bus which had stopped to discharge passengers and met Miss Dixon's car coming in the opposite direction.

Smathers was charged with driving on the wrong side of the highway and improper passing. Damage to his car was estimated at $150 and at $250 to Miss Dixon's.

Mrs. John Sanford Matthews of Young Harris, Ga., suffered broken ribs and shock when a 1948 Dodge driven by her husband overturned on the Jackson County side of Soco Gap at 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Cpl. Pritchard H. Smith of the State Highway Patrol reported that Matthews' car ran off the pavement on the right side of the road, then swerved across the road, hit a bank on the left side and then overturned.

Matthews himself was released from Haywood County Hospital, after treatment for a head cut. His wife is still confined there.

The Georgian was charged with reckless driving. His car was termed a "total loss".

This accident led to another when Leland Traube Hume of Chattanooga, Tenn., seeing the Georgia car overturn, halted his own vehicle on the highway and was struck from the rear by a third car driven by Grover Eugene Garris of Hamlet, N. C.

Hume was charged with leaving the scene of an accident, while Garris was cited for following too closely.

Damage to the Hume car was estimated at $75 and to the other at $200.

In Waynesville late Tuesday night, electric power was knocked out for a short time when a 1946 Ford driven by Michael Arthur Gilliland, Route 1, Waynesville, bowled over a power pole on Balsam Drive.

Waynesville police and Patrolman Harold Dayton of the Highway Patrol reported that Gilliland's car ran some 126 feet up a bank and then struck the pole. The driver and three other boys in the vehicle were not injured.

Gilliland, charged with reckless driving, will have a hearing at 4 p.m. Friday before Mayor J. H. Way.

Another Waynesville accident—just beyond the town limits—involved two doctors and a druggist.

State Patrolman Harold Dayton reported that a collision on East St. near the hospital nurses' home at 8:20 a.m. Tuesday involved a 1950 Pontiac driven by Dr. Jack Davis of Waynesville, a 1954 Plymouth station wagon driven by Dr. Theodore Jackson McBee of Columbus, Ga., and a parked 1953 general fund and provide still all services required by other laws.

The commissioner's chairman gave no hint as to what sums would be granted to any department. "We have all the requests in hand, and are now making a thorough study of them. We have a complete picture of the county needs, and are working to arrive at figures which will be as satisfactory as possible. It is a big job. Just what the possible 1955 tax rate will be I cannot say," Mr. Green continued.

The present rate is $1.75 per $100 valuation.

The commissioners hope to come to some definite decision within the next ten days, but right now, they are faced with requests in excess of $56,000 over last year, plus limitation laws on taxation, while other laws demand certain services be provided from the general fund.

"It is a problem," said Green. "And you had better add the word 'big' in there before problem," he said, as he and Auditor Kirkpatrick resumed their figuring amid a mass of papers.

Ford owned by pharmacist Edward Parker Judy.

The patrolman said Dr. Davis applied his brakes as he rounded a curve on East St., causing his car to skid sideways into the parked car and then strike the Georgia doctor's station wagon.

Damage was estimated at $250 to the Davis car, $200 to the McBee car, and $100 to the Judy car.

A fourth accident in the county Wednesday, which took place on the four-lane highway at Clyde, involved a Ford truck driven by Arthur Smith, Jr. of Grimesland, N. C., and a 1949 Lincoln driven by Everett V. Whittington of Miami, Fla.

Cpl. Smith reported that the Florida car sideswiped the truck as the former started to pass as the latter attempted to move from the right to the left lane of the highway.

Damage to the truck was negligible, but was estimated at $100 to the passenger car. The truck was owned by the Dickerson Company which is currently blacktopping the super-highway.

No charges were made.
