

Library Notes

Margaret Johnston
County Librarian

FILMS—OCTOBER 5-30

Another group of films has just been received to be used this month. Last year 90 adult groups took advantage of this opportunity to use films as a part of their programs with a total audience of 22,531. Please note this is an adult program—there has been some confusion among our borrowers. Only a very few are suitable for all ages.

Film list for the next 3 months are available at the Library. Come by and get one so you can plan ahead.

1. China: Oriental City—20 minutes, sound. We study the habits and customs of oriental urban life in this picture. Life of people living on sampans of this river port and life in a Cantonese merchant's home are vividly presented. We watch Chinese artisans making handicrafts from ivory and silver. Produce arriving in Canton by boat and cart show the dependence of the city upon the surrounding countryside.

2. Community Governments: How They Function—13 minutes, sound, b&w. The purpose of this film is to emphasize the need for participating citizenry if good community government is to function.

3. Marine Life—11 minutes, sound, color. A vivid portrayal of some of the colorful forms of animal life found under the sea. Shows typical activities of octopuses, sea urchins, hermit crabs, reef fish, sea robins, moon fish, sergeant major, and killers of the sea. Tiger sharks, barracuda, sea fans and sea anemones all are seen in their natural surroundings.

4. Mediterranean Africa—12 minutes, sound, color. A geographical and historical survey of the narrow and limited fertile area of Africa along the Mediterranean coast.

5. Time-Lapse Photography—10 minutes, sound, color. The complete story of time-lapse photography and the elaborate equipment necessary for this careful operation. The film shows before your eyes in clear detail, the actual growth of a living cell as it divides, changes patterns and enlarges constantly; an iris requiring days to progress from bud to bloom can be seen on film in a few seconds.

6. To Hear Your Banjo Play—20 minutes, sound, b&w. The origin of the banjo, the development of southern folk music, and its influence upon the lives of millions of Americans. Examples of music from various regions and from people of various occupations are used throughout. Square dancing shown as an outgrowth of this type of music.

Haywood Man Celebrates Tour Of Army Duty

A Haywood county infantry sergeant, recently celebrated four years of joint service with four other platoon sergeants of the 12th Infantry Regiment, Fourth Division, now stationed in Germany.

He is Master Sgt. Mark A. Edwards, son of Cash Edwards of Route 3, Waynesville. Sgt. Edwards, a former Waynesville High student, has had a total of 12 years in service and has been sent

REPENTANT BRIDGE JUMPER SAVED

ELLSWORTH BANTE, 18, who jumped from a Pittsburgh bridge intending to "end it all" and then changed his mind, is helped from the Monongahela River by police. Bante said he made the leap because his girl friend left him and he had failed in his ambition to become a singer. When he hit the water, he decided he wanted to live. He swam to a pier and held on until rescuers lowered a rope. (International)

Quotes And Unquotes . . .

Absolute freedom of the press to discuss public questions is a foundation stone of American liberty.—Herbert Hoover.

The newspaper press is the people's university.—J. Parton.

Four hostile newspapers are more to be feared than a thousand bayonets.—Napoleon.

Newspapers are the world's cyclopaedia of life; telling us everything from every quarter of the globe. They are a universal whispering gallery for mankind, only their whispers are sometimes thunder.—Tryon Edwards.

In these times we fight for ideas and newspapers are our fortresses.—Heine.

Your Newspaper

What is your newspaper today? . . . What does it mean to you? . . . It is the messenger of truth . . . In all the news that's new . . . It carries you from coast to coast . . . And to the farthest shore . . . It gathers all the world's events . . . And brings them to your door . . . With more details and background and . . . More colorful narration . . . Than any other means on earth . . . For quick communication . . . And it has editorials . . . And many comic strips . . . The sports reviews, some kitchen news . . . And health and beauty tips . . . Then add to these the many ads . . . Display and classified . . . Your local newspaper is bound . . . To be your joy and pride.—James J. Metcalfe.

to Europe on three different occasions. He is a platoon sergeant, in charge of five tanks and 12 men in the regimental tank company. He lives at Gelnhausen, Germany, with his wife, the former Nellie Foist, of Columbia, S. C.

