BOB CONWAY
Hatfields and the McHalls of Kentucky finally renew their once-bitter feud, like the Mountaineers and Black Bears will go on over.

THE BIG TEST of the season for the undefeated Waynesville Mountaineers will come tomorrow night against these powerful Canton Black Bears, who defeated the previously unconquered Brevard Blue Devils last week at Brevard. With the exception of Neal Cody, who was absent when this picture was taken, this is the starting offensive eleven for Canton. Kneeling left to right are

Clyde Goes To Sylva; Bethel Host To Candler

Although the Canton-Waynesville clash takes the county spotlight this weekend, both the Clyde Cardinals and Bethel Demons will be active.

Clyde, 0-27 loser to powerful Marshall last week, will again take the road Friday for a tilt with the Sylva Golden Hurricanes on Jackson County soil. On Saturday night, Bethel will play host in the Canton stadium to the Candler Bobcats.

Because of the fact that Sylva has already lost to two other Haywood County teams (25-6 to Waynesville and 21-13 to Bethel), Sylva is apt to be in a mood for revenge when the Cardinals come to town.

Although the Clyde team is still looking for its first win of the season, the Maroon and Gold led Candler at the half of their game recently and held the powerful Marshall offense to only one touchdown in the second half of their contest last week.

With a 2-2 record, the Blue Demons will be trying to get in the black Saturday night against the Bobcats and appear to have an edge on the boys from Buncombe.

Although the Pigeon pigskinners lost to both Canton and Waynesville, they gave fans of those schools anxious moments before the issue was finally decided.

Brotherly Skill

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—Both the professional and amateur records for the Charleston Country Club are shared by two sets of brothers.

Henry and George Picard set the record for the pros with scores of 62. Frank and Drayton Ford, Charleston amateurs, each has netted a ribbon winning 65.

By BOB CONWAY
Mountaineer Staff Writer

When a boy in Waynesville puts on a set of pads, gold and black jersey, pants, and helmet he becomes not merely a football player, but also a Mountaineer.

As the result of being a Mountaineer, he is expected by the fans not only to play a hard, fast, and clean game of football, but also to come up with some minor miracles from time to time.

Although it has not been easy to live up to such standards, wearers of the Gold and Black throughout the years have established a tradition that Waynesville football teams are always powerful — if not actually of championship caliber.

Other schools don't have to wait to see "if Waynesville has anything this year." They know, by past experience, that the Mountaineers will provide anyone rugged competition for four full quarters.

The 1954 Mountaineers have already exhibited the traditional determination to win instilled in his teams by Coach Weatherby for 25 years and may go on this season to become one of his best aggregations.

When they come out on the field at Canton Friday night, here's hoping that the intangible but important something called "Mountaineer spirit" will carry Waynesville to victory.

Last Year's Games

Last year the Mountaineers invaded Canton Memorial Stadium on October 2 as distinct underdogs although they were still undefeated in games with Sylva and Bethel. However, the Black Bears, led by "Chuckin' Charlie" Carpenter, had defeated Lee Edwards and massacred Brevard, so it looked like a long night was in store for the Mountaineers.

But the Gold and Black proved to be an inspired team that night — and were on the Canton two-yard line when the game ended in a scoreless tie. Although the Black Bears picked up 11 first downs to 6 for Waynesville, the Mountaineers gained more yardage both on the ground and in the air. In the second game on Thanksgiving, J. W. Stevens' end run gave WTHS a 7-0 victory.

Hospitable Cantonians

Because of the keen rivalry between Canton and Waynesville, a Mountaineer sports writer sometimes feels a trifle uneasy when he invades the bruins' den as we did Tuesday afternoon. However, the reception we received from Coach Boyd Allen and Principal W. L. Rikard could hardly have been more cordial if we hailed from the Paper City.

All of which indicates that there's no reason at all why relations between the two Haywood schools can't be friendly and without bitterness despite the strong yen to defeat the other in sports.

Adjectives Exhausted

The trouble with the Waynesville band is that they keep us looking in the dictionary for new adjectives to describe the excellence of their halftime performances at football games.

However, on checking Webster's we find that we have worn out terms as colossal, terrific, outstanding, superb, unsurpassed, memorable, impressive, and without parallel.

So there's nothing left to do but borrow a few words from overseas. For instance, there's tres bon, magnifique, sehr schon, wunderbar, bravissimo and ole (as in "Hernando's Hideaway").

If you prefer English, however, we'll just say that last week's "Home on the Range" or "Wide Open Spaces" routine by the Waynesville cowgirl-majorettes was about the cleverest we have ever seen on a football field — and that includes college games.
