Jesus in Gethsemane. "He that loveth his life shall lose it; and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal."—John 12:25.

Jesus Faces the Cross

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—John 11:55—12:50.

Six days before the Passover, Jesus went to His friends' home in Bethany, and Lazarus, whom He had raised from the dead, was there. They made Him a supper, and Martha served them.

Mary took a costly ointment and anointed Jesus' feet, wiping them with her hair. Judas objected, but Christ said: "Let her alone; against the day of My burying hath she kept this."

As Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, many took branches of palm trees and went to meet Him, crying, "Hosanna; blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the name of the Lord!"

Multitudes followed Jesus because they had heard of the raising of Lazarus. The Pharisees said: "Behold, the world is gone after Him." They planned to kill Him. MEMORY VERSE—John 12:25.

ROYLE & PILKINGTON

SALUTES THE AMERICAN RED CROSS

President Dwight D. Eisenhower has said, "There is no satisfaction in life except as it is experienced through people. People constitute the one great, important factor in all human existence. . . . We find the Red Cross on duty everywhere, not merely where the incident that occasioned the help gets in the headlines but in the humblest of homes, always true to their belief that people, and only people, matter."

Your Red Cross and the services its volunteer workers perform all over the nation and all over the world need no justification of war or even emergency to demonstrate its value. That value is proved year after year by saving lives, relieving anxiety and distress, and reducing human suffering.

Your Red Cross . . . . . People Helping People.
