lina to the best of his ability as long as he served as United States Senator.

"It is a privilege and a responsibility to represent over four million constituents in North Carolina, one third of whom live on farms," Ervin told the group, "and you can count on my colleagues and myself to continue giving you the best representation possible from this state."

Ervin paid tribute to the Farmers Federation for its role in building up Western North Carolina farmer markets during the past 35 years and said that he and Mrs. Ervin, who accompanied him, were delighted with the fellowship, music, entertainment and enthusiasm which he found at this picnic.

James G. K. McClure, Federation President, and James McClure Clarke, Vice-President, shared the master of ceremony duties and introduced the other speakers and entertainers of the day.

Winner of the first prize for the best local act was the Ratcliffe Cove Home Demonstration group which presented a clever skit under the direction of Miss Mary Cornwell, Home Demonstration Agent. Participating in the skit were Mrs. Mark Galloway as George Washington; Mrs. James Medford as Martha Washington; R. C. Francis as the "Crying Baby" and Jimmy McClure also introduced Virgil Holloway, County Agent, who cited the Farmers Federation for its sponsorship of the 4-H Club Pullet Chain and announced plans for a feeder calf sale on October 5th and a yearling steer sale on September 27th.

Glenn Hunt, Farmers Federation sales manager, described the research programs carried on by the Federation in an effort to produce the finest quality feeds at the lowest prices for Western North Carolina farmers and announced that a special 35th Anniversary sale would be held during the week of August 21st at all Farmers Federation warehouses.

Reverend Dumont Clarke, Director of the Federation's Religious Department, told of the progress made in promoting the Lord's Acre Plan in the United States and foreign countries and made special mention of the fine work done by the Elizabeth Chapel Methodist Church, Ratcliffe Cove which made $143 net profit from a Lord's Acre onion project. Approximately 80 persons were engaged in this project.

Highlighting the entertainment program were Panhandle Pete Nash, the one man band; Eddie Nash, his son; Gaither Robinson, Joe Franklin, Jimmy Buchanan, Darryl Petty, Junior Atkins, and Alex Houston. Additional picnic speakers were F. A. Justice, Federation Haywood County director from Clyde; Max Roberts, Educational Director and operator of the Carolina Tobacco warehouse in Asheville; Roger

School Case

Supreme Court. Judge Dan K. Moore, of Sylva, heard the case, getting evidence from the lawyers on several occasions.

He handed down a decision giving the county ownership of the property which they have held and maintained since 1923. An act of the 1953 General Assembly, however, gave the property to the Town and Library "after the school no longer used the property for school purposes."

Since the school students and faculty moved to the new building two blocks down Haywood street, the county board of education has used the building for storage purposes.

General opinion is that the block square property would bring about $40,000 on the real estate market today. The Haywood Library was named in the General Assembly Act of 1953 to get a lot adjoining Academy Street.

W. R. Francis and F. E. Alley, Jr., represent the county in the case.

Ammons, Waynesville warehouse manager; John Gardner, Canton warehouse manager and Bob Beard, Farmers Federation News Editor.

Other entertainers were Linda and Patsy Neal, Franklin; Tiny Baldwin, Forest City; Nelma Jones, West Asheville; Patricia Ross, Waynesville; Nay Ann and Aurene Rogers, Hendersonville and Brenda Rice and Ann Roberts, both of Asheville.

Included among the contest winners were J. G. Clark, Rt. 4, Waynesville and Nancy Scott, Rt. 1, Canton, who won the balloon blowing contest; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Justice, visitors from Oklahoma, who were the oldest couple present; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Donaldson, Canton, the youngest married couple present; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Chambers, Rt. 1, Canton, who had the largest family at the picnic; Joe Jones, Mark Leopard and Ralph Ross, all of Waynesville, who won the sack races and Miss Ruby Lee Shipman and H. B. Scott, both of Canton, who won the robe jumping contest.

Free watermelon and lemonade were served to all who attended.

Streets

where Wall Street joins East Street.

3. Wall Street should be widened from East Street along its entire length wherever possible.

4. The short street connecting Main Street with Wall Street running beside Garrett Furniture Building should be designated a one way street allowing traffic to travel from Main Street to Wall Street.

From Garrett Furniture on Wall Street to Rogers Electric Company on Main Street, should be designated a one-way street to allow Wall Street traffic to enter Main Street.

These recommendations are made in view of the narrow streets involved. Neither of them are wide enough to carry two lanes of traffic and the corner of Garrett Furniture Store, both on Main Street and Wall Street, are very hazardous.

6. In order to relieve the congesting of parked cars on Wall Street and to eliminate the fire hazard involved when automobiles are parked too close to the rear of these buildings making it impossible for fire equipment to function properly in case of fire in one of these buildings, a curb should be constructed along this street for cars to park against. A temporary curb made out of logs would serve the purpose. Alley ways to the back of these stores should be well marked and kept open for loading and unloading trucks as the need arises.

Montgomery Street The following recommendations are made for the improvement of Montgomery Street for handling of traffic and parking:

1. Widen Montgomery Street on the west side away from Main Street for its entire length as provided in previous surveys. This could be done over a long period as the property is vacated. Sections now available should be widened and used for parking until all the street is widened.

2. Construct a sidewalk on the east side next to Main Street over its entire length in the space now provided between the street and the buildings along this street. A section or two of this walk has already been constructed.

3. It is recommended that Montgomery Street be extended across of the ordinance. All newly constructed or reconstructed solid or liquid fuel burning plants having more than 500 square feet of boiler heating surface or its equivalent, shall be equipped with smoke indicators, mirrors or similar devices approved by the City Manager to enable firemen to observe the top of his stack at all times from the boiler room.

In plants where a fireman is not in constant attendance, a smoke indicator shall be of such type that will sound an alarm or flash a light to attract attention of the fireman.

All persons liable for excessive smoke from a stack, are individually and collectively liable for fines and punishment under the ordinance.

The emission of dense smoke constitutes a public nuisance, according to terms of the ordinance.

The ordinance further specifies that the Ringlemann Chart, a device for measuring density of smoke, shall be used to determine the degree of density of the smoke.

All persons are prohibited from allowing the discharge of smoke, dust or fumes that are a nuisance to any person not being therein or thereupon engaged or that are a detriment or injurious to the health, welfare or property of others.

The ordinance provides that any person guilty of such who has been previously notified of three or more violations of the ordinance within any consecutive 12-month period, in respect to the emission of smoke, dust or fumes, shall have to show why the faulty equipment shall not be sealed by the inspector.

Provision is made for a hearing in such cases to the Board of Aldermen, upon a deposit of $10. If the
