position to join the Imperial Life Insurance Co. at Sanford where he was employed at the time of his death.

Information received here concerning Vaughn's death was that he entered extremely cold water flowing into the lake from a spring. The contact created a condition which prevented him from swimming.

The body was recovered early in the night when an alarm was sounded after Vaughn failed to come back to the surface.

Dr. J. Hampton Byerly, Lee County coroner, said he was told that Vaughn arrived at the lake after swimming trunks, and then dived into the water.

A brief service was held Saturday morning in Sanford after which the body was sent to Marion.

Surviving, in addition to the parents, is Vaughn's wife, the former Miss Dorothy Norton of Marion.

Income

ter living generally. The average family can afford better food, better clothes, more luxuries and more vacations.

The combined buying of a large segment of the population having middle-income earnings or better, as in this case, means more business and a more prosperous and vital community than that produced by a marked high-low combination.

In Haywood County there are 7.3 per cent of the families in the over $7,000 bracket. They account for 21.8 per cent of the total income of the county.

Those who have from $2,500 to $4,000 after taxes represent 27.4 per cent of the families and 24.4 per cent of the general income.

Winston-Salem, and Mrs. C. C. Weaver.

Mrs. Evelyn Strader, missionary to India, and Mrs. J. Fount Tillman, division vice president, will speak Thursday night beginning at 7:45 o'clock.

Friday's program will begin at 9 a.m. with a talk by Mrs. J. W. Harbison of Shelby, conference president, after which new officers will be installed.

Special music throughout the meeting will be presented by Miss Ray Ballard, organist, and Mrs. Glenn Ayers, soloist.

According to Mrs. Harbison, more than 800 Methodist women are expected to attend the meeting. This number, which represents a membership of more than 10,000, includes 500 delegates and conference officers and approximately 300 visitors.

Big Meal?

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — A hungry thief entered the home of Mrs. Albert Ellowitz and helped himself to these items from a food freezer:

Two broiled chickens, two chicken pies, half gallon of ice cream, one coffee cake, one can of pineapple, one can of grape juice, one can of orange juice and a five-pound rib roast.

Dr. E. W. Gudger Receives 50-Year Alumni Medallion

Dr. Eugene W. Gudger of Waynesville, retired associate curator of fishes at the Museum of Natural History in New York, has been awarded a bronze medallion as a 50-year alumnus of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md.

Dr. Gudger is one of 142 surviving holders of Ph. D. degrees awarded by the university 50 years ago or more.

The noted ichthyologist joined the staff of the American Museum of fishes in 1919 and retired at the age of 86, in the summer of 1953.

During his stay at the museum, Dr. Gudger assisted Dr. Bashford Dean in publishing the third volume of a "Bibliography of Fishes" and after Dr. Dean's death, edited eight parts forming the "Dean Memorial Volume in Archaic Fishes". He has written 295 articles on fishes and expects to complete another soon.

The doctor's early work on fishes began in 1905 at the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries laboratory at Beaufort, N. C., and later at the Tortugas laboratory of the Carnegie Institution in Washington.

Dr. Gudger resides at the Teague Rest Home on Walnut St.

Ad Columns

BELEN, N. M. (AP)—Commented Bill Gardner and Dick Curtiss in print: "Neither of us got shot after the first column hit the street . . . merchants of Belen must need target practice."

The two recently started a column in the weekly Belen News Bulletin called "Down Ad Alley," an invasion by the advertising men of the traditional editorial sanctum. Editor Carter Waid says it is a popular feature.

Male Ankles Have Now Become Whistle Bait

AP Newsfeatures

This is the year that the U. S. male comes into his own.

Now his well-turned ankles, exposed by shorter trousers and lower-cut shoes and glorified by dazzling socks, rate whistles from the girls.

Socks for spring and summer are being turned out in every conceivable color, pattern and knit—all for the greater glory of the male ankle. Some of the untraditional colors that will be plainly visible this summer include: hello, shrimp, burnt orange, flamingo, lemon, lime and champagne pink.

It seems the men are buying them, too. Since the first conservative male was won over to a pink shirt, all bars seem to be down.

The vivid tints are used in various ways — as a discreet accent against a neutral background, or as a traffic-stopping blaze of color in a bold pattern.

Yarns used in the new socks cover a wide range—dacron, nylon, wool-and-nylon, orlon-and-nylon, as well as the more familiar wool, cotton and silk.

Other new wrinkles in the sock lineup are the stretch-to-fit sock and the built-in garter support.

Advance Payoff

LONDON, Ky. (AP) — This ad paid off—in advance.

A girl left an ad asking the finder of her lost purse to turn it in at the Sentinel-Echo office. Before it could be printed, a man brought the purse to the newspaper office to be delivered to its owner.

Freezer Is Mother

ATLANTA (AP) — A duckling named Frisky isn't likely to recognize its mother—it was hatched by a home freezer. Shirley Lyons, 12, found a stray egg, put it in a box close to the warmth of the freezer's motor where it hatched.

Grass Comes Back

CHICAGO (AP) — Grass offers the only hope for saving the vast dust-bowl area of the nation, says Prof. Milton E. Parker, director of food engineering at Illinois Institute of Technology. He predicts grass will be a top U. S. crop for 1955 because of changes in the government price-support program. He gives these reasons for praising the practice:

It will prepare much of the country's acreage for future demands of an expanding population. Wartime demands and peacetime price-supports have caused intensified farming which has come "perilously close" to exhausting much of the soil. Grass returns vital organic matter to the soil. On watersheds, it helps control floods and prevents silt from ruining hydroelectric dams. It controls erosion. It holds soil where winds can't grab it. The farmer can reap substantial profits from grass by raising cattle.

In The Drink?

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Morris Barrett, director of the city's clinic for alcoholics, jokingly says he may be his first patient.

"Trying to get this clinic going is enough to drive anyone to drink," he said. Legal and financial obstacles have delayed the opening.
