125 men built a home for J. A. Neff in one day. At 7:30 p.m. the structure was made. The home is near Mountain Sanitarium.

At ten o'clock, the scene looked like this, as the men, with 6 from Waynesville, including Rev. Pete Meiser, of the Seventh Day Adventist church.

By one o'clock the scene looked like this, and it was here that Neff, ill with cancer, saw the new home for the first time.

At three o'clock the house had gotten to this point. The family was moved in at eight that night, and needless to say, everyone was overjoyed.

Waynesville Churches Plan Easter Week Special Services

The Presbyterians of Hazelwood will be holding special Holy Week services next week at the Hazelwood Presbyterian Church. It was announced today by the Session of the Church. The services will be conducted by the pastor the Rev. Archie C. Graham each evening Sunday through Friday at 7:30. The public is invited.

The series will be based on the last week of Jesus' earthly life. Each day following the corresponding day of that week. The subjects are as follows: "Sunday—A Day of Triumph"; "Monday—A Day of Authority"; "Tuesday—A Day of Opposition"; "Wednesday—A Day of Silence"; "Thursday—A Day of Communion"; and "Friday—A Day of Suffering."

The services are planned for the spiritual enrichment of the congregation, and as an opportunity of reaching the members on the inactive roll of the church and restoring them to active participation in the work of Jesus Christ.

These services will lead up to the Easter Morning Service "He Is Risen!"

Smokies Park Museum Opens

The Pioneer Museum at Oconaluftee ranger station on the North Carolina side of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, has been opened for the season.

Arthur Stupka, park naturalist, said rangers would be in charge of much of the time each day.

It is hoped that a full-time ranger-naturalist will be stationed there later in the summer to explain the exhibits and pictures of pioneer culture.

There are more kinds of orchids than any other plant.
