The students, left to right, are: Thomas Nakagawa of Ontario, Ore., and Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Ill.; Harold Frey of Pasadena, Calif., and Drew University, Madison, N. J.; Robert Samuelson, Highland, Ill., and Drew University, and George K. Jones, Nashville, a student at Vanderbilt University, Nashville. They are among 70 students being trained by the evangelism board for summer evangelistic projects in 30 states and Alaska.

PARENT PROBLEMS

When Youth Refuses To Help Out at Home

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

AS nearly as I can ascertain, the typical American youth from 18 to 21, who is employed full time and lives at home, does not pay board, contribute to the family budget or help with the home drudgeries. Moreover, he rarely saves his money.

In many cases, his parents buy some or all of his clothes and cigarettes and even maintain a car for him if they sense the injustice of his ways and tell him so, their objections only anger him. The major issue, however, is not the injustice to the parents but to the child who is being robbed of the chance to develop self-reliance and responsibility.

Early Training
Parents, who begin in the early years to train their child to help at home and handle money wisely, may prevent these problems from arising later on.

An Ohio farmer writes: "I wonder if you would have advice for us concerning our 18-year-old son. He wants to go somewhere almost every night, and often stays out till three or four A.M. He lives at home, but refuses to pay anything for board. In the morning, he has just enough time to get to work and expects a packed lunch to be ready to take with him. If I object, he only gets cross and refuses to do anything at all for us at home.

Don't Use Force
To this letter I replied as follows: Since your son is pretty well grown, I doubt whether you can, at his age, use force to control his going out at night.

However, he should pay board or contribute in money or services to the family. And he should save money if you are sure you can get away with it, just require him to do so; but, of course, you won't want to make him feel that he must leave home.

Talk Things Over
I believe that if you could manage to be very calm and serene, when you talk to him, he might realize that he should do his share in helping the family.

No doubt he is a very fine lad and has many good qualities that have been overlooked.

Ratcliffe Cove BTU Captures State Honors

By MRS. MARK PALMER
Community Reporter

The junior class of the Ratcliffe Cove Baptist Training Union went to Fruitland to enter the statewide Bible contest recently. Those taking part were: Janet Meador, Tommy Meador, Jean Francis, Dean Francis, Michael Francis, and Marie. All were state winners.

Accompanying the group were Mrs. Gay Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Francis, Mrs. Roy Meador, and Mrs. Claude Francis.

The Elizabeth Chapel Methodist Church will have vacation Bible school Preparation day at 9 a.m. Friday. The school will last for one week, from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. daily.

George Palmer of the U. S. Navy is spending a 14-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Palmer. He has been stationed on Great Lakes, Ill., but will report to Norfolk, Va., on returning to duty.

Tommy Palmer has returned home from Haywood County Hospital, where he underwent surgery last week.

Lane Arrington's condition at Moore General Hospital has been reported as fair.

Because of the March freeze, the hay crop in Ratcliffe Cove is late, but farmers say that it is heavy. Owing to abundant rains, the farmers here expect better crops this year.

Several buildings are going up in our community. T. T. Muse, Jr. is building a new brick home. Ralph Ford moved in his new home last week. Jack West has graded and sown grass for a future home on his property. Others have surveyed home sites.

TODAY'S Menu

French-Style Cooking

By ALICE DENHOFF

ALMOST every locality has a "little French place" these days, a restaurant where modest prices and a restricted but good menu prevail, the dishes on the homey, simple side, but nicely flavored.

Traditional Stew
One such restaurant dish, easily duplicated at home, is the traditional French meat stew, glorified by the piquant touch of stuffed olives. Serve it with green salad with an oil-and-vinegar dressing, and a crisp-crust Flavor Loaf, with fresh fruit or fruited gelatine for dessert.

To serve 4-5, have 1 lb. chuck or round of beef cut into 1-in. cubes, and brown in 2 tbsp. shortening. Add 1 c. chopped onions, cook until golden brown.

Add 1 c. each chopped green pepper and chopped celery; cook until tender.

Mix in Soup
Mix in 1 can condensed cream of tomato soup diluted with an equal amount of water, 1/2 c. sliced stuffed olives, tsp. salt and 1/2 tsp. pepper. Simmer in covered pan for 1 hr.; stir occasionally. Serve over boiled new potatoes.

For the bread, a fine escort for any soups, stews or goulashes, mix 1/4 c. butter or margarine with 1/2 tsp. yellow mustard. Add garlic salt to taste.

Slice down a loaf of French bread in 1-in. slices, not cutting through both sides so that loaf shape remain. Spread seasoned butter generously between bread slices.

The string around bread to keep intact, place on cookie sheet and warm in 350° F. oven for 5-10 min. or until thoroughly heated.

From the Near East
Here is a good recipe that makes use of leftover chicken or turkey.

Chicken Pilaf: Melt 1/2 c. butter or margarine in skillet, add 2 c. cooked rice and brown lightly. Add an undiluted can of cream of tomato soup, 1 c. diced cooked chicken or turkey, 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce, tsp. salt and 1/2 tsp. pepper. Simmer for 5 min.
