

Jaycees

(Continued from Page 1)

torney. The winner in 1951 was Charles F. Isley, director of music at Waynesville Township High School, and in 1952, the Rev. James H. Coleman, former pastor of the Shady Grove Methodist Church.

In charge of arrangements for the DSA banquet is a committee composed of Andy Blanton, chairman; Raymond Caldwell, and Doug Worsham.

ed that the County Board of Education assume, to be paid out of the funds belonging to the Waynesville Township Special School Taxing District, the school indebtedness of the town of Waynesville of approximately $41,300.

Mr. Morgan introduced an extract from the minutes of the board of commissioners of August 22, 1933, which as he pointed out: "showed that the special school tax district existed and that special levies were made to that time, as the minutes read: ' - - it is ordered by the Board that the county attorney draw proceedings and necessary orders for the county to assume any and all debt service due by the Special School Tax Districts, and the same become a county-wide debt, and that the tax levy for such school indebtedness become county-wide.'"

It was brought out that the Town did not levy a tax for schools after 1923, and argued by Mr. Morgan: " - - that while the county treasurer paid for the bonds, ($41,300) it was from monies collected through the special levy of 50 cents and later reduced to 40 cents for the 10-year period after the county assumed control of the school."

These facts in the case remain undened:

In 1923 the county took over the school. The indebtedness at the time was $41,300.

In 1953 the General Assembly authorized the property be returned to the Town for recreation purposes and other public use, when the Haywood Board of Education finished with the building for school purposes. Provision was made in the 1953 act to name three trustees. These trustees — Jonathan Woody, Hugh Massie, and Mrs. Charles E. Ray — acting according to provisions of the law, signed a deed to the property assigning it to the Town of Waynesville.

No deed was ever made by the Town to the county in 1923. The Town has the new deed (1954), while the county remains in possession of the property, using it for a storage warehouse.

Last November the County Board of Education entered suit against the Town for title to the property. The case is now in court. The judge hearing the case wants this question answered from the records: "Whose money paid off the $41,300 indebtedness?"

It is a complicated, and highly technical case. The answer will be known probably in early fall, when the State Supreme Court gives their decision.

In the meantime, the county board of education will continue to use the building, and the town will cling tight to their deed to the property.

In the early 19th century, labor unions were classed as conspiracy by courts and were illegal.

Dentists running their own practices in the United States average net incomes of $7,820 a year and doctors $13,432 before taxes, says the Twentieth Century Fund.

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

at the corner of 42nd Street and Lexington Avenue, they are building another skyscraper. This one will be, by comparison to Mount Everest and the Empire State Building, a midget, being only 42 stories of stainless steel, with self-operating elevators. Passing by there, I asked Jerry Morelock, the Ohio-born construction supervisor, why New York has more skyscrapers than any other city, and he said it was because there is such a huge bed of solid rock underneath Manhattan, something that is necessary for the foundations of all tall buildings.

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

LAST OF NATIONALIST GARRISON IN FROM TACHENS

LAST OF THE NATIONALIST garrison from the Tachen Islands, these soldiers arrive at Keelung, Formosa, where a gala reception awaited them. Bands played and flowers were strewn by pretty girls as they marched in the streets. But the troops were not gay. They reflected the feelings of their commander, Lt. Gen. Liu Lien-yl, who said he felt "ashamed" as he left the islands. (International)

With all the new-fangled things in our schools nowadays, it is not surprising that this happened here the other day. It seems that in a local elementary school, they have not only teachers and principals, but psychologists who take the place of the old-fashioned paddles. These individuals are supposed to find out what is wrong with the student and try to correct it—or him scientifically—and to ascertain, if possible, the cause of said problem. So when a psychologist asked a certain 6-year-old who had been sent to him, what was the matter, he replied he had problems. Where, asked the psychologist. At home, was the reply. How many? Two, was the answer. "What are they?" finally asked the psychologist. "My parents," was the reply.

The current rise in the stock market and the effects it is having on people, one way or the other, remind me of what the late Grantland Rice honestly wrote. He said that if he had not lost his money in the crash of the 1929 market, he would have, in all probability because of the resulting ease from work, have ended up a sot.

At the corner of 42nd Street and Lexington Avenue, they are building another skyscraper. This one will be, by comparison to Mount Everest and the Empire State Building, a midget, being only 42 stories of stainless steel, with self-operating elevators. Passing by there, I asked Jerry Morelock, the Ohio-born construction supervisor, why New York has more skyscrapers than any other city, and he said it was because there is such a huge bed of solid rock underneath Manhattan, something that is necessary for the foundations of all tall buildings.

