Jury Being Picked To Hear Trial Of Parks For Murder

The second murder case of the year began this afternoon, as Thad D. Bryson, Jr., attorney for Parks, Iron Duff farmer, charged with the death of Leatherwood last December. The term of criminal court opened here Monday morning at 10 o'clock. On the first day 173 cases were cleared from the dockets. Many of them were traffic cases. Bryson would make no statement as to when he expected the case to go to the jury. Parks, with Ernest Foreman, planned to come to court shortly after noon and present their report to the jury. The body had just one bill to work on at eleven o'clock and felt they would finish shortly after the lunch hour. B. Murray, officer of the grand jury, said: "I have been grand jury, and served as grand jury off and on for fifty years, and this was the heaviest load of work I've ever had."

B-T-T-T-T-T . . . It's Practically Chilly Here(?)

Frankly, we'll have to admit that the weather here has been slightly on the warm side these past few days. However, compared to much of the rest of the country, Waynesville's temperature has been practically chilly.

For instance, the capital city of Raleigh sweltered in the heat of 101 degrees yesterday, while the metropolis of the Carolinas, Charlotte, did even better with 102.

Hottest spot in the Tar Heel State was Reidsville, near the Virginia state line, with a blistering 108 degrees.

Temperatures in other major U. S. cities were:

Louisville, 105; Cincinnati, 103; New York, 99; Philadelphia, 101; Chicago, 95; Dallas, 102; Knoxville, 101; Kansas City, 111, and St. Louis, 115. Highest in the nation was Fort Scott, Kansas, with a scorching 120.

By comparison, Waynesville's highest temperature has been 90 for the past two 24-hour periods. The minimum recorded at night in the early morning, has also been considerably below the nation's average. The lowest figure recorded in Kansas City yesterday was 90 at night. The low figure for the past three days has been 62, 57 and 66.

This area has also had more rain recently than many sections of the county.

Youth Center To Be Erected At Junaluska

The Paul B. Kern Youth Center is the current project in the extended program of the Lake Junaluska Assembly. It has been announced by program director Dr. George L. Clary, and is attracting wide interest and gifts.

The new youth center, according to Superintendent J. W. Fowler, has been one of the most worthwhile enterprises of the assembly for several years and in naming the center for the late Bishop Kern, who was noted for his interest in young life, it will not only honor one of the great religious statesmen of present time, but will make available a building which will serve every phase of youth life.

The proposed building will be located at the west end of the lake and will house a fellowship hall, recreation, conference and study rooms and other facilities for young people. The Kern Memorial is part of the emphasis on youth which the Board of Trustees decided should be featured for the ensuing two years, according to Superintendent Fowler.

The initial step in the youth emphasis was the new swimming pool, in operation for the first time this season. The assembly management, Dr. Fowler, is gratified at the first report from the State Board of Health indicating that the bacterial count is zero. The 125 by 100 foot pool is in constant demand and is open to persons from Haywood county upon payment of grounds fee. Swimming and life saving classes also are conducted under the direction of Frank Moore Dorsey, director of youth activities.

Reservations For Farm Tour Still Lagging, Franklin Says

Reservations for Haywood County's 12th annual farm tour are still coming in slowly, and unless 85 are received by noon Saturday, the tour may be cancelled, County Agent Wayne L. Franklin said today.

The minimum possible for the tour through Georgia and Florida is two bus loads of people, the county agent said.

The majority of persons on last year's tour named Georgia and Florida as their first choice for this year's journey, Mr. Franklin explained.

YOUNG PEOPLE are enjoying the facilities of the Youth Community Center on East Street. These facilities include miniature golf, shown above, ping pong, shuffle board, and table games.

The center is opened at night, and young people are invited to enjoy the center, which is free. Other details and pictures on page one of section two. (Mountaineer Photo).

About 300 Rotarians from an area from Charlotte west, and upper South Carolina, will attend the two-day conference.

William S. Ray, president of the local club, has announced that special committees for the conference will begin work at once on entertainment features for the conference.

Enslay, his brother, Lewis, 33, and James Jarrett, 29, luckily escaped only with minor injuries — mostly bruises, cuts, and abrasions.

Patrolman Wooten estimated Enslay's speed at between 65 and 70 miles an hour. The vehicle traveled approximately 500 feet from the time it first went off the pavement at the entrance of Clyde, the patrolman added.

The officer added that the charge of destroying private property is the first he has ever placed against a driver. He was assisted in the investigation by State Patrolman V. E. Bryson and Chief C. F. Lanning of Clyde.

Enslay will have a hearing before police court judge Larry Cagle at Clyde at 2 p.m. Saturday. He was released from jail on a $300 bond.

