Guidance for Family Living
FATHER EXHORTS HIS SON TO KEEP THE LAWS OF LIFE WHICH HAVE SERVED HIM WELL

Scripture—Proverbs 4; 6:20—7:27; 17:1; 19:13-15; 31:10-31.
NEWMAN CAMPBELL
WHAT ARE the rules of life, if we diligently, will lead us to the most of our lives?
How we need not be rich in goods to be happy. We can be poor in this world's rich in love and happiness.
The wise man of old,
how his conduct was
by his father, King David, should be helpful to us.
We have been shocked in re-cents to read or know the vicious behavior of groups of children. Accord-to accounts, many of these children did not come from the Some were children of who lived in comfortable and were considered good citizens.
Some were from broken homes, the father, perhaps, had his family or his actions caused the mother to separate him or divorce him.
Married people may not be together, but, surely, when are children to consider love for them and the love that they need both from their parents, should make the parents enough to try, and keep ing, to make adjustments in the home may be maintained.

MEMORY VERSE
My son, keep thy father's commandment, and forsake not the law of thy mother.—Proverbs 6:20.

My son, keep thy father's commandment, and forsake not the law of thy mother: Bind them always upon thine heart, and about thy neck. When thou arise, it shall lead thee: when thou sleepest, it shall keep and when thou wakest, it shall speak with thee.
Who are fortunate enough to come from happy homes, parents who were upright and fearing and loved each other, know how the admonitions of parents follow us through life. We remember even their sayings with happy recollection and affection.
Not only their sayings, but their actions have made a deep impression on our minds when we were very young, and they will follow through the years, just as David's counsel was so remembered that his son was down for the world to come. He and his father and mother must have been very close together. Such a tie reminds us of our Father who is closer to us than a living father.
The principal thing:
to get wisdom; and with it to get understanding.
Reading in last week's lesson and its understanding, keep the man true to his family as well as to his family, may be tempted, but will not be led to the evil.
There is a dry morsel, and unprofitable outness produced by the Division of Christian Education, Department of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., and used by permission.

A Little Bit of Heaven

Look into her eyes. I see a little bit of Heaven there.
I see faith, pure and shining.
Look into her eyes. I see the peace our world longs for. I see joy and happiness.
I see God's hand upon her.
Look into her eyes. I see love and trust and hope. I see a child of God.
O little child, I look into those eyes, and I hear our Lord say: "Unless you become as little children you shall not enter into the Kingdom of God." Let us go to Church this Sunday. Let us pray for child-like faith. Let us bring a little bit of Heaven to our world.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship.
It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
