

Betty Lou Windham Weds James Dale Galloway

The Duke Memorial Methodist Church was the setting at 7:30 p.m. Saturday evening for the wedding of Miss Betty Lou Windham of Durham and James Dale Galloway of Waynesville. The Rev. Edgar B. Fisher performed the double-ring vows in a setting of Kentia palms, emerald ferns, and wrought iron standards of white flowers interspersed with white candles in candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Bright Windham of Durham and Mr. Galloway is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark L. Galloway of Waynesville.

Preceding the ceremony a program of music was presented by Mrs. Bert Cunningham, organist, and Leroy McLeod, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white embroidered organza fashioned with fitted bodice, scoop neckline, and short puffed sleeves. The full skirt of unpressed pleats was worn over hoops. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was attached to a matching cap of embossed organza. She carried a cascade bouquet of white bride's roses, baby's breath and gardenias centered with a white orchid.

Miss Eleanor Cowan attended the bride as maid of honor. Her ballerina-length gown of pink eyelet embroidery over pink taffeta was styled with scalloped neckline, short scalloped sleeves and bouffant skirt. She wore a pink velvet headress and carried a bouquet of summer flowers tied with pink satin ribbons.

Bridesmaids were Miss Helen Poe Dunn of Lexington, Va., and Miss Ruth Davis of Leaksville, cousin of the bridegroom. Their gowns of blue eyelet embroidery over blue taffeta were fashioned like that of the honor attendant. They wore blue velvet headresses and carried bouquets of summer flowers tied with blue ribbons.

Honorary attendants were Miss Shirley Windham and Miss Peggy Durham of Greensboro, cousins of the bride. Their flowers were white carnations of white carnations.

Mark L. Galloway was best man and usher were Torrance Hamner of Asheville, A. B. Windham Jr. of Durham, brother of the bride, and Joe Griffin of Monroe.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Windham wore a navy cotton lace dress, with accessories and corsage of pink Betadell roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a rose-holed dress, matching accessories and corsage of white Starlight roses.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained.

Family Problems Discussed At Club Picnic

Understanding family problems and learning to live together happily as a family group are the greatest problems facing families today, according to Mrs. Corinne Grimsley, family life specialist of the N. C. Agriculture Extension Service.

Mrs. Grimsley spoke at the annual family picnic of the Waynesville Homemakers Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Howard Bryson. She used a flannel graph to show the family cycle.

Mrs. Bryson, president, conducted the devotions and a short business session at which time announcements were made concerning the flower show to be sponsored by the Richland Garden Club on August 18 and the Craftsmen's Fair, now in progress in Asheville.

Plans were made for a metal tray workshop in August at the home of Mrs. Joe Cathey.

ed at a reception in the church parlor, which was decorated with mixed summer flowers. Assisting in entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Forrester and Mrs. Rex S. Cowan of Durham, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Durham of Greensboro, Mrs. Gudger Palmer of Canton, Mrs. B. C. Nave of Waynesville, Mrs. Lednum Amick, Miss Peggy Oakes and Mrs. B. B. Oakes of Burlington.

After a wedding trip the couple will reside in Waynesville. For traveling the bride wore a beige linen suit, white accessories and white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Galloway is a graduate of Durham High School and attended High Point College. The bridegroom is a graduate of Waynesville High School and Duke University where he was a member of Pi Kappa Sigma fraternity. He is now employed at the Haywood Builders Supply Co.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Mark Galloway, Mrs. B. C. Nave, aunt of the bridegroom, of Waynesville, Mr. and Mrs. Gudger Palmer and daughter of Canton; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Davis of Richmond, Va.; and Mr. and Mrs. Moody Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis of Leaksville.

Wedding Reports Lack Many Details Of Years Ago

The following report, recently reprinted in The Townsend (Mont.) Star, shows that styles in newspaper stories change as much as styles in clothes. The bride of today reading this account of a wedding 52 years ago might feel that her own wedding is not given proper coverage.

"Townsend society people have been interested during the past week in an unusual manner, and it all came about because two souls refused to tread the lonely paths of singleness.

"For many moons multiplied speculation has been indulged in as to the time when nature would conquer circumstances, and the two hearts so well calculated to tread life's highway hand in hand would break the strong chain of single solitude, and adorn that higher and holier estate known to mankind as connubial bliss.

"It was not until madam rumor had ceased her gossip, and the over-anxious meddler had learned the lesson that patient waiting is a virtue of incalculable worth that W. J. Hayes of Helena, and Miss Regena Murray of Townsend announced to their most intimate friends their intention to wed.

"Mr. Hayes arrived in Townsend on Tuesday evening and during Wednesday assisted by his friends his part of the arrangement was completed. In the meantime the Murray residence was undergoing preparations for the event which to the bride at least, was of incalculable interest.

"The bride is a beautiful and accomplished young lady, the daughter of Mrs. John Murray. She was born on Indian reek having resided in the vicinity of Townsend during her whole life. She has occupied a position as clerk in Berg Bros. Co., store for several years and has surrounded herself with a legion of friends. No young lady of our acquaintance is worthy of higher praise for true womanly character than was Miss Murray.

"Whatever of clouds and shadow overhazes the pathway of this young and happy couple, we trust will ever be speedily dispelled by the pure silvery harbinger of peace and joy and may their journey through the changing vale of time be ever blessed with joy and plenty is the earnest wish of the Star."

Mrs. Noland Tells History Of Haywood

What do you know about Haywood County? This question was asked by Mrs. Reeves Noland, citizenship leader of the Ratcliffe Cove Home Demonstration Club, in making her report at a meeting of the club Monday night in the home of Mrs. Hugh Ratcliffe.

Mrs. Noland's report brought out facts concerning the county, including the date it was formed, for whom it was named, and the number of townships included.

Other project leaders' reports were given on Clothing by Mrs. Dale Medford, and Health by Mrs. Ward Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. Mark Galloway, community service chairman, announced plans for the visit of the Upper Crabtree community to Ratcliffe Cove on Tuesday, August 3.

Mrs. James Medford presided and appointed the following committee for the August picnic to be held at the home of Mrs. Ratcliffe: Mrs. Bill Limer, Mrs. Hugh Ratcliffe, Mrs. Algie Ratcliffe, and Mrs. James Messer. A copper workshop will feature the meeting. The demonstration on "The Well-Groomed Lady" was presented by Miss Mary Cornwell after which wedding pictures of the members were shown to illustrate the change of styles throughout the years.

Mrs. Carl Jones directed the recreational program and Mrs. Sam Limer conducted the devotions.

The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Wade Leopold.
