

The Younger Set

By PEGGY REEVES and SUZANNE CURRY

At long last, we have the verdict! We know most of you have been wondering just who the Class of '35 would have in the honored positions of valedictorian and salutatorian. Last week each member of the Senior class was given his permanent record and allowed to average his grades. The averages were based on points: an "A" being 4.0, and "B" being 3.0. During the following week the class could challenge any one's average if they thought maybe it was incorrect. So now we are prepared to give you the results. On the very top with a 3.933 average is Ted Rogers, valedictorian. Next is Don Shaw, salutatorian.

election of the queen and her court will be sometime in March so start scoutin' around and find us some pretty girls. For the past two years we haven't been electing any attendants from the seventh and eighth grade girls but we decided to change it again so we could have a bigger choice of cute gals!

Legal Restraint

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Fred C. Ward got a Superior Court order restraining his first wife, Erma, from telling his second wife, Marie, about her marriage to Ward, wasn't complimentary, Ward said.

To celebrate George Washington's birthday, the DAR sponsored their annual declamation contest at W.T.H.S. The program was opened by the entire student body singing "America." "The Star Spangled Banner," and joining in the Pledge of Allegiance. Boys entering the contest were Terrell Teague giving "The Black Horse and Its Rider;" Joel Rothermel giving "American Independence;" T. L. Francis giving "My Country, My Mother, My God;" Gary Evans giving "American Way of Life;" and George Williamson giving "Call To Arms." The first place award went to George Williamson, second place to T. L. Francis and Joel Rothermel received honorable mention. All the boys deserve hearty congratulations for their fine speeches.

The Student Council held a meeting Tuesday morning right after chapel. The main discussion was the planning of the May Dance. A good many ideas were brought up which we think will bring May in with a "bang!" The WINTER SUPPER DISH—Sauerkraut, frankfurters, potatoes.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

EVER GET a craving for that old-fashioned combination—frankfurters, sauerkraut and potatoes? When we do, our food budget fully approves!

When we prepare this dish, we add a few tablespoons of dark brown sugar to the sauerkraut because we like the suspicion of sweetness it gives. Usually we put kraut, frankfurters and small potatoes into a large skillet; cover the pan tightly and let the flavors mingle gloriously until the spuds are cooked through. But the last few times we were in the mood for this supper dish, we tried baking it. This method met with the approval of our severest critics—our family. If you would like to try it on yours, the recipe follows:

Preface this main dish, if you like, with a thick peasant-style soup. For dessert we're likely to whip up an airy soufflé and put it in the oven when the sauerkraut, frankfurters and potatoes come out. If we choose to serve a vanilla soufflé, we accompany it with a fruit sauce. With a chocolate soufflé, we usually serve whipped cream.

SAUERKRAUT, FRANKFURTER AND POTATO CASSEROLE

Ingredients: One No. 2½ can (1 pound and 3 ounces) sauerkraut, 1 cup finely chopped onion, 2 tablespoons dark brown sugar, 4 to 8 frankfurters, 4 medium-size (about 1¼ pounds) potatoes, a tablespoon butter or margarine (melted), salt, paprika.

Method: Turn sauerkraut, without draining it, into a baking dish (about 11 by 7 by 2 inches is a good size). Toss with onion and brown sugar. Bury frankfurters in the kraut. Peel potatoes and cut in half lengthwise; arrange on top. Brush with butter and sprinkle with salt and paprika. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven, uncovered, for 20 to 30 minutes, or just until some of the top ends of the kraut brown a bit; tightly cover — with aluminum foil if desired—and bake until potatoes are cooked through — 20 to 30 minutes longer. Serve at once from baking dish. Makes 4 servings—1 to 2 frankfurters for each portion, depending on how many were used.

Note: If desired, you may use an apple corer to make a hole through each potato lengthwise; draw a frankfurter through each hole. Bake as directed above.

Democratic Chairman's Wife Does Own Cooking

By JANE EADS

NEW ORLEANS — Mrs. Paul Butler, wife of the new chairman of the Democratic National Committee keeps the family happy, her husband says, by "doing all her own cooking."

Friends of Mrs. Butler describe her as an attractive, girlish-looking mother of five, a model homemaker and as charming and aggressive a politician as her husband. "She chauffeured Butler some 50,000 miles last year on his campaigns for the party and is avidly interested in what's going on in the world of politics anywhere," said Mrs. Inez Scholl, national committeewoman from Indiana, who introduced Butler after his election here. Mrs. Scholl, defeated in her own campaign for Congress in November, is a long-time friend of the Butlers.

"They live in South Bend in a gorgeous house," went on Mrs. Scholl. "It's a modern two-story brick. Mrs. Butler has a flair for decorating. She carried her color schemes out to the 11th degree; even to the telephones. The girls' room is rose and so is the telephone."

Butler, slim, white-haired, 49-year-old lawyer who looks more like a teacher than a politician, married the former Anne S. Briscoe of West Hatfield, Mass., in 1934.

"The children," he told me, "are Maureen Anne, 19, a sophomore at St. Mary's College, Notre Dame; Paul, Jr., 18, a freshman at Notre

Music From The Grave

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—John DeMarcus was sent by the Knoxville Utilities Board to the New Grey cemetery to find a water leak. Placing his sensitive amplifier among the tombstones, he picked up not the gurgle of escaping water but music, music, music.

Ghostly hepcats? No, said DeMarcus, just a friek of radio reception. But he added: "I'll tell you this, if the front of one of those tombstones had lighted up with a television picture, I'd have been long gone."

The Savannah River project where the United States makes H-bombs has an electric power system about the size of that for the state of Delaware and a water supply system about the size of that for Philadelphia.

Dame, and Karen Anne, 16, a junior at St. Mary's Academy, South Bend."

Both the girls bear their mother's name, Anne—"spelled with an e"—he said.

"Then there's Kevin James, 15, a sophomore at Champion in Prairie du Chien, Wis., and Brian S., 13, in the eighth grade at St. Joseph's school. He's the one who wants to go to Washington."

Butler said he did not think the family would be moving there, though he expected to be at Democratic national headquarters as often as necessary.
