was owned and being driven by Orville Grooms, 21, of the Lake Logan area. With Grooms was Gerald Vincent Jenkins, of Bethel. James Reeves, owner of the tobacco farm, and near whose home the accident happened, told officers the car left the road, rolled down the bank, turning over five or six times. The car ruined the tobacco it rolled over, Reeves said. He estimated the ruined tobacco to be worth about $25.

The two occupants of the car were reported to have run through the nearby woods after being pulled from the wreckage by Reeves and others. Jenkins was picked up later by Patrolman Dayton, who was assisted in the investigation by Deputy Sheriff Gene Howell.

Patrolman Dayton said he had a warrant for Grooms, but had not made an arrest at noon today. The demolished Buick was estimated to be a loss of about $300.

Canton Lions Have Big Annual Picnic

The annual family picnic of the Canton Lions saw 156 people at Camp Hope, for what was termed "The finest get-together of the club."

Coach Tom Young, of Western Carolina College, will be the speaker at the club on Tuesday night. This will be an inter-club program, with Dr. Constantz of the Cullowhee club in charge.

Republican Bird Lost

MANHATTAN, Kas. (AP) — If you should run into a parakeet with obvious Republican sentiments, the LaRov family here would like to know about it. The Scotts were caring for the bird owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Ankeny while the latter couple was vacationing. The bird disappeared.

The Scotts say the missing parakeet has a large vocabulary, but should be easily spotted. His favorite phrase is: "I like Ike."

BABY FOUND IN A SUITCASE

SIX-MONTH-OLD Joseph Quinn makes himself at home in the arms of nurse Maureen Flynn, at St. Vincent's Orphanage, Chicago, after police found him unclenched in an open suitcase in a hotel room. Authorities took the baby to the orphanage and arrested his mother, Ann Quinn, of New York, when she returned. (International)

Regular Cartons Unsuitable For Wrapping Frozen Foods

By RUTH CURRENT

State Home Demonstration Agent

WHY A GOOD CONTAINER?—Miss Nita Orr, specialist in food conservation, frozen food department, says milk cartons are for milk, not to freeze food in, and they are not satisfactory for that purpose.

This is true when they are clean and new before they have been used for milk. It is doubly true after milk has been in the container, for then there is no way to get it clean. It follows that even if it could be cleaned, it still would not be good to use for frozen foods. It's not made out of the proper material — cardboard cartons made for frozen foods have special treatment to protect the food when it is stored at low temperatures. This carton is fine for fresh milk — convenient, inexpensive, easily disposable—so leave it to milk! It has no re-use value as a food container and no value as a frozen food container.

You ask: "Why isn't the milk carton, the fresh oyster cup, the ice cream carton, all right to use for my frozen peas, beans, strawberries and sausage? Why isn't butcher paper or household aluminum foil all right to use for wrapping pork chops, beef roasts and lamb patties?"

The packaging expert gives answers such as: "Material used for wrapping pork must be an oxygen barrier. It is necessary that frozen food containers and packaging materials have low moisture-vapor transmission..." To us that means using containers and packaging materials that will keep all the freshness inside the package while it's being frozen and throughout storage in the freezer locker.

Less Light, Please

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—At the outdoor drive-in movie the door of the snack bar kept swinging open in the wind. A big light bulb sent a beam smack into the eyes of the movie goers every time.

Finally one man opened his car door, strode to the snack bar, banged open the door, unscrewed the bulb and smashed it on the floor.

The Last Straw?

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—On the tissue protecting the straws through which patients at Nix Memorial hospital drink their beverages is this message: "It's a pleasure to serve you—call again."

Ghost Lives For Day

CENTRAL, Mich. (AP) — This Upper Peninsula ghost town comes alive one day each year. Former residents swarm over the once-booming copper town. They meet at the only painted building — the Methodist Church. Then they wander past the gray houses where trees grow through the floor, and leave.

Michigan's copper country has several ghost towns.

Early Air Conditioning

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP) — Part of one of the first air conditioning systems in the United States was dismantled by the Peoples Federal Savings and Loan Assn. here.

The original conditioner, being given modern improvements, was installed when the bank was built in 1917 — an idea of the Chicago architect, Louis Sullivan. It used rain water from the roof of the building. City water will be used in the more modern system.

Move Over

SPRING VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. J. C. Mounts headed by bus for Fort Worth, Tex. to care for her daughter who had just had an operation. As she reached for her suitcase upon arriving in Texas, Mrs. Mounts fell from the upper deck of the bus, broke her leg.

A half hour later she was in the hospital room with her daughter.

EDWARD LEATHERWOOD of Lake Junaluska is the recipient of the $500 Wesleyan Service Guild Scholarship of Long Chapel Methodist Church, Lake Junaluska. A 1955 graduate of the Waynesville Township High School, Leatherwood will enter High Point College. He plans to study for the ministry.

Dr. J. L. Reeves of Canton was named president and Mrs. Virginia Reeves Hampton secretary of the group.

About 40 descendants attended. A picnic dinner was held. James L. Reeves of Leicester presided. Mrs. Coleman Harris of Asheville is retiring secretary.

Open Minded Politics

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—When it comes to politics, the Ashbrooks are open-minded.

John M. Ashbrook, 27, is campaign chairman of the Young Republican National Federation and chairman of the Ohio League of Young Republican Clubs.

But he publishes a weekly newspaper: The Johnstown Independent. And his father, William A. Ashbrook, represented the 17th district in Congress for more than 20 years — as a Democrat.
