Dorothy Bess Owen Weds Pinkney Leroy Stowe

Miss Dorothy Bess Owen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Owen of Route 2, Waynesville, and Pinkney Leroy Stowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McDowell Stowe, Sr. of Belmont, were married in a double ring ceremony at the Shady Grove Methodist Church, Sunday afternoon, December 19, at 3 o'clock.

The Rev. Dan P. Stowe of Atlanta, Ga., brother of the bridegroom, pronounced the vows.

The altar was decorated with evergreens and ferns interspersed with tall baskets of white gladioli and branched candelabra.

Prior to the ceremony a program of wedding music was presented by Miss Peggy McCracken of Waynesville, pianist, and Miss Sue Hall of Andrews, soloist. Miss Hall sang "O Promise Me" and "Because" and for the benediction she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white duchess satin designed with fitted basque waist designed with scalloped yoke of Chantilly lace and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. The bouffant skirt extended into a short train and her two-tiered veil of French illusion, which was attached to a lace cap trimmed with pearls, was edged with applique rose designs of lace matching the lace yoke. She carried a white Bible which belonged to her maternal great-great grandmother topped with an orchid and satin streamers.

Mrs. Robert G. Bridgman of Canton was her sister's matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a strapless, ballerina-length dress of coral rose net over taffeta with a matching taffeta and net cape. She carried a nosegay of gladioli.

James McDowell Stowe, Jr. of Belmont, served as best man for his brother and ushers were Jim Worley Owen of Asheville, brother of the bride, and John W. Hansil of Fayetteville.

Mrs. Owen, mother of the bride, wore navy velvet with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The mother of the bridegroom wore a gray suit with a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony the wedding party received in the vestibule of the church after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Florida. For traveling the bride wore a fur-trimmed suit of forest green wool with black accessories and the orchid from her Bible.

Refresher Course Is Planned For Practical Nurses

A 64-hour refresher course for licensed practical nurses will be given shortly after the first of the year, according to Mrs. Lura Davis, president of Division One of the North Carolina Licensed Practical Nurses Association.

The objectives of the course will be to extend the knowledge of experienced practical nurses in order to provide adequate and safe care of patients.

The course is set up and approved by the National Association for Practical Nurse Education and is sponsored by the N. C. Division of Vocational Education and the Superintendent of Public Schools.

Mrs. Davis urges that all licensed practical nurses take advantage of the course. Grades will be sent to the Board of Nurse Examiners. Enlarged at Raleigh and will become a part of the permanent record of persons completing the course.

The program is being set up over the state in order to bring licensed practical nurses who received their license under the waiver, in line with nurses graduating from the schools of practical nurses.

Those interested in taking the course are asked to call Mrs. Davis in the evening at GL 6-4994.

Turkey Left-Overs Can Be Attractive

Nearly everyone looks forward to Christmas dinner when he can enjoy the turkey with all the trimmings. However, few of us relish the idea of finishing up the bird once the big meal is over.

Is there anything you can do to make turkey left-overs more attractive? According to Virginia Wilson, State College nutritionist, there is. She says that there are a number of ways in which turkey left-overs can be used to add variety to your menu. Cook frozen broccoli for about one minute, drain and place in a baking dish. Cover with chopped turkey, cheese sauce and crumbs. Brown in a moderate oven for about ten minutes.

Another turkey dish that Miss Wilson suggests is made by cooking noodles or spaghetti in turkey broth. If you don't have broth, you can easily make it by cooking the turkey bones in water for about 20 to 25 minutes.

After cooking the noodles or spaghetti in the broth, place in a baking dish with chopped turkey
