handicapped persons need is a chance to make a living. He stressed the need for establishing a gift shop and suggested that it be operated and controlled by the people who produce articles for sale in it.

Other participants in the discussion at the meeting included Grady Galloway, state rehabilitation counselor; Miss DeBrayda Fisher, head of the Employment Security Commission office here; Miss Mary Cornwell, county home demonstration agent; Lawrence Leatherwood, superintendent of schools; Jerry Rogers, school attendance officer; and Al Whitehead, employment interviewer.

Another meeting to lay further plans for employing the handicapped was set for Wednesday, November 18. Those in attendance last night were urged to return and bring other interested persons.

In the meantime, all handicapped persons who seek jobs were asked to register at the Waynesville employment office if they have not done so.

A variety of items produced by the handicapped were brought to the meeting last night. They will be featured later in a window display in a Waynesville retail store.

owners who refuse to have their animals vaccinated.

He is now working in the Pigeon area where a rabid dog was killed about two weeks ago. He will later go to the Allens Creek, Camp Branch, and Saunook sections where rabid dogs were killed earlier this fall.

The county-wide quarantine was first imposed in early September when several people were bitten by a rabid dog in the Allens Creek section. It will continue in effect until lifted by the county health department.

Persons who wish to get in touch with the dog warden have been asked to call the health department from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, or at his residence at other times, telephone GL 6-3176.

Salad is an All-Weather Dish

By ALICE DENHOFF
WHATEVER the season, it's salad bowl time for fine food fanciers.

Good for Fall days is one hearty salad bowl containing avocado, hard-cooked eggs and cheese. Served with a bowl of soup, and hot rolls, it makes a good luncheon or supper dish.

Start with Lettuce
For 6 generous servings, break a small head of lettuce into bite-sized pieces. Dice 2 hard-cooked eggs over lettuce. Slice one green onion thin. Cut one medium-sized avocado into halves; remove seeds and skin, then dice. Slice a medium-sized tomato. Sprinkle onion, avocado cubes, tomato and 1/2 c. diced American cheese over lettuce.

Blend 1/4 c. oil, 1 1/2 tsp. wine vinegar, tsp. salt and 1/4 tsp. black pepper. Add 2 tsp. mayonnaise. Beat with a fork until well blended. Sprinkle over salad mixture, tossing lightly to blend. Serve at once.

Handsome green avocado shells make an attractive and delicious way to serve creamed foods, a favorite dish with California homemakers.

are easy to prepare, yet very elegant, a nice company item.

To serve 4, cook 1/2 c. sliced celery and 1/4 c. sliced onion in 2 tsp. butter slowly until tender, about 10 minutes. Push vegetables to side of pan and blend 2 tsp. flour into the butter. Add 3/4 c. milk, one bouillon cube, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. curry powder and black pepper to taste. Cook and stir until thickened. Mix in 2 diced, hard-cooked eggs.

Cut 2 avocados in halves lengthwise; remove seeds. Sprinkle with salt and lemon juice. Fill with curried egg mixture. Place in shallow baking pan containing 1/4 inch warm water. Bake in 325° F. oven 15 minutes. Serve immediately.

For a company dessert, there's a delicious and unusual tropical chiffon pie filling that's made this way:

Soften envelope plain gelatin in 2 tsp. lemon juice. Dissolve in 3/4 c. hot water. Blend in 1/2 c. sugar, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. grated orange rind and 1/2 c. orange juice. Cool to thickness of unbeaten egg white and fold in 3/4 c. sieved avocado and one c. whipped cream. Chill in baked 9-inch pastry shell.

near Brevard, owned by a Florida man, where he picked up the cattle for shipment to market in Atlanta. He was on his way to the Georgia metropolis when the accident occurred.

The dead cattle were quickly picked up from alongside the highway and rushed to a slaughterhouse at Dillsboro where an effort was made to use the meat before it spoiled. The surviving animals wandered off down the road or into the woods and had to be rounded up later.

The accident was investigated by Patrolmen L. A. Turner of Bryson City and V. E. Bryson of Waynesville.

wide area. The first blaze was reported at Black Camp Gap Tuesday about noon and was fought by about fifteen men until it was thought to be under control. However, the fire broke out again Wednesday afternoon and the crew was still on the job last night. It was estimated that around one hundred acres were burned.

