

Head Of Highway Patrol Rounding Out 25 Years

Col. James R. Smith, head of North Carolina's State Highway Patrol can look on a quarter-century of work distinguished by — other things — an amazing record of safe driving. The patrol's boss man has driven an average of 50,000 miles a day and he's been doing it for 25 years. And that's better than a million quarter miles of driving a scratch to mar his

the way it's like making two half trips to the moon. And he's been doing it for 25 years. And that's better than a million quarter miles of driving a scratch to mar his rain road one summer afternoon. Suddenly another motorcycle charged by him, flinging dust and contempt into his face. The colonel twisted his throttle and the chase was on. For some 12 miles the hazardous tag game continued, up, down, and around tortuous mountain curves. The speed demon threw in the towel when he unwittingly turned into a mountain cul de sac and skidded his steaming machine around in a

Construction Of Youth Center At Lake To Start Soon

$100,000 Youth Center Building Plans Complete

Work is due to start this spring on a $100,000 youth center at Lake Junaluska at the summer assembly grounds of the Methodist Church's nine-state Southeastern Jurisdiction.

The building fund is nearing the $50,000 mark and architectural plans have been approved. It was announced by the Rev. J. W. Fowler, Jr., superintendent of the Lake Junaluska Assembly, and the Rev. Lee F. Tuttle, Charlotte, chairman of a Southwide fund drive.

They said the building may be ready for partial use before the summer is over.

Methodists throughout the South are contributing to building costs. Dr. Tuttle said, particularly youth organizations of the 16 annual conferences in the Southeastern Jurisdiction.

He said that the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Western North Carolina Conference had already raised $2,500 and expects to obtain another $1,000. The MYF in South Georgia, South Carolina and Holston conferences—East Tennessee and Southwest Virginia—have also organized fund campaigns, Dr. Tuttle reported.

The building is to be program and recreational headquarters for the approximately 3,000 Methodist high school and college youth in the Southeast who attend conferences and training projects at Lake Junaluska every summer. It will be named for the late Bishop Paul B. Kern, Nashville, Tenn., who organized several Methodist youth projects which are now part of the denomination's general program.

A native of Alexandria, Va., Bishop Kern presided over the Nashville episcopal area from 1938 until his retirement in 1952. For four years, 1934-38, he presided over the North and South Carolina Methodist conferences. He died in 1953.

Plans for the lakeshore center, measuring 4,800 square feet, call for a central fellowship hall, stage, class rooms, offices, snack bar and recreational facilities. The structure will cost approximately $75,000, and $25,000 will be allocated for furnishings and special equipment, Dr. Tuttle said.

Cecil Blanton Attends Insurance Conference

Cecil E. Blanton, representative of The Life Insurance Company of Virginia will attend the company's District Leaders Convention at the Hollywood Beach Hotel, Hollywood, Fla., March 30 through April 2.

Invitations to attend this convention, signaling the biggest year in Life of Virginia's 84-year history, were extended to representatives as a reward for their outstanding production and superior service to policy owners during 1954.

Doughnut Mileage

HARRISON, N. J. (AP) — Max Stiller says he has fried 100 million doughnuts, and estimates that number, side by side, would reach from here to Chile — about 4,762 miles. He's co-manager of a bakery that supplies 25 restaurants.

Tucker Named Member Federation Director

A crowd of approximately 500 persons turned out for the 34th annual meeting of all Farmers Federation stockholders held recently.

Ned Tucker, Waynesville, Rt. 2, was elected to fill the unexpired term of the late Henry Francis, Waynesville, a director-at-large who was recently killed in a tractor accident.

Principal speaker at the meeting was J. D. Lawrence, President of the Columbia Bank for Co-operators.

James G. K. McClure, president of the farm co-operative, acted as master of ceremonies.

Marriage Licenses

William Plemmons, Waynesville and Frances Hill, Clyde.