Avoid Disease By Having Your Septic Tank Inspected

The importance of proper installation of residential septic tanks was emphasized today by Health Department Inspector Jack Arrington, who warned that faulty systems can cause serious diseases.

Sewer lines often carry germs of typhoid and paratyphoid, dysentery, cholera, and hookworm, Mr. Arrington added.

To guard the public against the outbreak of any of these diseases, Haywood County has a law on its books which forbids construction or installation of septic tanks without inspection and approval from the Health Department. This permission is also required to pump out or clean a septic tank, the health officer said.

Prohibited in this county are "still" septic tanks of metal construction, and cesspools.

Most homeowners and contractors have complied with the law in having their septic systems approved, but a few individuals have attempted to avoid inspection and construct substandard units, Mr. Arrington asserted.

Among provisions governing installation of septic tanks are those which provide that tanks must be:

At least 50 feet from any private water supply, 25 feet from any stream, 20 feet from any dwelling, 20 feet from any basement, 10 feet from any property line, and 10 feet from any water line.

Violations of these regulations are punishable by fines not to exceed $50 and imprisonment not to exceed 30 days.

The St. Louis Cardinals gave recent pay raises to Rip Repulski, Ray Jablonski, Harvey Haddix and Ferrell Anderson.

Waynesville Area No Longer Has Labor Surplus

The employment situation has improved enough in the Waynesville labor market area to be reclassified in the most recent bi-monthly report of the Bureau of Employment Security of the Department of Labor, according to George A. Shuford.

The Waynesville "labor market area" includes all of Haywood and Jackson counties in the compiling of Department of Labor statistics and has been classified for some time in what is called Group plus. This labor surplus has been reduced considerably.

These classifications are not only on the current level of employment but also on the employment outlook, as represented to the Labor Department's agency by the employers in the area over the forthcoming two-four-month periods.

Kicking specialist Pepper led Georgia Tech's football team to a 6-0 record last season with 60 points. He kicked 39 extra points, 10 field goals and scored a touchdown.

THE TRUTH comes home.. to the Family

Your newspaper brings you the facts that safeguard your freedom of choice

As an American, you are free to think, choose and act for yourself. But, unless you also had the right to know the truth, these precious freedoms would immediately become meaningless and soon disappear. The right to know is fundamental to democracy. It is guaranteed to you by the First Article of the Bill of Rights, which established a free press. It is predicated upon the faith of the founders in the wisdom of the people . . . provided they have the facts. To bring the truth right into your family circle is the purpose of your newspaper. It tells you what is going on across the world . . . and across the street! Without fear or favor, it gives you authentic facts which you must have if you are to think, choose and act in the best interests of your family, your community, your country. Freedom of the press is primarily the freedom of all the people to know all the facts. It is the basic freedom upon which all other freedoms depend . . . without which, none could long endure.

In its advertising as well as its news columns, your newspaper helps you to exercise your American freedom of choice wisely and well. Every advertisement it prints is a bid for your favor . . . presents the facts you need in order to decide what to buy and from whom . . . all with a view to making every dollar you spend contribute the greatest measure of satisfaction to your family and yourself.

Eight Reasons For Advertising In Newspapers

1. Newspaper reading is a universal daily habit; newspaper advertising therefore reaches virtually all who buy.

2. Newspaper advertising is the life-blood of local trade because it touches all consumer sources in every opportunity for complete consumer appeal in any locality.

3. Newspaper advertising cuts selling costs because it entails no waste in locality of circulation. Manufacturers use it to cover markets where it is profitable to do business.

4. Newspaper advertising assures quick, thorough and commercial dealer distribution and dealer good will, because retailers are willing to sell products advertised direct to their own customers.

5. Newspaper advertising enables manufacturers to tell where their products may be bought.

6. Newspaper advertising can be started or stopped overnight, can be prepared between days to meet sudden developments and to obtain immediate results.