A second fire was spotted on Hemphill Bald Wednesday morning. This property also joins the Park lands and a wide area of valuable timberlands.

The latest blaze was spotted at Dix Creek about mid afternoon Wednesday. Smoke and cloudy weather prevented the tower operator from determining the extent of the fire but around ten men were assigned to combat the blaze.

in bulk as well as in bags, Mr. Thompson said.

A large part of the output of the plant will be used by the Smoky Mountains Fertilizer Company, which is owned and operated by the same group of industrialists as the Western Carolina Phosphate Company.

Mr. Thompson said that some of the superphosphate would be sold to other manufacturers of fertilizer. The Smoky Mountains Fertilizer Company will handle all sales of superphosphate.

The new plant is in a building larger than the Smoky Mountains Fertilizer Company, and the spur sidetrack was extended 205 feet for the new plant.

Mr. Thompson said that additional labor would be added to the payroll of the new plant as it got into production.

The Smoky Mountains Fertilizer Company opened for business here in the spring of 1950, and has a capacity of manufacturing 10,000 tons annually.

J. W. Rutland is president, and Mr. Thompson is vice president of the superphosphate concern, while the two hold just the opposite titles in the Smoky Mountains Fertilizer Company. The new plant will not have any odor, it was explained.

Slippery Road Causes Serious Auto Accident Near Lovejoy

By MRS. JOHN W. JOHNSON, SR. Community Reporter

The East Pigeon community is glad to hear that Mrs. J. C. Clark and little daughter, Pamela Gail, are improving nicely at their home in Enka after being released from Memorial Mission Hospital in Asheville Friday. Wednesday morning they were in a serious car accident. Mrs. Clark was driving over to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Hargrove on Lovejoy, when a truck stopped in front to pick up some pedestrians.

The highway was slick after a shower during the night and the new asphalt on the road caused the car to turn around when the brakes were applied by Mrs. Clark. Out of control the car headed down a steep embankment as the left door swung open. Mrs. Clark took her daughter in her arms and was thrown out.

The car went on about 30 feet and was demolished. Mrs. Clark suffered bruises and lacerations, a broken arm and side injury. She has received so many gifts, flowers and special attentions, however, that she now thinks "it's been right nice to be in a hospital."

Mrs. Dacus Pitts of East Pigeon recently made a trip to Boston, Mass., to attend the wedding of her son, Benjamin B. Pitts, of the U. S. Navy, to Miss Maggie Frady of Waynesville. They were married in the oldest Baptist Temple in Massachusetts. The young Pitts will make their home in Boston near the Navy Base.

Mrs. W. M. Hargrove has beautified her home and lawn with a white-washed picket fence.

The Women of the Church of Bethel Presbyterian will meet Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All members are especially invited to attend at the home of Mrs. Roy Deitz.

The (young) adult women's class of Bethel Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Raymond Duckett Tuesday night. A very interesting program was given by Mrs. Arthur Shipman on "The Church Covenant." Thirteen members were present.

We are having beautiful Indian Summer and frosty nights, with very little rain. The farmers are busy gathering corn and some are beginning to grade burley when the weather is suitable.

New Hints For Tastier Dishes - Fish and Poultry

By RUTH CURRENT
State Home Demonstration Agent

FISH, MEAT AND POULTRY

Strips of bacon placed lengthwise in the bottom of the pan will prevent a meat loaf from sticking and also adds flavor to the meat.

Make slits in the fat around the edges of steaks or chops before broiling and the meat will lie flat on the rack.

When stuffing a turkey, you should stuff it loosely and use one cup of stuffing for every pound of turkey.

Canned meat can be removed from the tin easily by placing the can on the back of the stove or in hot water long enough to melt the fat next to the tin. If meat is canned in glass, heat it in water.

Swiss steak is extra good if you put it in a pan, brown it, and then cover it with your favorite soup and cook over low heat.

A fast way to make sausage patties is to shape the meat in a roll and cut into slices.

A fish will scale easier if you plunge it first into boiling water and then into cold water.

Scales will come off fish easily if you first rub vinegar over the surface of the fish.

A little "poultry seasoning" added to hash will enhance its flavor. The leg bones and wing tips of a turkey or chicken will not char during the roasting process if you wrap them with bacon.
