

Modern Calendar Puzzles Advocate Of World Type

NO SENSE!—Dr. Martin Fleck looks over a modern calendar and wonders how it got that way.

By JULIUS GOLDEN AP Newsfeatures

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — Our present calendar is an abomination, says Dr. Martin Fleck, University of New Mexico biology professor. He has made himself an expert on the subject. Now he has turned salesman for the World Calendar which has been approved by the United Nations and more than 30 countries including Great Britain and Russia.

"I blow my top when someone declares that our present-day calendar is a divine document and infallible," he says. "It has been changed many times. I counted 63 different changes ranging from 7,000 B.C. to 1934 A.D. and I'm sure I didn't get them all."

Fleck has been making speeches on the calendar for almost 15 years.

He says Sen. Mundt (R-SD) has introduced a bill in Congress to have the World Calendar approved by the United States.

Fleck bases his talks on the calendar's "impact on civilization." He uses believe-it-or-not illustrations to prove his point. For instance, a calendar initiated the first deck of cards and started the Gypsy occupation of fortune telling.

The present calendar is not stable, he says.

"We know our birthdate but not our birthday. Some months have four Saturdays and Sundays and some have five making the number of working days in two months vary as much as 12 1/2 per cent at times."

The World Calendar never changes, Fleck says. Jan. 1 would always be a Sunday, January would have 31 days, February 30, March 30, April 31, and so on in a 31-30-30 line.

Every quarter would have 91 days, he said, instead of the present 90 in the first quarter, 91 the second and 92 each the third and fourth.

"Every month would have 26 working days and every day of the year would have the same date every year," he said.

"Of course, this only adds up to 364 days so the 365th day would be an international holiday dedicated to peace and good will. It would not be on the calendar."

Fleck says we have been living under the Gregorian Calendar in this country since 1752.

"Pope Gregory the XIII started this calendar when the old Julian Calendar was out of time with the sun in 1582, but the Protestant countries didn't start using it until 1752."

The change in calendars forced a drop of 11 days to bring the new calendar in time with the sun.

Fleck's prize yarn concerns an old Egyptian calendar.

"This calendar had 52 cards — one for each week," he said. "There was a two-way design for day and night and four symbols for the seasons, called air, earth, fire and water."

Fleck says our present card decks come from this. A club on a card is just a corruption of an old five-pointed star.

"Take a look at one of the jacks," he says. "He has a staff in his hand with lines on it. It seems that one of the sons of the Pharaoh had to measure the depth of the Nile. Also, add up all the numbers, counting the jack as 11 and queen as 12 and king as 13. The 52 cards equal 364."

"For the 365th day, the Egyptians had a special holiday card considered lucky. I'm told if you get a joker to an inside straight, it's still a lucky card."

"Some Egyptian priests had a good racket by telling fortunes from the cards. They traveled to new fields and became known as Gypsies," he says.

SFC Headley Patrolling Border Zone In Korea

24TH DIV., KOREA—Sergeant First Class James W. Headley, Jr., 28, whose wife, Frances, lives at 812 Love Lane, Waynesville, is a member of the demilitarized zone police which patrols the border between North and South Korea.

Assigned to the 24th Infantry Division, this special police unit provides escort protection for the UN's Military Armistice Commission and apprehends truce violators.

Sgt. Headley, whose father lives in Kansas, arrived overseas on this tour of duty in June of last year. He entered the Army in 1948.

No Noise For Ted

QUIET OUTBOARDS are "tops" for angling in the opinion of Ted Williams, whose skill with a fishing rod equals that of his fence-busting bat. The Boston Red Sox star is shown running the newly-introduced "truly quiet" Johnson 10-horsepower outboard he is using in his fishing trips at the end of the baseball season. The manufacturer has silenced both 10 and 20-horsepower outboards in current production models.
