dewese who, as a result of two bowls in one week was reported in considerable pain.

The doctor warned J. C. that he must "take it easy for quite some time."

Dewese was hurt in the Paper Bowl game against Newberry; a pinched nerve was held responsible. The Optimist Bowl, occurring as it did the following Friday resulted in new strain being placed on the still exposed nerve," said Dr. Cherry, "but he will have to take it easy. That means no basketball and no strenuous exercise."

Dewese will return to Asheville for another checkup Wednesday.

MORE ABOUT Schools

"The same procedure will apply to the schools, because our state law sets out that any project costing $1000 or more must be awarded on a bid basis, after being duly advertised. All such bids must be opened in public, because it is illegal for such a session to be held behind closed doors.

"Our officials have ascertained the paramount needs at each school. They have set up an amount for each project. Now just as soon as the bonds are approved, it will be necessary to make blueprints, and write specifications covering each project. These blueprints must first be approved by our county officials, together with the special advisory committee. Then the plans must go to Raleigh where engineers and experts on school buildings go over every little detail. No school building can be built in this state without getting the State Board's OK to the plans. When the final plans are approved, then the boards will advertise that they are ready to receive bids. Contractors will get a set of the plans and specifications, and on the day specified, turn in their sealed bid to the board. The sealed envelope is then opened in public, and the bid read.

"I cannot feel there is any better way to handle such projects in order to get the most for our money. "As construction begins, the full time supervisor which will be named after the election, will be responsible for seeing that only those materials as called for in the specifications are put into the buildings. I have discussed this with a number of engineers, who are my friends, and they all agree that such a procedure is sound, practical, and good business.

"It is my sincere belief that Haywood citizens will get a full dollar's worth for every dollar spent under such a system. It is to this end that I am doing all I can to get out a record vote on December 15th favoring the expansion of our schools."

'Phillumenists'

In plain English, the word means book match collector and, according to a leading dictionary publisher, is a "working word" for possible use in the next edition as a new American term. The United States today boasts over 1,000,000 "phillumenists."

MORE ABOUT Europe

European states, if this could be accomplished, the United Nations could really go to work and nobody in the world would dare to be an aggressor under such conditions. So far a good start has been made and I can assure you that all of the high U. S. officials in Europe are trying very hard to work towards the accomplishment of this project.

Mr. Weill said that "many of us still do not realize the importance of the European Recovery program, and believe we are wasting money and paying higher taxes on account of these transfers. A large percentage of our industries are beneficiaries under Recovery, since two-thirds of the United States exports to Western Europe are financed by the Marshall plan funds and for certain industries are regions of the United States it has meant the difference between good and poor prices, profits and loss, employment and unemployment.

"What we need is peace, and the discontinuance of armament production, once we are strong enough to talk on equal terms with our enemies. It is hard to believe that the American people could be sold on the idea that their country could be invaded and conquered by any nation in the world, when we control not only the seas, but the air, and possess also the bulk of the world's scientists and the "know-how" for the mass production of machinery."

Two new members were taken into the club, Joe Massie and James Hall. They were introduced by M. H. Bowles.

Man's Skull Fractured In Road Scuffle

A fight in the road at Hemphill Saturday morning put Howard Phillips in Mission Hospital at Asheville with multiple fractures of the skull, and lodged his assailant, Paul Shelton, in the county jail, where he is being held without bond.

Shelton was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Carl Setzer and charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill. Deputy Setzer reported that Shelton struck Phillips with a piece of truck spring during an argument over a debt.

Shelton will be held without bond until word is received from the hospital on Phillips' condition.

In two Waynesville mayor's court cases last weekend one defendant was found guilty on a theft charge and sentenced to 32 days on the road. Another theft suspect was found guilty.

Glenn Thompson, colored, was sentenced after being found guilty of stealing a magazine from the Main St. store operated by Roy Moseman, who is blind.

David Cook of Jonathan Creek was found guilty of a charge of stealing a pocketbook, watch and cigarette lighter from Reuben Kirkpatrick of Cove Creek.

Judgment was deferred on the defendant, but will be pronounced today.

Police arrested 10 men for drunkenness during the weekend, and reported one automobile accident Saturday morning.

Patrolman Jerry Rogers said that a truck driven by Thomas J. Moody and a cab driven by Charles M. Mackey collided at the intersection of Main and Miller Sts. at 11:20 a. m. Saturday. Patrolman Rogers said the accident occurred when Moody attempted to pull into a parking place as the cab started to make a right turn off Main onto Miller St.

Cpl. Pritchard Smith of the state highway patrol reported that two drivers were charged with drunk driving, one with reckless driving, six with speeding, and 15 with "miscellaneous" violations on Saturday. On Sunday, two drivers were arrested for speeding, and others were cited on various causes.
