

37 Participating In Bible School At St. John's

Thirty-seven young people from throughout Western North Carolina are participating in a vacation Bible school now in progress at St. John's Catholic Church, according to announcement by the Rev. Father Lawrence Newman, pastor.

Those in the school represent various towns in the St. John's parish—Waynesville, Canton, Sylva, Cherokee, Bryson City, Franklin, Murphy-Brasstown, and Fontana, and out-of-parish towns such as Candler, Spruce Pine, Burnsville, and Hot Springs.

Students arise at 6:30, attend Mass at 7 o'clock, have breakfast and then recreation until 9 a. m. From 9 until noon, religious training is given, including singing, Bible study, catechism, and serving Mass. In the afternoon religious games are played, and in the evening religious movies are shown. Ball games are played both before and after supper.

Teachers are: Sister Corrine, music; Sister Nona, primary; Sister Bernardis, elementary; Sister Berard, advanced elementary; Father Newman and Sister Francis Marie, high school.

The Amazon River was named by a Spanish explorer after a battle with Indians in which a large number of Indian women took part, reminding the explorer of the legend of the Amazons, a warlike race of women.

annual convention banquet at Lam-buth Inn, when Admiral W. N. Thomas will make an address, followed by Carl Sandburg, noted poet, who is residing at Flat Rock. Thomas L. Robinson, publisher of The Charlotte News, will preside at the banquet.

A number of manufacturing firms of the area are providing souvenirs for the members of the Press Association, and a number of photographs of the section is being given to them.

The press association met here last in 1936. On three occasions since then they have come here for a meal while in this area. Once the National Editorial Association had a barbecue supper at the Armory; and again the state group met here, and several years ago, most of the group came here for an evening meal and spent the night, after seeing "Unto These Hills" at Cherokee. At that time, the convention was held in Asheville.

The annual business session of the convention will be preceded Saturday morning by a memorial service for deceased members.

President Jones will make his address to the convention, and reports will be heard from other officers and committee chairmen. Just before adjournment, about noon, he officers for the coming year will be elected and recognized. The new officers will take office August first.

one by a movie actor represents a job much like any other. Gig says, with many things to be learned and a great deal of hard work demanded.

"When you're up, it's great; when you're down, it's tough," he added. Asked his preference as to the type of roles he enjoys doing most, Gig replied that the important thing is not whether the part is dramatic or comedy, but whether it is a good one.

Lake many actors, he pointed out, he tries to avoid being "typed" in any one kind of role.

Comparing the stage with the screen, Gig says he likes to play before an audience as on Broadway, but explains the difficulties of "projecting" the voice and emotions beyond the footlights.

Another difference is that while stage acts and scenes are played chronologically, movie scenes are filmed according to the set—so that the middle or the ending of a picture may actually be the first to be photographed.

One other problem facing the stage actor, he said, is to keep "fresh" when playing the same role daily for many weeks on end.

As to his opinion of Western North Carolina's mountains, Gig joined in with the region's tourists by commenting:

"They're unbelievably beautiful."

The regional office here in Waynesville is distributing the maps to key travel agencies in the U. S., to rangers on the Blue Ridge Parkway, the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, the National Forests and to individuals who write in requesting information on the WNC mountains.

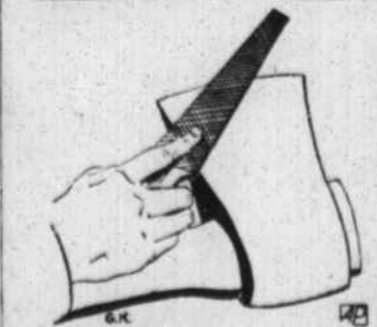

In addition, Highlander members in the various counties and the Chambers of Commerce are also serving as distribution points.

The vacation map, which is believed to be the outstanding one of its kind in the state issued by a regional tourist group, is "in great demand," according to Mrs. Doyle D. Alley, secretary of the Highlanders.
