An Excellent Project

The Kiwanis Club has set a standard here for local entertainment which other civic clubs in money-making endeavors might well follow.

The Club sponsored the concert by David Rubinoff, the world-famous violinist. In so doing, the organization took a chance of bringing such a program at a financial loss. Fortunately, they came out in the black side of the ledger, and at the same time, brought a type program to Waynesville that is often found in the larger cities.

The appearance of Rubinoff here is indicative of the growing appreciation of better music in the community. And that in itself is of noteworthy significance.

Our thanks go to the Kiwanis Club for setting such a high standard of entertainment for a community that is fast growing to appreciate such things. We trust this will be only the first of many more to follow.

Unanimous Approval For Whiteway

We do not recall a project which has received such unanimous acclaim as the whiteway for Main Street.

The town officials can well be proud, as well as assured, that their decision to make a whiteway on Main Street is meeting with unanimous approval, and well it should.

The removal of all poles and wires on the Main Street, and erection of modern steel poles with brilliant lights will give the town a new and enlarged appearance.

It is hard to even visualize the drastic changes the whiteway will make in the appearance of Main Street. The change will also give a "citified" look, and we believe make for a better shopping district.

We join in with all the others in expressing jubilation over the action of the town officials in setting out to get the whiteway constructed at once. We feel it will be an investment from which the town will realize many dividends for a long, long time.

Well-Founded Jubilation

Citizens in the lower end of the county are rightfully elated over the construction of the Betsy Gap road, and the approaching letting of the contract for the Pigeon River Road.

And well they might be elated over both projects, because each road will mean a lot to that end of our county, as well as the entire section.

Both projects have long been on the top lists of needed improvements for a long time. And now that work is actually started on one, and the other nearing contract stage, we can well share the elation of the folk in Fines Creek and neighboring areas.

Rambling Round

Bits Of Human Interest News

By Frances Gilbert Frazier

A young lady came into the shoe department, took a look at the shoes and asked: "What have you in lady's sandals?" The smart saleswoman, deciding to be cute, replied with a laugh: "Lady's feet are getting smaller every day, so you had better buy quickly, the young lady said over her shoulder as she walked away. "Yes, and you also have the loss of a sale."

He who sings his own praises rarely hears them.

Little Mary was deeply interested in the dial telephone recently installed, and could hardly wait to try them out. Some inquiries of the man putting in the instrument, "The holes made large enough for your thumb?" she asked, never put your thumb in to dial," he told her. Little Mary the situation a minute, then continued: "Well, suppose five numbers and you can only put four fingers in those holes."

"We never miss the water . . ." if there is a soft spot nearby.

Recently we had the pleasure of listening to some music made by world famous pianists and organists. The music lingered with us long after the records were put away. And then we began to wonder why every one reacts the same way to music. The tastes of listeners vary so much that it would be utterly impossible to impose a certain kind of music played on all occasions. There are those who like the "hot" or jazz sort; others listen enraptured to so-called "classical" music; then there's the poetic music of ballads, and so on. And who would be the dictators as to the type we would like to endure or enjoy? So, perhaps it's better after all that we choose our own selection.

No higher compliment: "She planted forget-me-nots ever she walked."

Letters To Editor

THANKS FOR BUYING SEALS

Editor, The Mountaineer—The thanks of the Tuberculosis Committee of Waynesville, Hazelwood, and indeed of the entire community are due to all those who so generously gave their support to the fight against tuberculosis by buying and using Christmas seals.

Proceeds from the Seal Sale reached $1,114.59. These funds will be used to support the committee's work of TB prevention and control. While the goal of $1,400 was not reached, every purchase, large or small, was an important element in the campaign, bringing us to our real goal—the ultimate defeat of tuberculosis. Special gratitude is due Mrs. R. H. Winchester, Chairman.

Hugh Sloan and her typing classes, and other teachers who gave of their energy to the Seal Sale. Waynesville Mountaineer and the local theatres, generous aid in public campaign, and the public stores, business firms, and churches who cooperated with the committee throughout the Seal Sale.

The term "tory" originated from a Papist outlawed land, later became the name of one of the most respected political parties of the country. In recent years has become a reproach.

MARCH OF EVENTS

Anti-Inflation Shift To Money Restrictions

Sharp Expenditure Seen Best Inflation

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—The Eisenhower administration's effort will shift the emphasis from price and wage controls on the money supply. However, experts say this will be a cure-all, that sharp reduction in government spending is way to beat inflation.

As secretary of the treasury, George M. Humphrey is stepping the tide of "cheap" money by reversing the administration policy of issuing short-term securities to help pay off the national debt.

Humphrey will order long-term certificates will keep the government out of the money market for longer periods of time.

Short-term securities have added to the supply this way: Whenever they mature, the government must refund the banks that bought them. Though interest is not great, the frequent refunds expand credit and the dollar supply.

Long-term securities avoid this drawback by creating another, for their interest rates are higher than the short-term issues. This means a longer run, that they are more expensive to the government and the taxpayers.

GERMAN GOLD—One significant facet of West Germany's remarkable economic recovery has been the gold imports from the United States. The total for 1952 was more than $4 million, entirely for industrial and related uses. The figure was high for 1952 as for 1951, and exceeded that of any other country.

Some of the gold was transhipped to other European countries, a major part has gone into West Germany's jewelry and glassware industries. West Germany is selling large quantities of glassware, chinaware and other articles to the United States and other dollar area countries.