7. Newspaper advertising enables manufacturers to check advertising results and costs in every market which they enter.

8. Newspaper advertising costs less than any other kind.

Moral For Advertisers

A lion met a tiger
As they drank beside a pool,
Said the tiger, "Tell me why
You're roaring like a fool."
"That's not foolish," said the lion,
"With a twinkle in his eyes,
They call me king of all the beasts
Because I advertise."
A rabbit heard them talking,
And ran home like a streak,
He thought he'd try the lion's plan.
But his roar was just a squeak.
A fox came to investigate—
Had luncheon in the woods,
Moral: When you advertise, my friends,
Be sure you've got the goods.

Bookmobile Schedule

Tuesday, October 6
CLYDE
Clyde School . . . . . 9:30-10:45
M. W. Dotson . . . . . 11:00-11:15
Sam Jackson . . . . . 11:30-11:45
Frank Stamey . . . . . 12:00-12:30
Mrs. Flora Haynes . . . . . 12:40-12:55
Jack Belcher . . . . . 1:05- 1:20
Clyde Town Hall . . . . . 1:30- 2:30
Mrs. Virginia Sanford . . . . . 2:45- 3:00

Friday, October 9
ALLENS CREEK - BALSAM RD. - HYATT CREEK
Allens Creek School . . . . . 9:15-10:00
E. K. Chambers . . . . . 10:10-10:25
Paul Browning . . . . . 10:30-10:45
Kay Allen . . . . . 11:00-11:15
Harry Middleton . . . . . 11:25-11:45
Thelma Arrington . . . . . 12:00-12:15
Guy Queen Store . . . . . 12:30-12:45
Saunook School . . . . . 12:50- 1:30
Barber Orchards . . . . . 1:40- 1:55
Allen Hyatt . . . . . 2:10- 2:30

Revival Under Way At Olivet Baptist Church

A revival at the Olivet Baptist Church led by the Rev. Clifford Hornbuckle, missionary to the Cherokee Indians, is continuing through this week. It began Sunday at 7:30 p.m. and services will be held at that time all this week. Mr. Hornbuckle is pastor of Yellow Hill Baptist Church on the Cherokee Reservation, and his Indian choir is furnishing special music for the revival at Olivet.

THE MOUNTAINEER

PARENT PROBLEMS

Cultivating Good Listening In Our Children and Ourselves

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

PROBABLY among the most likable and forceful persons you know are those who look into your eyes when they speak or listen to you.

When you and I don't squarely face the person we presumably are listening to, we may dislike this person or what he says or be uninterested in it. We may fear the force of his eyes, his demeanor or whole personality.

Uncomplementary Manner

Whatever the cause for it, we don't suggest in our manner that we consider the person speaking to be important or worth giving wholehearted attention. To this extent, he doesn't find us attractive or likable. But when we listen with forceful animation, we suggest that we consider him important, causing him to like us.

Our failure to face the person to whom we are talking makes what we say less forceful, and the listener less impressed by it and by us. In contrast, when we use our eyes with good effect as we speak to a person, we render ourselves and what we say more attractive, and the person listening to us more responsive, as a rule. Of course, good listening and speaking with the eyes can become a mere matter of habit.

I'm not talking of staring at a person while speaking to him or listening to him. Staring can be most annoying and usually does not reveal effective attention to what one is hearing or saying. Rather, it betrays shifting of attention to some idea or trait away from the matter at hand.

In the growing child, it is desirable to cultivate effective listening and speaking. We can do this by our own example as we converse with persons in his presence and with him. We should help him feel comfortable while conversing with us or with others. We don't achieve this by giving him any formal lessons. We do it, often unconsciously, during the thousands of informal moments in his presence. We should listen attentively and courteously, in a relaxed attitude. And as he himself succeeds in listening and speaking attractively, let's often compliment him. Perhaps we can find the best example of good use of the eyes while conversing, in the little child, two or three, when he seems entirely at ease. It is delightful to see and hear a child this age speak in his very forceful way. (My bulletins "Celebrate Your Child's Successes" and "The Very Shy Child" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)