Woman's Club Entertains Group Of Guests

The Waynesville Woman's Club honored former members and other guests at a meeting Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Joe Stanelli on Boyd Avenue.

Among those honored were three charter members, Mrs. H. C. Lindley, Mrs. John N. Shoolbred, and Mrs. T. R. Thomas. Hostesses with Mrs. Stanelli were Mrs. C. M. Hinkley, Mrs. W. G. Francis, Mrs. Virgil Smith, Miss Ethel McCoy, Mrs. J. R. Hipps, and Mrs. J. W. Killian.

The speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Robert J. Bridges of Greensboro, 3rd vice president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. She told of the work of junior clubs in the state for Caswell Training School, stating that more than a million dollars worth of clothing has been donated.

Miss Betty Jo Shoaf, a member of the Little Women's Club, was introduced by Mrs. Virgil Smith and gave two readings, "The House By The Side of The Road," and "Thanksgiving Day."

Miss Pearl Harris presented a piano solo.

Mrs. Raymond Lane presided during the business hour and Mrs. R. B. Reter reported on the recent district meeting.

Mrs. C. F. Kirkpatrick, chairman of the annual Community Christmas Tree, sponsored by the club, announced plans to prepare 300 bags for distribution and Mrs. Roy Campbell, chairman of the annual Christmas Seal Sale, announced the plans of her committee to prepare the seals for mailing.

Mrs. W. H. Baughman, chairman of the fund drive for the restoration of Independence Hall, announced that her committee will work next week to collect one cent per student in the township schools.

Guests, in addition to the three charter members were Mrs. Ruff of Spartanburg, Miss Ruth Jones, Mrs. W. T. Shelton, Mrs. A. L. May of Blount, Miss. Mrs. Grover Davis, Mrs. Mac Namarr, Miss Margaret Eder, Mrs. E. C. Moody, Mrs. Ernest Hyatt, Mrs. Julia Fudge, Mrs. Selma Jones of Middleboro, Vt., Mrs. J. W. Fowler, Mrs. Charles E. Quinlan, Miss Louise MacFadyen, Mrs. Joe Calhoun, and Mrs. Revis.

Each guest was presented a Thanksgiving favor which was made by the members of the Little Women's Club.

Mrs. B. Z. Ruff of Spartanburg, S. C. is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Merlin Eggen at Lake Junaluska.

Richland Garden Club Meet With Mrs. Parkman

A regular meeting of the Richland Garden Club was held Thursday in the home of Mrs. Roy Parkman with Mrs. M. G. Stamey and Mrs. J. R. Boyd as associate hostesses.

A buffet luncheon was served prior to the meeting with Mrs. Guy Massie and Mrs. W. L. Kirkpatrick presiding at the dining table.

The table was decorated with an arrangement of fruit.

Miss Louise Ballard, district director of garden clubs, presented the program, conducting a question and answer period showing the history and purpose of the National Council of Garden Clubs.

Miss Lou Elva Eller, president, presided during the business hour and reports were given by committee chairmen.

Mrs. J. M. Long, chairman of the Holiday House Tour, presented plans for that event to be held on December 17.

Miss Ballard announced plans for the early spring flower show to be held by the club. She stated that the show will feature flowering branches, bulbs, and potted plants and will be open to all growers without regard to membership in a garden club.

Mrs. W. F. Swift, club representative on the Waynesville Council of Garden Clubs, announced that the council will sponsor a lecture on Gardening by Mrs. Arch Walker of Spartanburg next March.

The club voted to continue its annual project of making Christmas tray arrangements for patients at the Haywood County Hospital, and announcement was made that the four garden clubs in the community will share in keeping flower arrangements in the Haywood County Library.

Guests for the meeting were Mrs. Earl H. Brendall and Mrs. Guy Massie.

Girl Scout Troop No. 61 Is Organized

Girl Scout Troop No. 61 was organized recently at a meeting in the home of Mrs. William Prevost. Officers of the troop were elected as follows: Nancy Phillips, president; Judy Ketner, vice president; Lynda Kendry, secretary-treasurer; and Nancy Rector, scribe.

The group decided to hold meetings each Thursday. Mrs. Howard Hyatt, Mrs. R. S. Blake, and Mrs. Hugh Daniel are leaders.

My Favorite Recipe

MRS. SAM MEDFORD

APPLE, RASPBERRY JELLY

- 6 cups apple juice
- 4 cups sugar
- 1 package of Raspberry Jell-o

Let juice boil down to half, then add sugar, and cook until thick. Dissolve jell-o in hot water and add to jelly; stir well; bring to boil again and take off stove. Stir again for five minutes and pour into glasses. This can be made with different flavors of jell-o.

Dance Will Feature Accordion Artist

The "Woody" Rhodes Combo, starring Fritz Albertson, accordion artist, will be the feature attraction at the Thanksgiving dance to be held at the Elk's Hall, Thursday, November 26.
