The whole creation is following weakness I uproot, brightens the fun world.-Frederick Brooks

It Comes Closer Than We Think

The Red Cross is making a concerted campaign in Haywood to raise the local chapter quota of $5,000. The work, and importance of the Red Cross is well known. Very often people are prone to look on the Red Cross as an organization, paid for by the other fellow, but ready to help anyone in time of need

The Red Cross has expanded its scope of services, until today it is a vital cog to servicemen and their families back home. The organization is the one recognized group which can lend a helping hand to servicemen in time of emergency. Such was the case here last year, when more than 900 families were helped in this way.

Another feature of the Red Cross is the operation of the Bloodmobile. There again is a service which all of us have hopes of never having to call upon, but it is a source of relief to know that it is available when need-

In another column on this page today is a letter from Nathan Walker, of Clyde, now visiting in Arkansas. He tells of being within five miles of a tornado, and the havoc created by the storm. Needless to say, the Red Cross was soon on the scene lending a helping hand to those who suddenly saw their worldly possessions strewn over a wide area by the force of the devastating winds. Such is the program of the Red Cross.

A Tinge Of Sadness

The front page of the Monday issue of The Mountaineer carried a story about work to start soon on the 1,000-foot tunnel on the Pigeon River road.

Such news is of vital interest to us here in Haywood, but at the same time, it carries with it a bit of sadness, because when the present 6-mile link is completed, as of right now, no provision, or interest, has been shown by Raleigh, to keep the work going right on into the second link of that all-important road.

Our present highway officials seem embarrassed to even mention the Pigeon River Road, which has been often called the "Red-Headed Step Child" of all North Carolina Road projects.

Some day, there will come some official who will take an interest, and "claim" the Pigeon River Road, and see it completed. Such a group will go down in history along with other famous North Carolinians who had the wisdom to look ahead and inaugurate projects which have helped make North Carolina a great state.

THE MOUNTAINEER

Waynesville, North Carolina Main Street Dial GL 6-5301 The County Seat of Haywood County

Published By The WAYNESVILLE MOUNTAINEER, Inc.

W. CURTIS RUSS W. Curtis Russ and Marion T. Bridges, Publishers PUBLISHED EVERY MONDAY AND THURSDAY

	HAYWOOD COUNTY
One Year		$3.00
		2.00
Three Months		1.00
	NORTH CAROLINA
One Year		$4.00
		2.25
OUT	SIDE NORTH CAROLINA
One Year		$4.50
Six Months		2.50
Entered at the	post office at Waynesville, N. C.,	as Sec-Matter, as provided under the lovember 20, 1914.	1 3 11

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Associated Press is entitled exclusively to the use for re-publication of all the local news printed in this newspaper, as well as all AP news dispatches.

Thursday Afternoon, March 11, 1954

Business Available For Those Who Work Hardest To Get It

Brandon Hodges, former State Treasurer, served members of the Rotary Club a big dish of choice food for thought last Friday, as he discussed the fuller development of this area, from the standpoint of industry, tourists and agriculture.

Mr. Hodges, while a state official, worked untiringly at the task of interesting new industries to North Carolina. Several of those plants are now providing hundreds of jobs in nearby neighboring counties.

The civic club members were told that the region would have to be sold as a whole and not just county by county - because "county and political lines do not have a place in a long time. I think this would such a program."

As Mr. Hodges began naming the different plants which have recently been erected the Pacific where we were not prein the counties of this area, he named every- pared. Admitting Hawaii and Alasone but Haywood.

He made no mention of the fact that no new plants had come here in recent years. He merely cited the record.

The fact remains, that the citizens of this area want new industries, want more recreation facilities to attract more tourists, and also a better agriculture economy. Yet, when the Chamber of Commerce tried to get a true labor picture here, the response was surprisingly low. Perhaps many people felt the survey not essential because it did not offer a definite job. Anyway, the promoters who are seeking new industries here, are going right ahead and will in time succeed.

Schools And Industry

So long as vocational training in the public schools of North Carolina can be kept in the right perspective in relation to the liberal arts, stimulation of that type of training properly should be encouraged in this State. But school officials should be extremely careful to halt even the suggestion that such training should be tailored for the needs of one industry or a group of industries.

Ben E. Douglas, director of the Department of Conservation and Development, said his agency is pleased and encouraged that more schools are linking vocational courses with the needs of new industries which have moved to the State. So far, the courses have taken the form of supplements to regular curricula and this seems the proper status for such specialization.

It is significant, too, that Dr. Carev H. Bostian, chancellor of State College, said in his inaugural address that liberal education He is at home in the world of quanshould not be swallowed up by technical edu- tity, number, and measurement. cation. Specialized, technical training, he He thinks rationally, logically, obsaid, is not "the exclusive means" of producing a "completely oriented student."