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

When Alben Barkley was here recently, he told of a Republican who thought he might get a state job for himself when Kentucky elected its first Republican governor in 1895. He mounted his faithful mule and rode miles to the state capitol, hung around there for months. Finally with money gone, he saddled his mule and started for home. On the edge of town he met a friend who asked him why he was in such a hurry to leave. "Hurry," exclaimed the man, "All my

DEATHS

J. E. KEPHART

J. E. Kephart, 79, died in his home in Canton at 4 p.m. Saturday after a long illness.

Funeral services were held today at 2:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church in Canton. The Rev. Horace L. Smith, the pastor, and the Rev. O. L. Ledford officiated. Burial was in Bon-A-Venture Cemetery.

Nephews were pallbearers. Members of the Berean Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church were flower bearers.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Edna Wilson Kephart; a son, Grady A. of Charlotte; three daughters, Mrs. Claude Swafford of Canton, the Misses Willie and Anna Kephart of the home; a brother, John, of Murphy; and two grandchildren.

Kephart was a son of the late Samuel Ray Kephart and Mary Ann Palmer Kephart of Cherokee County.

A retired merchant, he had lived in Canton the last 29 years, and was a member of the Marble Springs Baptist Church, at Marble, Cherokee County. Crawford Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

MRS. FRANCES PRICE

Mrs. Frances Palmer Price, 42, died Saturday at 6 p.m. following a brief illness.

Funeral services were held at the Liberty Baptist Church at 2 p.m. Sunday. The Rev. D. D. Russell and the Rev. B. C. Fugate officiated and burial was in Wesley Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Guy Hannah, Hugh White, Vinson Linnings, Horace Messer, and Jerry and Leonard McElroy.

Surviving are the husband, Glenn Price of Waynesville, Route 4; three sons, J. D., Willie and R. D. of the home; the mother, Mrs. William Palmer; four sisters, Mrs. Albert Price, Mrs. Lester Franklin, Mrs. Hugh Messer and Miss Selma Palmer; and two brothers, Frank and Wade Palmer, all of Waynesville, Route 4.

Crawford Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

AQUAMAIDS IN PERFECT FORM

BEAUTY AND SKILL are combined as these aquamaids splash water on Lake Eloise, Florida. Form was accentuated as they exhibited that is pictured above. (International)

Cold Gets The Birds

BOYNE CITY, Mich. (AP) — Caught in a surprise cold wave, two swans were frozen into the ice that formed on a mill pond in the Boyne River. While Police Chief Floyd Newville and Conservation Officer Ed Sartnell were preparing for rescue operations, nature took a hand.

The sun softened the ice sufficiently for one to break loose. Ten minutes later the other also clambered out. First thing they did when they got to shore was lie down and rest.

Columbus establishes Spanish colony on the New World in Panama in 1502.

A taxicab driver is lecturing at a class while in his occupation.

Signals Crossed

FT. MONMOUTH, N. J. (AP) — Foreign soldiers trained at this Signal Corps center under the Allied Military Training Program do all right learning the technical aspects of communications, but American speech and food just about floor them.

An Italian major put it this way:

"I studied school books. I learned that you say 'hello' when you greet a person in America. But I come here and everybody says 'hi' or 'how the hell are you.'"

And a Korean officer adds: "The rich American food just about knocked me out for the first few weeks. But now I like it."

Birds as well as planes take off against the wind.

CHARLES PENLAND

JULIAN PENLAND

FRANK PENLAND

THANKS...

ON THE OCCASION OF OUR

SECOND ANNIVERSARY

WE WISH TO TAKE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO EXPRESS OUR SINCERE APPRECIATION TO OUR MANY FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS WHOM WE HAVE SERVED DURING THE PAST TWO YEARS SINCE OPENING OUR FIRM IN WAYNESVILLE. WE BROUGHT TO WAYNESVILLE, FOR THE FIRST TIME, A COMPLETE COMMERCIAL REFRIGERATION SALES AND SERVICE FACILITY.

WE SERVE ALL OF WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA WITH COMMERCIAL REFRIGERATION PENLAND BROTHERS REFRIGERATION COMPANY

WALL STREET

DIAL GL

THE OLD HOME TOWN By STANLEY

BACK-ROAD FOLKS — AN IMPORTANT LOCAL FIRST — STANLEY

SALE

FEB. 23rd THROUGH 28th

HOME FREEZER & LOCKER HOLDERS

Eight Different Items of FROZEN VEGETABLES at 12 1/2c lb

12 Items of FROZEN VEGETABLES at 15c lb

Economy Size Family Package of SPINACH, TURNIP MUSTARD, KALE and COLLARD GREENS 18c lb

STRAWBERRIES 10 oz. 25c ea. 16 oz. 37c ea. PERCH FILLET 25c lb plus many other sea foods

ORANGE JUICE $1.40 Per Doz.

FREE — with every order of $5.00 or more we will give four colorful plastic SALAD BOWLS

LONESOME BEN SAYS, "I'm giving this food away folks. Sale starts at 8 a.m. Wednesday morning and lasts till 6 p.m. Saturday if there is anything left that long."

FARMERS FEDERATION FREEZER LOCKER Depot Street Phone GL 6-5361