will preach the closing sermons on Sunday, August 15.

Dr. Bullock's daily Bible Hour will be held at 10 a.m. in Memorial Chapel.

In addition to Dr. Daugherty, other staff members of the Nashville Board of Evangelism who will assist in the 8:45 to 10 a.m. daily workshop for district and conference secretaries of evangelism include Dr. Harry Williams, Dr. George H. Jones, the Rev. Eugene L. Golay, the Rev. Howard W. Ellis and the Rev. Thomas Carruth.

The Rev. Mr. Emurian's workshop in congregational singing will meet each afternoon from 4 to 5:30 o'clock.

The public is invited to the Camp Meeting services, it was announced by the Rev. J. W. Fowler, Jr., assembly superintendent, and Dr. George E. Clary, Sr., program director.

Sky Hook

CRANFORD, N. J. (AP)—A retired fire ladder truck has a new career as a painter's scaffold.

Chester Daugenti, painter boss says the 85-foot rig is ideal for repairing or painting steeples, flag poles, or any other job where a scaffold would be needed.

W. AKIN SMART

ONE OF THE SOUTH'S leading theologians, Dr. W. Akin Smart of Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., will be the guest platform speaker at 8 p.m. Friday at the Lake Junaluska Methodist Assembly.

"Finding God in the Bible" will be Dr. Smart's subject in his appearance at the lake in connection with the South-wide Leadership School for church workers.

One of the largest crowds of the season heard an address Tuesday night by the eminent Japanese churchman and evangelist, Dr. Toyohiko Kagawa. He is speaking throughout the United States prior to attending the Second Assembly of the World Council of Churches, August 15-31 in Evanston, Ill.

Horse Show

oilman from Longview, Texas, whose string of walking horses all bearing the family name of Skipper, such as Midnight Al Skipper, and others, bore evidence of his fondness for them, since he named them after his family, and his many winnings in championship circles justified his pride in them. He has judged at most of the greater shows in Tennessee, Florida, Texas and elsewhere in the Southern States. An interesting sidelight on his career is that he is well known in Texas also as a judge of hounds, and also of Western Horses, and has served as a judge in many rodeos, and western horse shows, and hound shows. Co-judging with him is J. T. Tanner, of Franklin, Tenn., who has judged walking horses at the great LeBonheur horse show in Memphis, at the Celebration in Shelbyville, Tenn., and at noted shows in all parts of America. With these two gentlemen will stand John Curley of Nashville, Tenn., who has exhibited walking horses in middle Tennessee for numerous years, and who enjoys a following for his impartial decisions wherever walking horses are shown.

From Blowing Rock and Pinehurst, the dean of hunter and jumper judges, Lloyd Tate, will make the decisions as to awards in these events. A native of Haywood County, Tate returns to the scene of his nativity in a field in which he has been active for more than 20 years. Both of his sons, and his daughter are lovers of horses, and have exhibited at horse shows since their infancy, under his tutelage.

To handle the microphones during the progress of the show, Read Wilson of WWNC, will serve as Master of Ceremonies, and horse show announcer. The president of the Haywood Horse Show Assn., C. C. League, will serve as ringmaster.

Cash prizes, and silver plates will be awarded with silk ribbons throughout the show.

ham, Ala.; Mrs. Lila Washington Campbell, John Barnette, principal of Slater-Marietta High School, and Miss Katherine Osborne of Clyde, and Grover C. Underwood of Kingsport.

A picnic lunch was served in the basement of the Clyde Baptist Church, and the invocation was given by the Rev. Grady Forrester, pastor of Startex Methodist Church. After lunch, the Rev. R. P. McCracken of Lake Junaluska, speaking in the auditorium, asserted that the influence of Haywood Institute and its Christian teachers had never died, but would go on living.

Former graduates and students stood and introduced themselves and specified the year they attended the school.

Mr. Campbell acted as master of ceremonies.

Cherokee Service To Be Conducted By Atlanta Pastor

Dr. Vernon S. Broyles, pastor of the North Avenue Presbyterian Church of Atlanta, Ga., will conduct the regular religious services in Mountside Theatre at Cherokee on Sunday at 4:30 p.m.

Dr. Broyles announced that the title of his message would be "Resources For The Living".

A native of Tennessee, Dr. Broyles is one of the outstanding ministers of the Presbyterian church in the South.

Special music for the services, fifth in a series of summer-long vesper services held as part of the Cherokee Historical Association's educational, cultural and religious program, will be furnished by the "Unto These Hills" choir, under the direction of Gilbert Pirovano. At the organ will be Temple Painter.

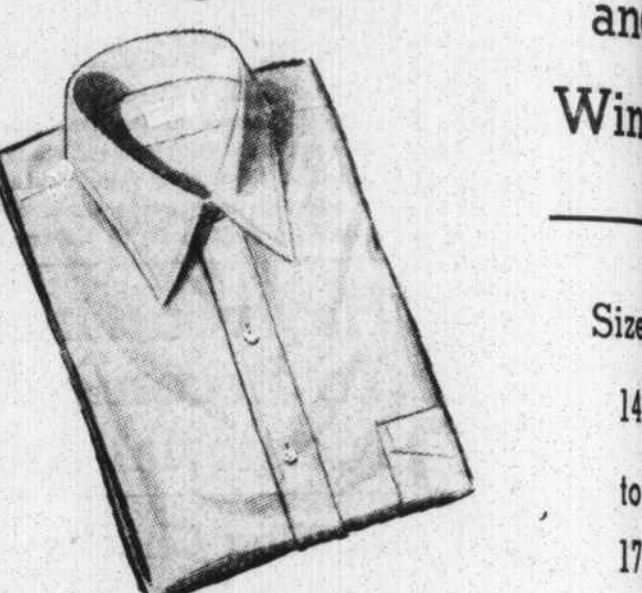

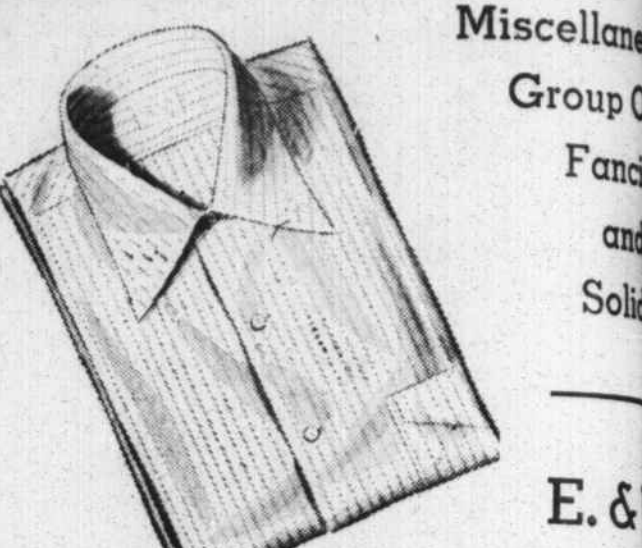

Dr. Broyles spent his boyhood days in Mobile, Ala., and attended Davidson College. Later he attended Union Theological Seminary at Richmond, Va.

He did post-graduate work at the University of Tübingen, Germany, spending a year abroad.

Later, he served in the Waddell Memorial Presbyterian Church at Rapidan, Va., then moved on to the Canton (Miss.) Presbyterian Church for seven years, going to the North Avenue Presbyterian Church in Atlanta in 1941.

In 1949 he was elected executive secretary of the Board of Church Extension of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.
