

THE WAYNESVILLE MOUNTAINEER

Published Twice-A-Week In The County Seat of Haywood County At The Eastern Entrance Of The Great Smoky Mountains National Park

YEAR NO. 25 12 PAGES

Associated Press

WAYNESVILLE, N. C., MONDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 29, 1954

$3.00 In Advance In Haywood and Jackson Counties

TODAY'S SMILE
Parson: "Do you know where little boys go when they smoke?"
Little Boy: "Yup; up the alley."

Inter-County Telephone Dialing Starts 31st

APPEAL OF CHASE—Alvin Mansfield, left, tells Patrolman H. Dayton, right, and Patrolman W. R. Wooten, center, how he tried to make away Friday afternoon when Patrolman Wooten tried to stop the stolen Buick. Mansfield was driving. Patrolman Wooten set up a road block just west of Canton, but the escaped prisoner stopped and gave up about two miles this side of the blocked highway. This picture was made in the Haywood jail Friday shortly after Mansfield's arrest. He is still in jail here.

(Mountaineer Photo.)

Carolina Power To Triple Capacity Of Line To Maggie

Doctors To Wear Red Carnations

If you notice your doctor wearing a red carnation Tuesday you'll know that someone remembered that March 30th is Doctor's Day.

About the only observance of the 21-year-old event is that a doctor gets a red carnation to wear, or perhaps a vase full for his desk. Other than that, it is just another busy day.

(See editorial, and the suggestion for patients in the observance of Doctor's Day.)

County Ends Quarantine On Dogs

The county-wide quarantine on dogs, imposed last fall when several people were bitten by rabid dogs, ended Sunday according to an announcement by Bill Milner, sanitarian, and Ernest Chambers, dog warden, of the Haywood County Health Department.

The quarantine was first ordered in the Allen's Creek area and later extended to the entire county when rabid dogs were reported in other areas. The county's total of rabies cases among animals last year was 10—the most serious outbreak of the disease in Haywood County within memory. The last rabid dog reported was on December 27.

As the number of rabies cases increased last fall, the county commissioners hired Mr. Chambers as dog warden to enforce state regulations decreed for quarantined areas—including keeping pets confined and having them vaccinated.

Although dogs no longer have to be confined, Mr. Milner urged that they "be kept up as much as possible."

However, vaccinations of the animals is still compulsory, and a series of clinics will begin in April to accommodate pet owners. Dates and locations of the clinics will be announced later.

Mrs. Mitchell Dies At 83 After Illness

Mrs. Robert H. Mitchell, great-granddaughter of Col. Robert Love, founder of Waynesville, died Thursday night in an Asheville hospital following a short illness. She was 83 years of age.

Born April 18, 1870, Mrs. Mitchell was the former Miss Maria Love, oldest of eight children of Captain Mathew and Rebecca Moore Love of Haywood County.

She was graduated from the old Asheville Female College and was married November 4, 1896, to Robert Harris Mitchell of Knoxville, Tennessee. Mr. Mitchell died in 1911.

Mrs. Mitchell was a member of the First Methodist Church and was a charter member and past regent of the Dorcas Bell Love Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

During the years following World War I when the Army rehabilitation hospital was located at the Sulphur Springs Hotel, Mrs. Ferguson was accompanied by Mrs. Ferguson.

She was a member of the First Methodist Church and was a charter member and past regent of the Dorcas Bell Love Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Following is the program of the first meeting: 1. Selection by the High School Orchestra. 2. Statement by the Superintendent of the Purpose of the Meeting. 3. History of the Origin and Development of the Waynesville Schools, General R. D. Gilmer. 4. Song—"Ho! For Carolina," School. 5. Recitation, Mildred Crawford. 6. How the Home Can Help the School, Miss Mary B. Mitchell. 7. How the School Can Help the Home, Rev. A. S. Anderson. 8. Selection by the High School Orchestra.

The commission will meet in Raleigh April 8th to complete arrangements for the permanent order of the regulations.

"After the program an informal

(See Societies—Pages 6)

and the community.

"That which deserved first place in the progress of Waynesville Public Schools during the year is the fine spirit manifested. In schools as in individuals nothing is truer than this maxim. The spirit in which we act is the high-est matter."

"The Board—The trustees have at all time manifested a keen interest in everything that pertains to the welfare and development of the schools. The strength of their support and the wisdom of their counsel have been felt at all times for the authority and advancement of the educational interests of the community."

"Patron's Meeting—There have been two meetings during the year in which patrons and teachers made united efforts to advance the general interest of the school and the community."

"Following is the program of the first meeting: 1. Selection by the High School Orchestra. 2. Statement by the Superintendent of the Purpose of the Meeting. 3. History of the Origin and Development of the Waynesville Schools,

General R. D. Gilmer. 4. Song—

"Ho! For Carolina," School. 5.

