OPENING THE DOOR TO A NEW ERA of teen age trimness, the high school girl will choose easy to care for fashions and smart accessories for a well groomed appearance. Even gloves, which she will wear more often to class, can be completely washable as are pigskin shorties.

Girl Going Away To College Should Make Plans Now

There's a challenge to the foresight of the college bound girl in the fact that she must start planning now, for the life on the campus where she must fit herself into a circle of new friends.

College catalogues and talks with friends attending the chosen school can be her basic guides. The former will list dress rules: whether shorts, for example, are allowed on the campus; whether stockings are required in dining halls; what dorm furnishings and linens she's going to need.

The college bound girl armed with this basic information will find it easier to stretch her going-away budget, and with the help of well informed clerks in hometown stores, can shop with confidence at home for fashions and accessories that will fit properly into her coming life away from home.

COMPARING NOTES. TEENAGERS are finding inexpensive necessary luggage just the thing to help them toward better living. She chooses a smart looking hatbox for taking everything to her locker, back to school and he favors a leather trimmed club bag for his sports gear. The vogue is sweeping the campus.
