Pretty Blonde Learns Riding The Hard Way

Josephine Abercrombie of Houston is shown driving Parading Lady of her Pin Oak Stable of Versailles, Ky., to victory in the Fine Harness Champion Stake in the National Horse Show. She was the leading winner at the show, taking 12 of 13 hackney prizes.

Miss Abercrombie lends a hand with Light Note, one of her Pin Oak Farm thoroughbreds at Belmont Park while jockey Bennie Green inspects the filly's leg. The Houston miss is one-fourth owner of a racing string of 18 horses.

BELMONT, N. Y. — Outside Stable 42 at spacious Belmont Park, beautiful blue-eyed Josephine Abercrombie stood watching the grooms walk a half dozen thoroughbreds. In her hand she held a stop watch.

"I'm just learning to work it," said the 28-year-old Rice Institute graduate who is one-fourth owner of the Pin Oak Farm stable of Versailles, Ky., and Houston, Tex.

"The first time I used it I didn't know how to start it. The second time I didn't know how to stop it and the third day out on the track I lost it. Now that I've found it I can't get it to work."

Miss Abercrombie has no plans to become a trainer for she has a capable conditioner in J. H. (Slim) Pearce. But even in soiled jodphurs, the sparkling blonde attraction around Belmont's stable area wants to learn everything about racing.

When the Pin Oak horses are due to work out she's usually on hand at 6 o'clock in the morning. And she stays around until all the fillies and colts in the 18-horse stable are back in the barn.

The stable is owned by Miss Abercrombie in partnership with her father's brother, Bob Abercrombie, and Houston contractors William A. Smith and Herman Brown.

"The talk about the stable area is that while Pin Oak is literally unknown now, it will be heard from within the coming two or three years.

"We all just wanted to get into racing," says Miss Abercrombie. "Last year was our first and we did pretty well. We won 18 races

Billy Rogers Assigned To Airborne Artillery

Pvt. Billy J. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cauley Rogers, of Route 1, Clyde, has been assigned to Service Battery of the 515 Airborne Field Artillery Battalion for basic training.

He will spend the next eight weeks learning the fundamentals of being a soldier. This includes class room lectures in such subjects as military courtesy and first aid, and combat problems involving the use of the M-1 rifle, which he will learn to fire on various ranges.

After eight weeks of training with the 101st Airborne Infantry Division, the trainee is given about 14 days leave. He may return here for eight more weeks of infantry training, or he may be assigned to one of the many Army schools.

Longevity Is Family Affair

NEWPORT, Tenn. (AP) — Mrs. Mary Jane Whitlock recently observed her 105th birthday, with a candle on her cake for each year. Runs in the family, she says. Her father lived to be 107.

a racing stable is to begin with untried colts and fillies. That's just the way Pin Oak Farm began, having purchased baby racers at the Keeneland, Ky., and Saratoga yearling sales.

Miss Abercrombie agrees it may not be the easiest way to break into racing but "it's the most interesting way, especially when you can bid in the offspring of good sires and dams."
