

Hazelwood To Face Beacon And Canton This Weekend; Locals Nip Canton, 7-6

The Fourth of July weekend will be no holiday for Hazelwood's team in the Western North Carolina Industrial League with the locals scheduled for two games on the Waynesville High Diamond — one Saturday and another Monday.

At 3:30 p.m. Saturday at WTHS, the league-leading Beacon Blanketers will furnish the opposition for Hazelwood, and at 3:30 p.m. Monday, July 4, traditional rival Canton will come to town.

Both games will be sponsored by the Hazelwood Boosters Club as a part of the organization's week-long Fourth of July celebration.

In the first meeting of the two teams Wednesday, Hazelwood pushed across four runs in the ninth inning to edge Champion, 7-6, on the high school field here.

Floyd Teas, Vanderbilt University ace, drove in two men in the ninth with a double and then scored the winning run on Bill Miller's single. Both Teas and Miller got two hits apiece.

Hazelwood collected a total of nine safeties off two Canton hurlers. Sonny Warren and Melvin Morgan, Spunk Cagle limited the Paper City nine to seven bingles.

It is not wise for weight-watchers to use mineral oil in salad dressings because the oil absorbs vitamins A and K and so they are not available for body use. Yogurt tastes good with salad greens or dressings may be concocted from buttermilk or tomato juice.

British Amateur Champ Redeems Poor Showing

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

AP Newsfeatures
FORT WORTH, Tex. — Those who know Lt. Joe Conrad, the Texas golfer who won the British Amateur, think he did it because of failure in the Walker Cup matches.

It's typical of the San Antonio redhead. A poor showing makes him mad at himself and he usually goes out and wins something to redeem himself with the public.

Conrad was one of the two United States players to lose in Walker Cup singles. Admittedly wanting to make up for the lapse, Conrad, practically overlooked in predictions of who was likely to win the British Amateur, took the championship and became the second Texan to capture a top golf prize in England in recent years.

Ben Hogan, with whom Conrad often has been compared because of his coolness and imperturbability, took the 1953 British Open.

It was in 1953 that Conrad was playing in the Colonial National Invitation tournament here. In the first round he shot 84. He was 14 over par.

"We had rooms next to each other in the dormitory at North Texas State College," recalls Jimmy Russell, "and Joe came in that night nearly crying. He was so torn up I don't think he slept all night. He kept saying how badly he felt at having shot the worst score that day and kept repeating how he intended to do a lot better after that."

The next day Conrad shot a 76

LT. JOE CONRAD

In the third round he had a 69 and in the final round he shot a 73. His 302 for the 72 holes over the very difficult Colonial Country Club course made him low amateur of the tournament.

Conrad has won some important golf victories in the past few years—twice capturing the Southern Amateur, once taking the Trans-Mississippi, and now the British Amateur.

Less than three years ago Conrad was virtually declared a professional by the United States Golf Assn. He was suspended from amateurism for teaching golf to his teammates at North Texas State College. Joe was reinstated and then proceeded to win his greatest glory in golf.

PONY LEAGUE

Five Points 17, Dayton 1, Unagusta 9, Garrett's 8.

By CAROLYN DAVIS

Johnny Carswell stopped Dayton, 17-1, Monday on a one-hitter, with rival pitcher John Allen getting his team's lone safety.

Five points got to Allen for 10 hits.

Carswell also was his team's leading hitter. Unagusta squeaked by Garrett's, 9-8, with Sammy Styles and Bobby Trull on the mound for Unagusta and Gerald Arrington pitching for Garrett's.

Trull, Buster Griggs, and T. J. Stevens were the leading hitters for Unagusta, while Jack Atkins was best for Garrett's.

LITTLE LEAGUE

Tannery 23, Hazelwood 2, Texaco 11, Wellco 5.

Morgan hurled Tannery to a top-heavy 23-2 victory over Hazelwood, with Mashburn leading the attack with five hits.

Hazelwood got only three hits during the tilt—those by Holloway, Sisk, and Hall.

Homers by Kirkpatrick and Leatherwood helped Texaco score an 11-5 victory over Wellco.

Campbell also got two hits for the winners, while Rhymer was tops for Wellco.

Pitching were Robinson for Texaco and McBride for Wellco.

Games in the Little League Friday will match Hazelwood against Wellco and Texaco against the Tannery.

Women Golfers Receive Prizes

In a point contest conducted by the women's division of the Waynesville Golf Club Wednesday morning, Laura Mae Ray was the winner in the 18-hole group with 42 points, while Roddy Johnson was winner in the 9-hole group with 18 points.

At a luncheon meeting after the contest, prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ray and Mrs. Johnson and to Mrs. Howard Hyatt, low putt winner in the 18-hole group for the month of June, and Mrs. Hillard Atkins, low putt winner in the 9-hole group for the month.

Nick Shuk Finds Golf Helps A Jockey

AP Newsfeatures

STANTON, Del.—A duffer with a nasty slice to correct might try to solve his problem by riding a horse. After all, jockey Nick Shuk takes his riding troubles to the golf course.

"Playing golf," says Shuk, "has done more than anything else to aid my riding during the last four years."

In between a nine-hole tour of the Newark Country Club and a full program at Delaware Park, where he's among the top riders, Shuk explained his theory.

"You use the same muscles in golf that you use in riding a horse," he said. "That's all the muscles in your arms, shoulders and legs."

"But that's not all. Golf gives a rider many other things which he can apply to his work. Golf gives coordination of mind and muscle and also greatly increases the power of concentration."

"The game teaches you how to judge distance and that is a lot more important to a race rider than you think. Being able to judge distance can mean the difference between a rider getting through an opening in a race or getting shut off. And, of course, that can mean the difference between winning and losing.

"What could be more important than anything else, golf gives you a better control of temper. If you can keep from losing your head on the golf course, you can keep from losing it anywhere."

"I used to get mad with horses when I knew they didn't give their best. Not any more, though. I figure it's all part of the game. Golf has done that for me."

Shuk is a pretty fair country golfer. He's small, of course, but his drives consistently measure 240 and 260 feet. In the four years he has owned a set of clubs, his handicap at his home course, Prince Georges Country Club near Washington, D. C., has been cut to eight strokes.

That means he's a 79 or 80 shooter.

PHEASANTS THRIVING

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Mongolian ringneck pheasants released in 1951 on Charity Island in Saginaw Bay are thriving. They appear to be living on acorns, juniper and poison ivy berries.

Grass Cutting Mixup

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Police here roamed the streets for the first time in years looking for a rustler after a man reported somebody swiped his lamb.

The search ended when a friend of the sheepman reported he'd borrowed the lamb to mow his backyard.

Champion Teams To Stage Two Softball Games

An unusual round-robin softball tournament will be staged today and Saturday at the Canton High diamond, with six games on a two-day schedule.

It is the annual series between the teams of the Ohio, Carroll and Texas Divisions of the Champion Paper and Fibre Company and involves the Green Wave of Hamilton, Ohio, the Knights of Pasadena, Texas, and the Champion YMCA of Canton.

All three teams are outstanding in their own areas, and with incentive of inter-divisional competition, the series should produce softball at its best.

Each team will play each other team twice during the tournament. The schedule calls for doubleheaders at 7:30 tonight, and at 2:00 and 7:30 Saturday.

The visiting Ohio and Texas squads are guests of the Champion YMCO at Camp Hope for the weekend.