Enslay's car was virtually demolished in the wreck.

Louisiana Woman Hurt Slightly In Wreck

Mrs. Evella F. Carr of Slidell, La., received minor knee injuries yesterday about 11:30 a.m. when a car she was operating east on U. S. 19 between Dellwood and Lake Junaluska rammed into the rear of a car operated by Miss Elizabeth J. McDaniel of Waynesville.

State Highway Patrolman H. Dayton reported that Mrs. Carr was charged with exceeding the safe speed limit and Jack McDaniel, father of Miss McDaniel, was charged with permitting an unlicensed person to operate a motor vehicle.

One hundred fifty portable stables will be brought in for the show.

C. C. League, president, said that 100 boxes around the ring would be erected, and these are being offered those with life memberships in the show. Life members have until August first to take the ringside box seats. About one-fourth of them were taken the first day they were available, League said.

Holace Sutton Acquitted Of Murder Charge By Jury In Verdict Rendered At 2:15

Four Charges Made Against Clyde Driver

Four separate charges have been placed by the State Highway Patrol against Jimmy Enslay, 23, of Clyde, who wrecked his 1949 Ford at the western entrance to the town of Clyde at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday.

The youth has been charged with driving drunk, speeding, reckless driving, and destroying private property.

State Patrolman W. R. Wooten said that Enslay's car, heading west, ran off the pavement on the left, swerved back across the highway, bowled over six boxwood trees in the yard of Mrs. Neal after it came to rest in the yard of Carr, turned over twice and finished Thomas M. Bonner.

Enslay, his brother, Lewis, 33, and James Jarrett, 29, luckily escaped only with minor injuries — mostly bruises, cuts, and abrasions.

Patrolman Wooten estimated Enslay's speed at between 65 and 70 miles an hour. The vehicle traveled approximately 500 feet from the time it first went off the pavement at the entrance of Clyde, the patrolman added.

The officer added that the charge of destroying private property is the first he has ever placed against a driver. He was assisted in the investigation by State Patrolman V. E. Bryson and Chief C. F. Lanning of Clyde.

Enslay will have a hearing before police court judge Larry Cagle at Clyde at 2 p.m. Saturday. He was released from jail on a $300 bond.

Enslay's car was virtually demolished in the wreck.

2 Dime Boards Will Seek $600 For Blood Bank

If someone were dying for lack of blood, would you refuse to give 10 cents so that he might go on living? We're certain that you wouldn't.

Although the question is only a hypothetical one now, it could become a reality if Waynesville's blood bank program fails. And that's just what will happen unless necessary funds are obtained.

Although blood is the main ingredient in the blood bank program, money is also essential to its operation—and that's what is needed right now.

In an effort to obtain the $600 necessary to continue the program, the Red Cross Gray Ladies will operate dime boards in Waynesville and Hazelwood.

Unless the goal is attained, the blood bank program here may be discontinued.

Among recent blood donors here have been a number of the community's young people, including: Faye Buchanan, Doris Moore, Mrs. Aileen Wyatt, Bill Wyatt, Edwin Grasty, Ann Coman Crawford, Patsy Blalock, Linda Sloan, Jack Grasty, Norma Jean Brackett, Jack Kelly, Roy Callahan, Ernest Imman, Carl Presnell, Rose Womack, Julia Ann Stovall, Sally Stovall, Carolyn Bischoff, Robert Jeter, Mary Osborne, Jimmy Galloway, Sam Wiggins, Carolyn Sayer, Margaret Noland, Joe Hipps, George Dewey Stovall, Carl Mundy, Jr., Dan Watkins, Jr., Don Matney, and Charles Womack.

Churchwomen Ask U. S. Continue Support Of U.N.

Methodist women from nine Southern states pledged support of United Nations as the world's best hope for universal peace at an open meeting of a South-wide Schools of Missions in session here, July 6-14.

The paper in the form of recommendations was presented Monday night by Mrs. D. L. Fouts of Plymouth (N.C.), chairman of the Workshop on Methodist Women and the United Nations. It was presented for vote of the body by Southeastern Jurisdictional President, Mrs. E. U. Robinson, of Galatin, Tenn., and unanimously adopted.

The recommendation stated:

The members of the Southeastern Jurisdictional School of Missions, the Woman's Society of Christian Service of The Methodist Church, with representatives from nine Southeastern states, in session at Lake Junaluska July 12, 1954, record their unalterable faith in the United Nations as government's best channel for building peace in the world. We are convinced that the United States under God is obligated to lend its full support to the United Nations through increasing its resources and strengthening its channels for building peace.