Although, like other European countries, she has a trade with the dollar area, her total foreign trade for 1952 shows a million surplus, the first surplus since the war. West Germany's for the year are valued at $3 billion 800 million, imports at $2.8 billion.

TRAFFIC AND TAXES—The American Automobile Association predicts that motorists in 1953 will pay more taxes and get fewer programs for better highways and more parking facilities.

Ralph Thomas of Detroit, AAA president, says highway taxes are now running at the highest rate in history, and that now beginning to make a real dent in the huge backlog of highway building.

Thomas maintains that the major traffic problem is not in the rural, and says that many cities are now taking "aggressive" intelligent steps toward improving their parking situations.

The AAA chief predicts that special motor vehicle tax, increase, but adds that motorists should derive some comfort from the fact that most new taxes will be spent for meeting traffic and not for non-highway purposes.

Thomas notes that in 1952 Congress set aside a portion of the federal aid highway fund for the 40,000-mile interstate system, automobiles traveled nearly 400 billion vehicle miles in the United States and motor fuel production reached a record 49 billion 854 million gallons.

TIDELANDS OIL—A bill giving the states title to oil-merged lands is expected to clear the 83rd Congress early in the session, and to be signed into law by President Eisenhower.

President Truman vetoed the 1952 bill, but Mr. Eisenhower made it plain in his campaign speeches, particularly in Texas and Louisiana, that he favors legislation of the type his predecessor rejected.

Rep. Edwin E. Willis (D), Louisiana, insists that because of the year's hearings there is no need this year for lengthy action, and has promised to press for quick enactment of a

Review Of Rollman's World Construction

DIGEST OF THE FORTHCOMING BOOK "MY PLAN FOR WORLD CONSTRUCTION" BY HEINZ W. ROLLMAN, FOUNDER OF "WORLD CONSTRUCTION". ("World Construction" is a popular movement designed to give impetus to the formation of a constructive program by our government in order to establish world peace thru raising the standard of living all over the world.)

SUMMARY OF PREVIOUS CHAPTERS

The early portion of the book explained the causes of wars in the past. These causes are misery and want on the part of 95% of the world's population. Communism despite its rotten philosophy is able to take advantage of this misery. It is not difficult to determine the needs of the underprivileged people throughout the world in order to raise their standard of living to the level we have achieved.

We have been shown an example of what can be done, and how it should be done, in a typically underdeveloped country, India.

It has been shown how we can create small industries and a general atmosphere of freedom and initiative in other parts of the world.

The opening portion of Chapter VIII explained why we cannot combat Communism with propaganda alone. A recommendation was made as to the type of propaganda that can be most effective behind "The Iron Curtain".

Some may ask: "Why all this concern with the material aspect of life. Isn't peace among men a spiritual thing? Wouldn't an intensified spread of the Gospel of Christ lead the world to peace?" I put this question squarely up to you the reader.

Can spreading the Gospel of Christianity to all corners of the globe eventually achieve the peace we desire? Can the spread of any single religion create a peaceful world?

Let us look at what history has to say. In primitive days, each little group that had its own form of religious worship (or superstition) resorted to war, regardless of their beliefs. Two thousand years ago, Christ preached the brotherhood of man, love and peace. The nations that eventually became "Christian" still continued to slaughter each other. In fact, they even fought each other over differences of interpretation over what Christ or His disciples had said. Good, God-fearing men fought each other when the armadas of Spain and England clashed. Many a cross was carried into battle in the Napoleonic wars. During the last war there were chaplains, of all faiths on both sides conducting services for the men who were about to go into battle. Men who would not think of littering their own churches with as much as a scrap of paper dropped bombs on churches in other lands . . . churches erected to the same God they themselves worshipped. Military expediency? Certainly. But think about that for a while. When it comes to a choice of military expediency versus the sanctity of human life and the precepts of peace, love and the brotherhood of man, and the admonition against killing one's fellow man, do nations that consider themselves truly Christian refrain from war?

There are many who believe that no real peace can be achieved until the whole world recognized the one true God and Savior. Granted that such common recognition will establish a firmer basis for world peace. But how many more wars would have to be fought to establish the one universal religion? Which Son of God shall be accepted? Christ? There are 80 million Moslems who would rather die than change their belief that Mohammed revealed the true word of the Almighty. There are several million Buddhists who would be ready to deny their right to their equally sincere belief that Buddha was the Son of God. The same holds true of the faithful followers of other religions. Actually

Voice of the People

What is your favorite radio program?

Mrs. George Boring—Well I like "Take a Number" best, but also enjoying listening to "Walk a Mile" and "Twenty Questions".

Paul Mull—I like "Queen for a Day". Very seldom miss it.

Leo Leslie—"Uncle Jim".

Alma Howell—I like them all. No particular favorite.

Mrs. Reginald Lovell—We like to listen to the classical music programs over WMIT each day, and also to some evening programs—"What's My Line?", "Lux Radio Theatre," and the "Phillip Morris Playhouse."

Mrs. Charles Miller—"New York Philharmonic Symphony" on Sunday afternoons is my favorite.

Christianity is accepted by only a minority of the people in this world. Out of 2.3 billion people, only 700 million are Christians.

Suppose all these other 1.6 billion people were, for argument's sake, to be ready to renounce their own religious beliefs and accept Christ. Which denomination of Christianity should be adopted? For after all, if we are to expect them to forego their own different concepts of the revelation of the true word of God, the least the Christian world could do is forego its own difference. Are all of you who are Catholics ready to become Baptists? Or are all of you Methodists ready to convert to
