Bishop Purcell To Speak At Lake Junaluska

The speaker at 8 p.m. will be Dr. John K. Benton, dean of the Vanderbilt University School of Religion, Nashville, Tenn. The services will mark the annual "Junaluska Sunday". Sunday will initiate a week-long series of platform speakers at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. in connection with a Conference of Christian Education, sponsored by the Methodist General Board of Education. Speakers Monday in the auditorium will be Dr. J. Emerson Ford, who will discuss "The Bible and Church School Literature" at the morning hour, and Dr. John Q. Schisler who will speak that night on "Christian Education in the Future". Both men are members of the education board at Nashville. Dr. Schisler is executive secretary of board. The school opened Monday and will continue through August 15.

Alaska Alaska is big. Its area of 580,000 square miles makes it twice as large as Texas, almost as large as all the states east of the Mississippi River and—to show how far statisticians will go in these matters—477 times as large as Rhode Island.

Nubby Woolens Nubby textured wools are appearing on the fashion scene, especially in the tight hugging toppers. Sleeves are very interesting with their deep armholes, and so are the collars which are gently rounded and curved.

Modern Work Modern factory work in general is more varied and meaningful, and less arduous, than the laborer's work of a hundred years ago, but the complexity of modern production does require special effort by management to explain the meaning of the job.
