Dr. J. C. Rich,
Maggie Native,
Dies At 77

Dr. John C. Rich, 77, native of Maggie and beloved physician of Candler for the past 43 years, died late Thursday night in a hospital near Asheville after a long illness.

Dr. Rich was known as a typical country doctor who never let matters of weather or distance interfere with making a call. His practice covered a territory of some 100 square miles and he frequently made trips of 10 or more miles to see a patient.

He was educated in Haywood County schools, finishing high school at Clyde and graduating at Peabody College, and the medical school of the University of Tennessee, where he was graduated with honors.

After graduation from Clyde High School, he was a teacher for five years at Shady Grove School, attending Peabody College on a part-time basis.

Dr. Rich practiced medicine at Dellwood for three years prior to moving to Candler in 1911. At that time the community was served by a macadam road and the topsoil and sand clay roads that tied into the main artery of travel. It was the era of the horse and buggy and when he could not reach his patients by this means of transportation, he rode horseback.

It was said that he never refused a call and that he gave his full attention to his patients, the fee usually being secondary. He was often paid in meats, vegetables, corn, or other commodities in the early days of his practice.

In addition to his service in the field of medicine, Dr. Rich served four years as a member of the Buncombe County Board of Education. He was active in community affairs and was on the Buncombe County Board of Health four years.

During World War I he was on the medical examining board at Camp Gordon, Ga. and was later physician at the Army tubercular hospital at Spartanburg, S. C.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon in the Montmorenci Methodist Church with the Rev. R. P. Waugh, the Rev.
M. D. Smith, and the Rev. T. A.
Groce officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Active pallbearers were John and Gordon Reno, Edwin and John Taylor, Russell and Hasque Kinsland and Lenoir Smathers.

Honorary pallbearers were members of the Men's Bible Class of the church, Joe Sharp and Eston West. Members of the Ladies Bible Class of the church were flower bearers.

Mrs. Rhodarmier was a native and lifelong resident of Haywood County and a member of the Morning Star Methodist Church.

Surviving are the husband, Taylor A. Rhodarmier; two sons, Charles and Dewey of Canton; two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Wells and Mrs. Carl Cooper of Pasadena, Texas.

Also two sisters, Mrs. Luster L.
Smathers and Mrs. Lina Reno of Canton; seven grandchildren; and F. Groce, and W. W. Candler.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs.
Annie Carpenter Rich; one daughter, Miss Ruth Rich of the home; two sons, J. C. Rich, Jr. of Candler, and Dr. C. Frank Rich of Asheville; four brothers, James, Frank, and Amos Rich of Maggie and Charles Rich of Lenoir; two sisters, Mrs. Annie Clement of Baltimore and Mrs. Eliza Caldwell of Maggie; and three grandsons.

Tuesday Night

By MRS. MARK GALLOWAY
Community Reporter

The Ratliffe Cove CDP will be held at the REA building Tuesday, February 9, at 7:30. Chairman L. Z.
Messer says he is expecting a large crowd as Mrs. James Medford, former chairman, is planning an interesting program.

The Ratliffe Cove boys' and girls' basketball teams will play Snoook Thursday night at 7 o'clock at the Hazelwood gym.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Mase have moved into their new home.

On our sick list are Mrs. Hugh Underwood, Mrs. Hugh Ratliffe and Mrs. Jim Messer.

Ruth Miller and Arby Jo Jones attended the MYF training school at Brevard over the weekend.

I. R. Howell, of Cruso, father of Mrs. Ray Miller, is ill.

Mrs. Henry Gaddy will be in charge of prayer service at Elizabeth Chapel Wednesday night.

Bill Leonard has returned from an Asheville hospital and is improving at his home.

SUNDAY EXCUSES
"When I have a convenient season." Acts 24:25
Lord, here upon this Sunday morn... Within my heart a lie was born... I claimed I was not feeling well... But when I heard the church's bell ... My conscience hurt. If it had been... A weekday I'd have been within... My place of business hours now... Nor would I be too ill somehow...
To keep a golf or luncheon date... I fear I did prevaricate.
