SCALLOPED POTATOES WITH PORK CHOPS

- 1 quart potatoes, pared and sliced thin
- 1 onion, sliced thin
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 cups milk (approximately)
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons flour
- Pork Chops—as many as will fit on top of dish.

Place half of the potatoes in a greased baking dish. Sprinkle with half of salt, pepper, flour (mixture). Place slices of onion over this and bits of butter. Repeat the process. Add sufficient milk so that it can just be seen beneath the top slices. Place salted pork chops around top of dish. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes. Remove cover and continue baking about 30 minutes or until tender and browned.

Blue Jeans As They Like 'Em

WRANGLER JEANS... Hep school girls insist on tight fit, slim legs, copper rivets.

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Fashion Editor It's a wise mother who takes her school-belle daughter along when she goes to shop for the perennial blue jeans, required equipment for learning the three R's. Today's young fry have definite ideas about the right styling in jeans, and Mom might make the grievous error of getting a pair without the proper taper, or with the wrong kind of rivets.

Both high school and college girls agree this year to look right, jeans should have a fly front, plenty of copper rivets, front and back pockets and—most important—they must fit tightly through the waist and hips and have slim, tapered, western-type legs. Eight-ounce blue denim is a must for fabric.
