50 Applications Received For 12th Annual Farm Tour

Fifty reservations and deposits have already been received for the 12th annual out-of-state farm tour, according to County Agent Virgil L. Holloway.

This means that one bus is filled up and the second is now being filled, the county agent explained. It was decided previously by the committee in charge of the farm tour that the first 82 persons who make reservations will definitely go on the tour.

A third bus will be taken if reservations are sufficient to fill the vehicle. If not, those who file applications late will have their money refunded, Mr. Holloway said.

The deadline for making reservations is Saturday, July 9, the county agent pointed out, and none will be accepted after that time. Registration for the tour will be held on the 9th and Monday, July 11.

Mr. Holloway urged county residents to make their reservations for the tour as soon as possible to avoid disappointment. Applications for the trip should be accompanied by a $30 deposit. Total cost for the tour is $130.

The farm tour group will leave here at 6 a.m. Tuesday, July 19, and return to Waynesville Thursday, July 28.

Some of the highlights of the tour will be:

- A tour of Champlin Paper and Fibre plant at Hamilton, Ohio; lunch and a farm stop at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.; a night at the famous Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago with evening entertainment to include a boat cruise or a ball game (New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox); a tour of Union Stockyards and the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago; a tour of the famous Wisconsin dairyland and a brief stop at two outstanding dairy farms; a visit to the Betty Crocker Kitchens (for women) and Minneapolis Grain Exchange and flour mill; grazing lands, the Badlands, Mount Rushmore National Park, and Black Hills of South Dakota; the famous Passion Play which is presented in an outdoor theatre in Spearfish, S. D.; grazing lands of Nebraska; and a stop at Boys Town near Omaha.

Kitchen Safety Quiz

AP Newsfeatures
WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. — How safe is your kitchen?
Every year about half a million people are injured in their own kitchens. Almost 3,000 are killed in kitchen accidents.

Yet for 25 years Mrs. Helen J. Britt, an attractive suburban housewife has operated three kitchens with the help of a staff, and nobody ever has been hurt. One kitchen is at home and the other two are at her job as chief home economist of the Nestle Co.

Eight hours every working day, Mrs. Britt and her staff of five mix, pour, wash dishes, wield knives and cook on both gas and electric stoves, with a perfect safety record.

The following quiz is devised from her own safety rules. If you can answer the questions correctly, it's practically impossible for anyone to get hurt in your kitchen.

Q. Do you place foods in electric blenders and mixers before or after plugging in outlets?
A. Before. Accidental touch of switch may cut fingers. Unplug after use.

Q. Do you wash or wax kitchen floors?
A. Wash. Sheen of linoleum may be sacrificed, but that's not as bad as falling on a slippery floor.

Q. What do you do first after using a swing out, wall type can opener?
A. Swing it back flush against the wall.

Q. In planning a new kitchen would you install doors or sliding panels on cabinets?
A. Panels. Doors are bound to be left open occasionally bumpel heads are the result.

A. In an air tight metal container. Lack of oxygen will smother any fire starting there.

Q. Do you know of any system for washing dishes and cutting up food?
A. Wash them separately. Knives and other sharp instruments can cause cuts when obd by soapy water and grass while fishing for a piece of dirt.

Q. To get rid of dry ice do you toss it in sink or garbage pail?
A. Sink or some other place. Running water in sink integrates chemical safety. Will form in sealed garbage. And never handle dry ice bare fingers.

Q. What feature do you look on in your potholders?
A. They must contain magnets. Sometimes they are bought this way, otherwise magnets can be sewed in. Magnets able potholders to adhere to side of stove.
