

LABOR DAY 1954

While the world struggles to heal the wounds of a terrible war . . . American Labor, strong and free, provides the weapons of peace. FOOD, SHELTER, and the TOOLS of reconstruction. From the solid foundation of American "know-how" and technical training, sturdy, capable hands are forging the means whereby human dignity can be regained and maintained. From the mines, the blast furnaces, the humming industrial plants of this nation come the men whose ability we respect . . . whose work we live by . . . the men of LABOR. Proudly we hail the m on this, their day of celebration.