Certainly, students of both the high ever, his thought is imaginative and school and college levels should be furnished every opportunity to learn skilled trades. affected by beauty. His mind is Vienna unless all those prices forts to ca State as well as the new industry. It would independent. be most unfortunate, however, if the lure of good, quick jobs were allowed to divert students from the larger objectives of a more be is a part, but he is never merecomplete education.

North Carolina needs new industry. It needs vocational training, within and with- business or profession, his family out the schools. Above all, it needs highly life, an dhis avocations as parts of educated sons and daughters who will be able to function effectively outside the walls of Whether making a professional or industry. The professions must be manned, a personal decision, he acts with too, with vision as well as skill.

-Raleigh News And Observer.

Not A Bed Of Roses

Did you know that at least four miles of prove them. He is tolerant about walking and 25 hours of time is spent each the beliefs of others because he year to make just one bed?

"It's true," says Mamie Whisnant, Extension specialist in home management. "The not only by word but by example. ta, is a memorial to the late Govway many of us make beds — the common His personal standards are high; ernor Eugene Talmadge. It bears way-it takes that much time and walking,"

They'll Do It Every Time By Jimmy Hatlo Registered U.S. Patent Office THAT COUPLE AT 23" WHAT'S THE MATTER? I CAN'T ENJOY MY MEAL, SNIFF .. WONDERING WHAT SHE'S THINK (SOB POOR MAMA DID SHE CATCH HIM BLUBBERING ABOUT .. THERE-THERE WITH SOME LIPSTICK ON HIS COLLAR? MAYBE SHE'S GOT ONION IN HER EYE . ING THERE IN PROMISED ME HE HOSPITAL YOU WOULDN'T HE'LL HAVE THE WHATEVER THINK ABOUT IT MORE THAN I SHE'LL BE OUT IN ABOUT, IT DIDN'T WEEPS HER OLD LADY IS MOVING IN WITH THEM CAN BEAR SHE CAN COME STAY WITH RYING TO FIGURE WHAT STARTED THE JOHNNIE RAY ROUTINE. THANK AND A TIPOE THE HATLO HAT TO HARRY STORMS, 139 EAST 45TH ST.,

Voice of the People

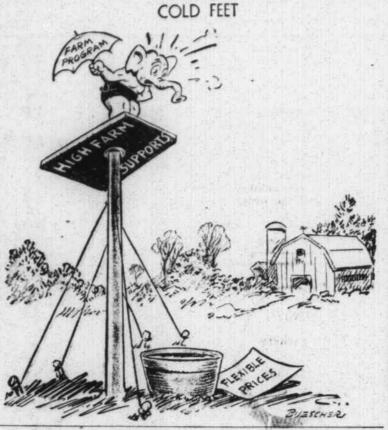

Are you in favor of admitting Hawaii and Alaska into the Union

Miss Ruth Coffey- "Alaska and Hawaii have things to give us and we have things to give them. We'll all profit if they are admitted into Miss Helen Coffey - "We need Alaska for defense.

Rev. J. H. Coleman - "The answer is ves. I have been for this strengthen our defense in the outlying possessions and, lest we forget, we have just finished war in ka would, in my opinion, help in the fight against Communism."

Mrs. Rebekah Murray-"I think the two should be considered separately. I think Hawaii is ready to ecome a state, but I don't believe mitting Hawaii and Alaska would | would lead to better relations with give us a much greater stronghold the peoples in those territories." Mrs. Fannye Mae Martin-"Ad- in the Pacific for defense, and

Looking Back Over The Years

J. Harden Howell is appointed is local postmaster.

Monday Afternoon bridge club destroyer. meets with Mrs. Ben Colkitt

Sam Stringfield, Jr., student at the University of North Carolina, and Mrs. G. C. Summerrow is spending the spring holidays Hazelwood with his parents.

Fred L. Safford, principal of the Fines Creek High School, is Waynesville visitor.

Homer West and Glenn Brown are among the visitors here from Clyde Tuesday.

Ensign Gordon Hendricks expects to return to the States soon after spending five years aboard a

Cpl. John Summerrow is spending a leave with his parents, Mr

Tech. Sgt. George A. McCracken arrives safely in England,

DAR meeting in Raleigh.