Recitation, Mildred Crawford. 6.

How the Home Can Help the School, Miss Mary B. Mitchell. 7.

How the School Can Help the Home, Rev. A. S. Anderson. 8.

Selection by the High School

Orchestra.

The commission will meet in Raleigh April 8th to complete arrangements for the permanent order of the regulations.

"After the program an informal

(See Societies—Pages 6)

and the community."

"The Board—The trustees have at all time manifested a keen interest in everything that pertains to the welfare and development of the schools. The strength of their support and the wisdom of their counsel have been felt at all times for the authority and advancement of the educational interests of the community."

"Patrons—The patrons have giv-

Along Political Fronts

R. E. Sentelle Candidate For Representative

R. E. Sentelle, Waynesville attorney, today announced he is a candidate for the nomination as representative in the House of Representatives.

The Haywood native has served in three regular terms of the General Assembly, and two special terms. He represented Wake County in 1905, and was Representative from Brunswick county for two regular and two special terms in 1935 and 1937.

This will give customers along this line electric service just as modern as in any large city," Wright commented. He says that the three-phase service will accommodate the newest and heaviest electrical equipment, such as heavy-duty motors and air conditioners.

Wright said the project calls for taking out one wire from Dellwood to Maggie and putting in three new ones. New wiring will also be installed from Lake Junaluska to Dellwood.

In all, the project is taking 22 miles of new wire, and will represent an expenditure of about $20,000.

The expansion was engineered to provide abundant electrical capacity along the Soco Gap road and to take care of the anticipated growth of the area, the Carolina Power & Light Company Manager commented.

The line work, Wright pointed out will necessitate numerous interruptions of electrical service but these interruptions will be scheduled so that there will be the least inconvenience possible to customers.

Linemen will use the morning hours to do all the preliminary work possible with the lines "hot," he said. When work is required that would jeopardize the safety of the men, the power will be cut off. These interruptions usually will be made for short intervals during the afternoon.

"We hope to complete the work between April 1st and May 1st," Wright said. This will be during warm weather, so as to cause the least interruption of service to heating systems, and it will come prior to the tourist season.

Hazelwood Warns Against Unlawful Dumping Of Trash

Hazelwood town officials and the Haywood County Health Department today warned residents of this area against the indiscriminate dumping of garbage and trash at the Hazelwood dump in the Little Mountain section of Hyatt's Creek.

The only dumping authorized there, it was stated, is that done by the Town of Hazelwood.

Bill Milner, health department official, said that one man has already been fined in court for dumping trash at the Hyatt's Creek site, and warned that other offenders will be prosecuted.

Soil samples are not necessary for spring seeding, Mr. Ferguson added.

The ASC official also announced that farmers who have sold or bought farms with tobacco allotments must fill out "combination" or "division" papers in the ASC office by May 15.

Ferguson Attends City Manager's Conference

G. C. Ferguson, town manager, attended the state meeting of city managers at Sedgefield Inn, Saturday and Sunday. Many town problems were discussed, including garbage disposal, water rates and lines outside of town, building codes, and street assessments.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Ferguson.

WNC Tourist Operators Go To 'School' Wednesday

Operators of tourist establishments in Haywood County and other

Western North Carolina counties will go to "school" all day

Wednesday to get the latest information on a number of matters affecting the mountain tourist industry.

A number of specialists will lead discussions at the tourist conference which is sponsored by the Western North Carolina Highlanders,

Inc., the State Department of Distributive Education and Western Carolina College.

Cooperating in the program are the State Tourist Bureau, N. C. Department Conservation and Development, North Carolina Association of Quality Restaurants, Inc., and others mutually interested.

In announcing the conference at WCC on Wednesday, Major O. A.

Fetch, resident manager of Fon-

Tana Village and president of the Highlanders, made this statement:

"In 1951 a committee on education and training was named and since that time has been active in encouraging local communities to hold numerous "Hot Schools" and

"Information Training Conferences". For the past two years regional training conferences have been held at Western Carolina College. Through participation of the State Department of Distributive

Education and the College, added impetus has been given to meet the need for training in the tourist industry and in other businesses deriving benefit from the travel dollar. The area has experienced increased travel during the past few years, but this is a highly competitive field and must continue to improve if we continue to attract more visitors."

The program Wednesday will include:

Welcome by Dr. Paul Reid, president of Western Carolina College,

9:30 a.m.; "What the Tourist Business Means To You," by Fred Whitaker, manager of the State Tourist

Bureau, 9:40-10:00; "Profitable

Business Operation," by T. Carl

Brown, state supervisor of distributive education, 10:00-10:30;

"Getting Results Through Supervision," by W. G. Slattery, distributive education