Baby Caps New Fad

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Fashion Editor
Big girls are stepping out in baby caps this winter, having borrowed a new fashion from the nursery set.

The idea started in Paris, progressed to New York, and now looks all set to sweep the country.

The flattering little caps are crocheted or knit of a variety of yarns, are most popular in white or pastel angora, may be dressed up for date wear with pearls or jewel trim.

BEAUTIFUL BABY . . . She wears a white knit cap with French knot trim and drawstring to adjust size and tie under the chin.

PRAM STYLE . . . Her baby cap is of soft white angora dressed up for date time, with a trim of pearls and gold thread for sparkle.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Boutwell left this week for Biloxi, Miss., where they will spend a month visiting relatives of the latter.

Square Dance Group Formed

Organization of a square dance group by young adults in the community is underway, according to Mrs. Clarence Dunn, secretary-treasurer of the dancers.

Officers were elected at a meeting held at Camp Hope last month. They are, in addition to Mrs. Dunn, Neal Cable, chairman; Clifford Jones, vice chairman; and Miss Rosalee McClure, assistant secretary-treasurer. The refreshment committee is composed of Miss Jewel Haynes, J. C. Glance, and Howard Queen, and the contact committee includes Mrs. Clifford Jones and Mrs. G. C. Haynie.

Persons interested in joining the organization and those who wish to learn square dancing are asked to call GL 6-4100 in Waynesville or 6195 in Canton after 6 p.m.
