T. R. Shrine Popular
OYSTER BAY, N. Y. (AP) — Nearly 100,000 persons have visited Sagamore Hill, home of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, since President Eisenhower dedicated it as a national shrine June 14 last year. Callers have come from France, Germany, Egypt, Japan, Sweden, many South American countries and every one of the 48 states.

The home, filled with documents and trophies of "T. R.", has been restored by the Theodore Roosevelt Memorial Assn. It was the summer White House from 1901 to 1909.

New Traffic Hazard
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Charles W. Hart, 55, came up with this excuse in traffic court: "A girl leaned out of a car I was passing and squirted water in my face with a water pistol. I was blinded and did not see the car ahead of me stop."
The judge cleared him of a charge of following too close.

What's Cooking Labor Day Weekend?

FOR TEEN-AGE APPETITES—Frankfurters stuffed with cheese-flavored mashed potatoes.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

THEY MAY SAIL, they may swim, or they may play tennis. But whatever is on the sports agenda, you can be sure that when suppertime comes around they'll be interested in food. Yes, we're talking about teen-agers. So if you are likely to have a group of youngsters at your house during the Labor Day weekend, you might like to try a menu that we have found meets with applause from lusty appetites.

I've noticed that my teen-age nephew and his friends are addicted to the same main course at their get-togethers: hamburgers or frankfurters. When I complained of the monotony of this fare, my nephew replied that since food was my profession, he would let me make some small variation on the same theme! His mother and I took him at his word and served these spud-stuffed frankfurters with his and his pals' full approval.

To go with the franks, be sure to have a pot of hot-dog relish and one of prepared mustard. A big bowl of sauerkraut is also a must; sprinkle it with finely grated carrot and garnish it with sprigs of water cress or parsley. Frankfurter rolls, split and buttered before heating, will also be relished. Since these franks are knife-and-fork food, have paper plates on hand.

For dessert the youngsters will like Checkerboard Cupcakes, and we are giving you directions for putting them together.

A big ice-bucket full of cola drinks, for the cold beverage, will please everyone — and seem lavishly hospitable.

You might have some cans of popcorn on hand for the youngsters to prepare and munch during the evening. I find they also welcome bite-size shredded wheat or rice biscuits that have been toasted in butter or margarine and lightly sprinkled with salt. Use a large iron skillet for the toasting on top of the range; you can put about half a box of the cereal in at one time. Use low to moderate heat and stir often during the three minutes or so necessary for the toasting. A quarter cup of butter or margarine will be just right for three cups (about half a box) of the cereal.

SPUD-STUFFED FRANKFURTERS

Ingredients: 8 frankfurters, 3 medium-sized (about 1 pound) potatoes, 1/4 cup hot milk, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese (packed down), paprika.

Method: Split frankfurters lengthwise, but do not cut entirely through. Cook peeled potatoes in boiling water until very soft; put through ricer. Beat in hot milk, butter, salt and cheese. Using about 1/4 cup for each, stuff mashed potatoes into frankfurters. Run the tines of a fork over potatoes; Sprinkle with paprika. Broil about 6 inches from high heat until hot through and potatoes are lightly browned; watch carefully because this may take only 5 minutes or so. Serve at once. Frankfurters may be stuffed ahead of time and refrigerated; broiling time will be about the same.

CHECKERBOARD CUPCAKES
Ingredients: 9 chocolate or gingerbread cupcakes, 9 white cupcakes, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, 2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate (melted over hot water), 4 tablespoons (about) undiluted evaporated milk.

Method: Put cupcakes on a large board and cut each in half. Cream butter and sugar; beat in melted chocolate and enough evaporated milk to make good spread. consistency. (Makes about 1 cup.) Join one half of a chocolate cupcake together with about half a tablespoon of the frosting. Now halve the cupcakes again, cutting across the colors so that each half is part white and part chocolate. Join cupcake halves with more frosting so the white and chocolate quarters alternate.
