PRESIDENT EISENHOWER adjusts his glasses as he announced that the United States will build an atomic-powered merchant ship which will cruise the world to demonstrate peacetime use of atomic energy. Disclosing his plans in an address at the Associated Press luncheon in New York for delegates to the American Newspaper Publishers Association, the Chief Executive said he would soon send Congress a request for funds to build the nuclear-propelled craft, which will "help to bring all men the truth of our assertion that we seek only a just and lasting peace." He accented the need for freer two-way trade among nations and the importance of Congressional passage of his reciprocal trade program. (International)

New Officers Are Elected For High School PTA

At the regular May meeting of the Waynesville Township High School P.T.A. Monday evening, the following officers were elected to serve for the 1955-56 year; president, Paul Davis; vice-president, Aaron Prevost; secretary, Mrs. Willard Moody; treasurer, M. E. Ballance; program chairman, the Rev. T. E. Robinette.

Mr. Davis, insurance and real estate executive, has had considerable experience in P.T.A. organizational work having served previously as president of the Hazelwood P.T.A.

Mr. Prevost, furniture manufacturer, and civic leader has long been prominent in the civic and religious activities.

Mr. Robinette is pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Moody has served one year as secretary of the P.T.A. and was re-elected along with the treasurer, M. E. Ballance, of Hazelwood. Mr. Ballance reported that the membership stands now at 146 and at the close of the current year the treasury has $46.20.

The devotional was conducted by the Rev. James Y. Perry, rector of the Grace Episcopal Church. In his message, Mr. Perry stressed the need for family training. The parents must feel a sense of urgency and a sense of partnership with various institutions for the welfare of children.

The Rev. Earl H. Brendall, retiring chairman of the program committee, spoke on Mental Hygiene.

M. H. Bowles, district principal, spoke concerning the program for 1955-56. Following his address, the association approved a resolution whereby the meeting date and the number of public and executive sessions should be referred to the executive committee for the new year.

Mr. Bowles also presented the matter of overcrowded conditions in the high school and suggested the possibility of converting the present auditorium into class room space and using the gym for assemblies and for special dramatic presentations. The organization expressed itself as favoring this plan if it could be worked out from an architectural standpoint so as to provide adequate light and safety.

Retiring president, J. W. Fowler, Jr., stressed the importance of keeping the local P.T.A. in the State and National organization and gave as an illustration the work which the state organization has done during the current session of the legislature in helping to maintain the present standard of educational services. Mr. Fowler expressed appreciation to Mr. Bowles, Mr. Weatherby and the teachers of the High School and

Washington Party Pace Reaches Frenzied Tempo

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — It's open season for social doings the year 'round in Washington. The White House no longer sets the party pace as it did in former years when local hostesses planned their shindigs around the official "white tie white glove" midwinter dinner and reception series.

If anything, the gadding-about is getting more frenzied. Lavish parties are given for visiting Bigwigs, for scores of new and retiring ambassadors, for national holidays on Embassy Row, for anniversaries, charity, for celebrities of the art, music, theatrical and fashion worlds for dog lovers, the cherry blossoms and for Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Biggest red-carpet do was for visiting Prime Minister Menzies of Australia — a reception given by Ambassador Sir Percy Spender, a dinner given by Secretary of State and Mrs. John Foster Dulles, a stag luncheon by President Eisenhower. A half-dozen new ambassadors to the other officers of the P.T.A. and the members for their services to the school and to the young people of our community. Mr. Fowler commended Mrs. Harry Whisenhunt who served as membership chairman and attributed the success in obtaining members to her work.

and their wives have been getting the full treatment not only from their diplomatic colleagues, but from official and social Washington. The recently-arrived envoys, including French Ambassador Couve de Murville, Italian Ambassador Brosio, Spanish Ambassador Areiza, Greek Ambassador Melas and Swiss Minister Henry de Torrente, have barely had time to "ease" the town, so crowded has been their party schedule. In addition to going to parties, they've been giving them. New U. S. ambassadors to India, John Sherman Cooper, and to Spain, John Davis Lodge were practically all tucked out before they departed for their new posts.

Another big splash was given by Mexican Ambassador and Mrs. de Tello—a buffet dinner at the embassy for 400—honoring Vice President and Mrs. Nixon. Famed hostess Perle Mesta and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Tyson also threw a bang-up affair for 300, following the opening of the National Capital Kennel Club Show. This was for dog lovers, Mrs. Tyson's poodles won best in show last year.

Competing hostess, Gwen Cafritz and her wealthy realtor husband, Morris, gave their annual St. Patrick's Day dinner (her second) for the British Ambassador and Lady Makins.

Most feted guest in town is the popular Texan, Sam Rayburn. "His friends will continue to drink themselves to a loss of health toasting him," a local society reporter writes.
