Fines Creek Junior 4-H Prepare For Christmas

By GAIL BRADSHAW
School Reporter

The Junior 4-H Club of the Fines Creek School held its monthly meeting Friday, November 20th. Tommy Davis, vice president, was in charge of the meeting. The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting. A program was given by some of the members of the club. Then the meeting was turned over to Miss Jean Childers, asst. home agent, and Mr. Cecil Wells, asst. farm agent.

Miss Childers showed the 4-H girls how to make several different gifts for Christmas. The boys received their record books for the coming year. The meeting was closed by repeating the club pledge.

Clyde, a son, November 30.
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wright of Waynesville, a daughter, November 30.

Always sift flour once before measuring when you are making cakes and cookies. Then pile the flour lightly into the measure you are using and level the top with the edge of a spatula or case knife.

Haywood County CDP winners, Iron Duff, Thickety, and South Clyde, are among a number of Western North Carolina communities competing for a total of $1,150 in prize money in the annual WNC Rural Community Development contest, whose winners will be announced Saturday.

The awards will be disclosed at 2 p.m. Saturday during a program at the Battery Park Hotel.

Five hundred dollars will go to the first-place winner; $300 will be awarded for second place; $100 for third place, and $50 for fourth and fifth places.

Judges for the contest have been Miss Esie Garrett, McDowell County home demonstration agent; Neal Bolton, manager of the agriculture and highway department of the Winston-Salem Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. S. C. Mayo, rural sociologist from N. C. State College.

In 1951, Upper Crabtree community captured first place in Western Carolina, while Beaverdam was fifth. Last year White Oak placed fourth, while Allen's Creek tied for fifth.

Principal speaker at the awards dinner will be George McLean, publisher of the Tupelo, Miss. Daily Journal, and a pioneer in community development work in the South.