Stanley Henry resigns as Chamber of Commerce secretary and will re-enter Western Carolina

Miss Eloise Martin is engaged to Lt. Lowell Burke Genebach, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. William Dover are hosts of dinner honoring Miss Betty June McCracken, bride-elect. Mrs. Calvin Francis returns to her home near Reidsville after vis-Mrs. S. H. Bushnell returns from iting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Edmunds of his fellow Georgians; and ad-

Views of Other Ed THE LIBERALLY-EDUCATED

The liberally-educated man is articulate, both in speech and writing. He has a feel for language, a respect for clarity and directness of expression and a knowledge of some language other than his own. jectively, and knows the differreative rather than logical. He is He knows a good deal about the man, about the culture of which "well-informed". He can use what he knows, with judgment and discrimination. He thinks of his larger whole, parts of a purse which he has made his own. maturity, balance, and perspective, which come ultimately from his knowledge of other persons, other problems, other times and places. He has convictions, which are reaoned, although he cannot always respects sincerity and is not afraid of ideas. He has values, and he can communicate them to others cated at the State House in Atlansatisfy him.

But service to his society or to his God, not personal satisfaction not deceive you." alone, is the purpose of his excellalways a unique person, vivid in gia. He was bitterly hated by many "That's the trouble," the conhis distinction from other similarly educated persons, while sharing with them the traits we have mentioned. - General Education in School and College, Harvard Universitty Press, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

READ THE FINE PRINT

From some headlines or necessarily brief news "leads" or radio bulletins it would have been easy at one stage to get the impression that Foreign Minister Molotov had offered independence to Austria if Soviet troops should be allowed to remain there only another year.

However, the proposal Mr. Molotov really made at Berlin was that the Big Four powers should leave occupation troops in Austria even after signing an independence treaty but should promise to reconsider "not later than 1955" the date for their withdrawal.

This, as Mr. Dulles at once pointed out, would mean nothing at all-except that Soviet forces would not be withdrawn for an other 18 months, Thereafter the debate would begin all over again earlier in the Berlin meeting.

In other words, Moscow in 1955 could again demand that the Eur-opean defense Community be emulation to all public servants opean defense Community be emulation be all publiscrapped, that the North Atlantic throughout this nation. Treaty Organization be excluded The testimeny of some uncomence between fact and opinion. from Europe, and that the sinis- promising opponents of Talmadge ter Soviet plan for unifying Ger- is that he did not attempt to demany be accepted. It could again ceive his constituents; bu perceptive, sensitive to form, and tanks away from the borders of form and always made sincere efrefuse - indefinitely - to take its est and open in presenting his plat-Vienna unless all those prices forts to carry out all promises, were paid as ransom and Western Sometimes he succeeded, and at Europe were laid open to conquest. other times failed.

He knows a good deal about the world of nature and the world of mr. Molotov's "concession" a whole, it is not probable The first time as usher in a large and

-Christian Science Monitor,

SURPRISE BUT NO DECEPTION

In Georgia's "Hall of Fame," lonothing short of excellence will this quotationi from a Talmadge speech cated man is never a type. He is the latter day leadership of Geor- off onto a side street.

mired, trusted and followed by It, is true Talmadge employed some political tactics which were as to whether Austrian soil, then condemned by many of the best nominally free, should be rid of people of his State, but as a rule an uninvited soldiery; and the these testing to the fact that he Kremlin could again attach all the did not resort to deception to obunwarranted and impossible condi- tain office or in presenting his tions to the move that it attached policies and program to his peo-

To that extent, the example of was nailed down in the closing session of the Berlin conference. Leopold Figl. Austrian Foreign Minister, suggested an amendment to the Georgia instead of North Carolina. treaty setting June 30, 1955, as a This mention is not made to en- were made, final date for withdrawal of occu-pation forces and declaring Aus-cies or all the methods employed down the aisle unaccompanied, and tria independent meanwhile. This by the Georgian; but only to suggest that his pulitical slogan is one Thus in the Communist talk of to be commended to public offi-1955 all that was offered to the cials throughout the country. It toed up to her and whispered Austrians was another ride on the outlines a course of official consame old merry-go-round, with the duct which should be followed by "Mardo same wheezy tune being played on all public officials.

the mechanical organ.

And we sed to this observation that it is a rule of conduct which can profitably be followed by all citizens outside the ranks of pub--Hender onville Times-News

EWE HEARD THIS ONE?

A man was leading a flock of sheep down the main street of a small village, when he was ordered "I may surprise you; but I will to halt by the town constable, "What's wrong?" the sheepherd-

Governor Talmadge was one of er asked. "I have a small flock of ing. Above all, the liberally-edu- the most controversial figures in ewes, and I was just going to turn

> EVERY 4.3 MINUTES an American is murdered or ser ously assaulted says FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover.

