Mr. Holloway, Miss Jean Childers, assistant home agent, and Frank Davis, former county commissioner, pointed out that the need for adult leadership for 4-H clubs is critical and urged that the committee on this project work provide the necessary leadership throughout the county.

It was also requested that greater emphasis be placed on the development of farm boys and girls into good citizens for tomorrow.

In connection with this program, it was suggested that an annual banquet be held for 4-H Club and FFA members — with appropriate awards to outstanding boys and girls for effort, achievement, and leadership.

In the matter of diversified farming, encouragement will be given to raising of new crops to "take up the slack" from tobacco allotment cuts, poor growing seasons, and low prices.

If believed to be feasible, efforts will be made to establish new markets and processing plants for Haywood County farm products, such as:

1. Dressing and slaughter plants for poultry and livestock.
 2. Tobacco market, handling and grading schools.
 3. Truc crops, washing, grading and packing sheds.
 4. Apple crops, grading and packing.
 5. Farmer's curb market for small truck growers and gardeners.
 6. Others that may be suggested.
- The council also would (1) support the community canning program for utilizing farm produce for home use and to salvage surplus crops, and (2) work with the Industrial Development Council for developing farm products industries.

The aim of encouraging specialized farming would be achieved in the following ways:

1. Stage beef cattle show and sale.
2. Stage a junior dairy calf show.
3. Stage a Haywood County fair in early October.
4. Special display of other crops on special occasions, such as Apple Week.

A five-point program for developing stronger and better rural-urban relationships would include:

1. Campaign for better farm-to-market roads as well as new road location and construction.
2. Arrange agriculture-business conferences between business men and farmers for mutual discussions and better understanding.
3. Support "out-of-state" farm tours.
5. Work with Merchants Association to sponsor open house for farmers with real welcome, good bargains, etc.
5. Sponsor, with other groups, the Tobacco Harvest Festival.

The Agricultural Council's fifth major project calls for the organization to "investigate, study, and follow through to completion the building of the livestock show and home arts building as started under earlier programs.

The final project — publicity — would be to undertake the publication of a picture folder depicting the agricultural development of Haywood County and the proposed projects of the Agricultural Council.

The following project committees were named at the meeting Tuesday night:

Project No. 1: Boys and Girls Club Work — Cecil Brown, Chairman, Jean Childers, Roger Ammons.

Project No. 2: Diversified Farm-

Dillard Firm

Dillard's bid was $102,290. A dozen bids were offered for placing treated timber guard rails along scattered sections of the scenic highway between Asheville and Grandfather Mountain. A bureau official said the contract is expected to be awarded soon and work probably will start in the spring. Dillard owns the Dillard Hardware and Builders Supply company here.

Red Cross

ered by insurance. Mr. Elwood praised the firemen for doing "an excellent job". They were on the scene from shortly after 10:45 until after noon.

The second run was made at 3:15 p.m. Wednesday to South Main St. where a grass fire was burning behind the residences of C. E. Weatherby and Guy Massie.

Firemen expressed the belief that the fire was started by children playing. No damage was done.

The third alarm was turned in this morning when a truck owned by contractor Harry Clay on Railroad St. caught fire from defective wiring around the engine. Damage was estimated at $25 or less.

possible, and will be accompanied by their leaders.

The Haywood Girl Scouts will be a part of the approximately two million girls who will be celebrating the 43rd birthday of the organization.

Plans for the week are built around the theme, "Believe, Belong, Build." The days are designated as Girl Scout Week Service Days as follows: Sunday, Church Day; Monday, Homemaking Day; Tuesday, Citizenship Day; Wednesday, Health and Safety Day; Thursday, International Friendship Day; Friday, Arts and Crafts Day; and Saturday, Girl Scout Birthday — Out of Doors Day.

Throughout the week, the twenty-one troops of Haywood County will engage in special activities. There will be special appearances for the girls, radio programs, and individual troop programs carrying out the general theme. Store windows in Waynesville and Canton will feature Girl Scout posters and exhibits.

The girls are encouraged to wear their uniforms throughout the week.

The Haywood Girl Scout District is a part of the seven-county Pisgah Girl Scout Council, Mrs. Aaron Prevost is district chairman and working with her are three neighborhood chairmen: Mrs. Clyde Fisher, Hazelwood; Mrs. Roy Campbell, Waynesville; and Mrs. Lon Goodson, Canton. About three hundred and fifty girls make up the county troops.
