Pakistan's Ambassador Sponsors Fashion Show

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Pakistan Ambassador Syed Aamad Ali certain everything in the bag when he invited guests to a champagne dinner of fashions in burlap woven from jute, the "golden fiber" of the country.

Only bags in the show, however, were the modish items coming from the variety of up-to-the-minute costumes designed in and carefully treated sack by a New England manufacturer modeled by pretty staffers of the embassy and the State Department.

Diplomats are accused of putting on a show, the ambassador stated after guests were seated at little tables in the flowered patio, covered with burlap and centered with champagne in ice buckets wrapped with paper. "This time I will plead guilty to the accusation."

Guests had climbed the stairway to the main reception room of the embassy through yards of varied burlap flung over the railings and had viewed an impressive display of such items as jewelry, hats, shoes, lamps, luggage wastebaskets, stationery and gift items, when they were led to the patio. Embassy aides wore suits and vests of burlap in shades of beige, wine and charcoal.

Highlight of the evening was the professional fashion parade. Male guests enjoyed as much as the women. The show included the-cloak fashions, ranging from a chartreuse play suit with jacket, bag and hat and a country-wear clothes in various colors, to deeper-toned tailcoats, gay cocktail frocks and embroidered evening gowns. Many of these were topped with the most luxurious of furs, mink and sable. White mink was combined effectively with a lavishingly bordered ball gown of shockingly burlap. A stole of white burlap draped a striking gown of burlap sack cloth.

Guests brought you to see burlap and to cry for its mink," complained a husband.

J. J. Kearns Dies At 59

James Joseph Kearns, 59, of Balsam Street, Hazelwood, died at 3:30 a.m. today in the Haywood County Hospital following a short illness.

A former resident of Brooklyn, N. Y., Mr. Kearns was a technical engineer with Dayton Rubber Company. He was the son of the late William and Bridget C. Kearns of Brooklyn.

A service will be conducted tonight at 8 o'clock in the chapel at Garrett Funeral Home with the Rev. William H. Marquis, pastor of the Hazelwood Presbyterian Church, officiating. After the service, the body will be taken to Brooklyn for interment.

Surviving are the wife, Mrs. May McGurik Kearns; one son, Edward Kearns of Brooklyn, a daughter, Mrs. Alfred D'Uva; and three grandchildren.

Kind Words

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—Kinsley McWhorter, Jr., wrote in his column in the Roanoke World News, that most people are starved for kind words. He said doctors get them less frequently than almost anyone else.

Doctors reacted at once. The Roanoke Academy of Medicine passed a resolution of thanks. The American Medical Assn. reprinted the column and sent it to the secretary of every medical society in America. From Georgia, Arkansas and Pennsylvania came requests for permission to reprint it. Individual doctors wrote to say thank you.

Pakistan grows about 75 per cent of the world's supply of jute from which burlap is woven. In the past four years, the members of the Pakistan Jute Mills Assn. have built the largest, newest and most efficient mills in existence today. The fiber has been softened and brilliant color added to bring the old bag as a new fabric into the fashion limelight.