Rambling 'Round

-Bits Of Human Interest News-By Frances Gilbert Frazier

" can Spring be far behind," Mrs. Hugh Sloan sp distributing bunches of daffodils to her friends: Beautifuli flower and seed catalogs extending irresistible lures: hardwa displaying garden tools to complete the capitulation; tiny li heads peeking out on a new world, and shivering packing a ing pulled out from winter hibernation and last summer gar surveyed: fishing tackle boxes being closely examined for replacements: ten more days and the calendar officially Spring, then the weather will deny or confirm the report

Some people capital-I-ze on their own valuation

It seemed impossible for Little Johnny and Little Mary to gether without differences of opinions to manifest themsel angry quarrel to enter into the proceedings. Then each chill go home and give his (and her) version of the affair In ten the youngsters would have forgotten their grievances and b together again . . . to repeat the performance

The two mothers decided to teach their offsprings a going out in the yard where the two children were, the two engaged in a lusty tongue-lashing and simulated quarrel To boy and the little girl looked on in speechless amazement the the two mothers had gone to their respective homes, Little commnted: "Huh! Your daddy and my daddy are in for som weather when they come home tonight." -:-

Conscience is your guardian angel sitting on a fence,

A lovely rosebud swayed gently in the breeze, and looked admiringly at other buds and full-blown roses in the garden to the rosebud, rising in majestic beauty, was a scarlet rose its fullest and gazing rapturously up at the shining sun. The lift bud sighed and leaning over to the rose whispered. "Oh how derful it must be to be full-blown and so beautiful. How I wish be like you. The scarlet rose looked over at the little rosebud and sh sighed: "Ah, my dear!" she softly replied, "stay a bud just as l you can. Your beauty will make itself felt just the same. Whe blown I am gorgeous, yes, but by tomorrow my petals will begin and then no one will admire me. The gardener will come alon his seissors and I will be only a memory." As she spoke t breeze gently lifted one of the beautiful scarlet petals and le noiselessly to the earth. The little rosebud turned away, a c dew glistening like a tear on its closely folded radiance -!- -!-

The schedule can be changed at a moment's notice when train of thought is traveling on a one track mind

Letters To Edite

NOTHING LIKE HAYWO

Editor, The Mountaineer:

I get to read The Moun

out here and enjoy the news home so much. Looks like will be a good crop of can

I came down here to At on December 31, and since t

have been in two dust stor

hail storm, a snow storm, w inches of snow, and was with

I drove over to see the done by the twister and was glad I was no nearer than miles ot it. The wind upro wide path through a stand of

Glad to read that Haywo getting some rain, and 1301 No. Wash St.

Magnolia Ark

storms or twisters like Arka

Yours truly

Nathan M. Walker

miles of a tornado homes

on hand for the primary.

Transactions In REAL ESTATE

Waynesville Township O. C. Parsons and wife to Carl Cook and wife C. A. George and wife to Lewis

H. Sims and wife. Beaverdam Township

Jessie Cairnes and others to W. W. Cairnes and wife Jessie Cairnes and others to W. W. Cairnes and wife and others

Mrs. Donie Mills to Eva Cole Robinson Jackson F. Woody and wife others to Vernua Woody

James Z. Cochran and Julius Messer and wife Pearson Clark and wife and oth- ber, and damaged barns stable replied, "No ewe turns permitted on Main Street

-Wall Street Journal.

SLIGHTLY WRONG

his nervousness some mistakes

"Mardon me, padam, you are occupewing the wrong pie. May I sew you to another sheet?"

George H. Arthur and wi Paul R. Henderson and wife Jonathan Township

ers to Pauline Clark

Lura P. Messer to R. M. Millie Harrell to Walket Chambers and wife

Cecil Township H. R. Calhoun and Frank Parker and wife.

Commodity Credit Corpo commitments (loans and

41. Dutch mi

42. Upward

44. Ever (p

of river curving of a ship's tories) had climbed above the -Twin City Sentinel. billion mark by December 31

wardness

split

wood

35. Appearing

36. Any pina-

37. River (Rus.

horse's neck

38. Hair of

as if eaten

CROSSWORD

ACROSS 2. An opera • 25. Sign of . Caresses 3. Run in drops 9. Child 4. Reptile 27. Annam 5. Body of (Scot.) 10. Rird of prey 29. Straightforsalt water 12 Country 6. Endures 7. Exchange 32. Strang premium 8. Fun 34. Object to

(mus.)

(Asia) 13. Of Asia 14. Heaps 16. Playthings 9. Twice 17. Ships (poetic) 19. Side of 11. Half ems 15. Stitch a room 18. Humble 22. Warrant 19. Damp officer (abbr.) 21. Guided 23. Goddess 23. Exclamation 40. Measure 24. High priest of death (Norse) 26. Fencing swords 28. Large sea mammal 30. Spread grass to dry 31. Naga Hills Indian 83. River

84. Chief god (Teut. myth.) 86. Rave angrily 39. Idle fancles 43. Sultan's 45. Early inhabitant of Italy

48. Look 49. Potato bu DOWN