Shirred Eggs Are Easy Breakfast

EASY BREAKFAST — eggs baked with the new fully-cooked pork sausage links.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

HENS ARE WROKING overtime — with benefit to you. Because there are plenty of eggs around at attractive prices you may want to try some of those angelfood and "gold" cakes, fancy cookies, fruit whips, meringue desserts, rich custards, French sauces and souffles that are dependent on whole eggs, yolks, or whites and that belong in a fine cook's repertoire. Eggs' superlative protein will stand your family in good stead at breakfast and in main dishes for lunch or supper.

If you haven't yet discovered the virtues of shirred (baked) eggs, you are missing something. This method of preparation has endeared itself to us for years because it is easy and foolproof. Shirred eggs not only taste delicious but they look so attractive and companyish, and there are endless variations on their main theme.

Our teen-age nephew thinks shirred eggs with sausages are tops for Sunday brunch. We make life easy for ourselves and use the new fully cooked pork sausage links now available all over the country. These sausages are particularly fine to use with eggs because they have no drippings or shrinkage to speak of and boast wonderful flavor. It takes us only a few seconds to put the eggs and sausage into the oven; then we forget about them until the timer on our range rings. In the meantime we are free to set the table, squeeze fresh oranges for juice, put out ready-to-eat cereal and perhaps sliced bananas, pour milk, make coffee and get bread, butter and jam ready for toast.

We use individual heat-resistant glass pie dishes that are 6 inches across the top (outside dimensions) and about an inch deep for most of our varieties of shirred eggs. If you acquire some of these inexpensive little dishes, we believe you will find them as useful as we do. Shirred-egg dishes are also available in copper, enameled ironware and pottery.

SAUSAGE AND SHIRRED EGGS

Ingredients: Butter or margarine, eggs, heavy cream, fully cooked pork sausage links, salt and pepper.

Method: Butter 6-inch heat-resistant glass individual pie dishes or other shallow individual baking dishes. Break 1 or 2 eggs into each dish so that yolks are whole. Pour 1 tablespoon cream over egg in each dish. Arrange 2 or 3 sausage links in each dish over whites. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven 15 to 20 minutes or until eggs are set; sausage links will be heated through in this time. Sprinkle with salt and pass pepper mill. Serve at once.

Here are other enjoyable ways of serving shirred eggs.

Spoon cheese sauce into shallow individual baking dishes. Break 1 or 2 eggs over the sauce in each dish. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven until eggs are firm—15 to 20 minutes. Sprinkle eggs with salt. Garnish each dish with a sprig of water cress pulled through a thin carrot ring, if desired. Serve with thin crisp triangles of buttered toast for lunch or supper.

Butter shallow individual baking dishes. Pour a tablespoon of heavy cream into each dish; arrange 14 cup thin strips of ready-prepared fully cooked smoked tongue over cream. Break 1 or 2 eggs over the tongue in each dish. Sprinkle eggs with grated Parmesan cheese and paprika. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven until eggs are set—15 to 20 minutes. Garnish each dish with a sprig of parsley; serve at once with a tossed green salad and crusty hot French bread for lunch or supper.

Spoon tomato sauce into shallow individual baking dishes. Break 1 or 2 eggs over sauce in each dish. Sprinkle eggs with grated cheddar cheese. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven until eggs are set—15 to 20 minutes. Put a spoonful of hot drained cooked green peas at the side of eggs; serve at once for lunch or supper.

Between 1909 and today, U. S. per capita consumption of eggs increased 40 percent, green vegetables 60 per cent, citrus fruit and tomatoes 80 per cent.

A GLASS-TOP cocktail table is easy to fashion. Gordon Obrig, industrial designer, suggests doing it this way. Cut a disk, 36 inches in diameter from a panel of plywood 3/4-inch thick. Use 1-1/4-inch dowels 18 inches long for legs. Notch two pieces of plywood 18 by 8 inches to support a circle of heavy plate glass, 19 inches in diameter. Bevel and polish the edges of the glass. Sand and dust all wood parts. Finish with white shellac cut half-and-half with denatured alcohol. Polish with steel wool and a good paste

Worthless Loot

WESTON, Conn. (AP)—A policeman became suspicious when he saw two men struggling along the highway with six heavy bags at 2 a.m. The bags, an inspection disclosed, were filled with crushed stone. Fifteen more bags of stone were found later in the home of the two men, a father and his son. Police charged the stone was stolen from a state highway department road pile, but offered no explanation as to why the two men had gone to the trouble of stealing it.

End Of An Era

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The horse and buggy days in Pittsburgh have ended—officially.

Just before Labor Day city officials decreed the last remaining horse watering trough in the midtown section be dismantled. The decision came nearly nine months after the city's mounted police mounted an economy measure.

Officials said since horses have gone to the expense of keeping a trough in operation.
