Paris Spring Hats Strike Fishy Note By NADEANE WALKER

AP Newsfeatures

PARIS-Put on your seaweed bonnet, with a bit of nonsense on

And you'll be wearing the latest spring hat style from Paris. For seaweed, dyed the prettiest pink and blue colors, has been taken up with enthusiasm by French hatters this season.

In the same nautical mood, some of them (Madame Janette, for instance) have brought out headgear in the shape of sea anemones, water lilies, lotus and star-fish,

You won't have much on your mind this spring if your hat is Paris-inspired, for here the new chapeaux are about as big as a button and light as a feather,

The wonder is how they ever stay on the head in the mildest breeze. Claude St. Cyr lines all hats with velvet, which is supposed to help them stick to the hair. Gilbert Orcel, among many others, resorts to covered wire clamps to clip a hat on. Some of the real lilliputians-a little flower or jewelled medallion in a corner of the brow look as if they might be stuck on by suction, like a rubber dart, but probably concealed elastic bands are the answer,
