

'Miracle' Linings Do The Trick In All-Age All-Weather Coats

GLAMOR BRIGADE . . . The three high-style coats pictured above are all lined with Milium, metal-insulated fabric giving warmth without bulk. They are (l. to r.): gold lame trench coat, for after-five wear; new cardigan coat in zybeline with welt seam detail; fitted coat in pepper and salt tweed, with new high stovepipe collar, designed for juniors.

FOR THE YOUNGER SET . . . At left is a smooth pyramid coat in 'cobblestone tweed with velvet trim, for the 7 to 14 crowd; at right, sub-teen choice in a fitted, double-breasted coat of cashmere and wool fleece, with coachman collar. Both are Milium lined.

No Parking Problem

LAMAR, S. C. (AP) — Small private planes landing here have no trouble parking downtown — the airport strip runs right into the main street. When the South Carolina Breakfast Club, an association of private plane enthusiasts, meets here, the planes taxi down the main street and angle park at the curb near the restaurant where club members eat.

Paying Firemen

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — The firemen of suburban Midway are not only volunteers — they have to pay admission to get to some fires. Their district is cut in two by Grand Marais State Park. The state recently began collecting a 10-cent fee from everyone entering the park, including firemen. That's why the Midway firemen began collecting a fund to make dimes a part of their standard fire-fighting equipment.

Parking Dispute

FAIRFIELD, Iowa (AP) — Car dealers in this Iowa town are mad. The City Council recently passed an ordinance which provides that no motor vehicles offered for sale or trade can be parked on the streets or any place between property and car lines. The dealers are trying to get the ordinance repealed. They claim it will force their businesses out of the city.

her neighbors to bring over things they no longer yearned to possess. By mid-afternoon all these had been grabbed up, and the customers still clamored. "I guess I was thinking of the cheese I had stored in the refrigerator when I finally fell into bed," India said. "Everybody knows I love it, and a friend had sent me some especially fine imported cheeses, I had visions of people taking it up and asking 'How much?'" Though she has been in politics since 1944 and plans to stay in, Mrs. Edwards said "I'm also a happily married woman who really thinks her husband is smarter than she is. He has been a very patient, understanding husband. I'm old-fashioned enough to want to follow him." Herbert Edwards, whom India married in 1942, is a former assistant administrator of the International Information Bureau.

U. N. AND RED DELEGATES PLAN KOREAN PEACE TALKS

UNITED NATIONS and Communist negotiators are shown as they met in Panmunjom to arrange for the Korean peace conference. A clash immediately developed as Soviet delegates demanded that neutral nations be invited to the top-level talks. Arthur Dean (second from right), special U. S. State Department envoy, insisted that the preliminary talks concern only the time and place for the sessions. Some of his seven-man mission are shown with Dean. Red representatives, including Ki Sok Bok, of North Korea, and Red China's Hu Ang Wha, are at left. Both sides submitted proposed agendas. (International Radiophoto)

Believe In Signs?

HERINGTON, Kan. (AP)—Two Abilene fishermen, bound for a favorite stream, ignored a "road closed" sign and kept on going. Two miles farther down the road they ran into a washed-out bridge. On the way back they saw the other side of the "road closed" sign. It read: "So there, smartie, it was closed, wasn't it."

Duke University Starts Extended Scholarship Program Over The Nation

Duke University has just launched an expanded scholarship program for top-ranking high school students in the South and over the Nation, it was announced today. A total of 20 awards, each worth $1000 per year, are now available on a competitive basis. Each is worth $4000 for four years' study at Duke provided the winner maintains high grades. All of the scholarships are for the academic year beginning in September, 1954. However, competitions will begin this Fall in some states and after the first of the year in others. Students interested are urged to apply as early as possible. "The emphasis in this program," the University scholarship committee stated, "will continue to be on bringing to the University the leading young students of the South." Here are the details of the new program: 1. The University's existing 12 prizes (Angier B. Duke Regional and Duke University Regional awards) have been increased to 20 in number and increased in value from $750 to $1000 each per year. 2. This means that North Carolina's nine Angier B. Duke Prizes (six for men and three for women) now will be worth $1000 each per year. 3. Two new Angier B. Duke Prizes for men will be created in South Carolina. 4. Three new national awards for women will be established. They are designed primarily for women outside North Carolina. 5. Four new Duke University

Regional Scholarships will be established in Florida, Tennessee, Georgia and West Virginia. Two regional scholarships now existing in two regions in Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia will be increased in value from $750 to $1000. Eligibility for all 20 awards remains the same as in the past: All applicants must be top-quarter students in their high school or preparatory school classes. Awards are made on the basis of merit, emphasizing intellectual ability, leadership and well-rounded character. Winners will be chosen by regional, state or University committees on the basis of interviews, tests and the students' records.

Long-Lost Pay Check

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—It may take an act of the State Legislature for Kenneth O. Newhouse to cash his pay check. Back in 1950 he earned $233.40 from Los Angeles County and then lost his check. Newhouse found it a few months ago, but was informed by the County Board of Supervisors that the law requires the check be cashed within two years. Only the State Legislature can change the law.

Carnival Set Friday

A Halloween Carnival will be held at East Waynesville School at 7:00 p.m. Friday, under sponsorship of the school's PTA. Port Blair, one of southern Asia's finest harbors, is the capital of the Andaman islands.
