Tedder-Bishop Marriage Is Announced

Miss Geraldine Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Bishop of Clyde, was married to William Talmadge Tedder, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Tedder of Winston-Salem, on Saturday, October

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Vernon Daeturyler in his home in Winston-Salem with a small group of relatives and close friends present.

The bride wore a princess style dress of white faille with navy accessories and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid showered with satin streamers.

Miss Lucille Bishop was her sister's only attendant. She wore a dress of aqua silk shantung with brown accessories and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Ray Granger, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man Mrs. Tedder is a graduate of the Crabtree-Iron Duff High School and is now employed by Swift and Company in Winston-Salem. Mr. Tedder, who attended Walkertown High School, was recently discharged from the Marine Corps. He is employed by Bassick Sack

The couple will reside in Winston-Salem.

New Thriller Is Sequel To Treasure Island

The famous producer - writer team of Aubry Wisberg and Jack Pollexfen have taken an interesting conjecture and developed it into an exciting, suspense-packed color film. They have created a modern continuation of the famous Robert Louis Stevenson story. "Treasure Island," and have shown dramatically and vividly what happens when one of Jim Hawkins' direct descendents (in possession of valuable maps and charts) is beset upon by a group of scheming cut-throats.

FAGE FIVE

The picture, "Return to Treasure Island," opens Wedpesday at the Strand Theatre, Dawn Addams, the alluring "bath tub girl" of "The Moon Is Blue," is starred as Jim Hawkins' descendant, and Tab Hunter plays the role of a young archaeologist who helps her fight off the cut-throats, headed by Peter Hall

E. A. Dupont directed with a keen understanding of swashbuckling adventure films, and the Pathe-Color photography lends enchantment to the scenic beauty of the settings.
