

N. C. Lions Officials Hold Meeting Here

Five North Carolina Lions Club district governors met here Sunday morning at Spaldon's for the fall meeting of the State Council under the chairmanship of W. Roy Poole of Kinston.

Host for the meeting was Lawrence B. Leatherwood of Waynesville, governor of District 31-A, while Ernest Edwards, president of the Waynesville Lions Club, welcomed the Lions officials and their wives.

Among the subjects discussed at a business session were the North Carolina Lions convention at Carolina Beach next June, the mid-winter convention of three regions, including the one for Districts 31-A and 31-B at Hickory next January, and the Lions International convention at Miami the last of next June.

Accompanying the district governors here were members of two committees — the North Carolina Promotion Committee and the John L. Stickley committee—who discussed plans for the international convention and the inauguration of Stickley, a Charlotte resident, as president of Lions International.

One feature of the Miami convention will be "North Carolina Night".

Among guests at the meeting here Sunday was Austin Broom of Asheville, president of the North Carolina Association for the Blind.

Safety Council and not by Chief Roy Stevens or his assistant Junior Kuykendall, who have spent many hours training the group in safety measures.

Mayor Davis added: "We regret that these steps had to be taken as the safety patrol, in the opinion of many people, has done a marvelous job at school, as well as in other places in Hazelwood. The members of the patrol are to be commended for their high standards of citizenship shown during their three years of operation."

The Hazelwood Boosters Club donated money for the purchase of caps, badges and Sam Brown safety belts for the members of the patrol, who received special instructions from their leaders.

Lake Junaluska To Get 85,000 Fish Wednesday

A total of 85,000 broom will be stocked in Lake Junaluska at 11 a.m. Wednesday, according to Dr. J. W. Fowler, Jr., superintendent of the Lake Junaluska Methodist Assembly.

The stocking will be done near Ed Potts' boat dock from U. S. Wildlife Resources Commission technicians from Georgia.

This spring harmful carp were removed from Lake Junaluska and bass and bream put into the waters to make the assembly "a fisherman's paradise."

Communities Are Judged For $1000 CDP Award

Governor

Judging started this morning for the ten Haywood County communities which are competing for the $1,000 prize money award of the Community Development Program. The winner will be announced during the Tobacco Festival "Awards Night" Tuesday, November 8.

The communities are being judged under the Danish system, in which blue, red and white ribbons are awarded. In the blue-ribbon group, one community will be named as the first-place winner to represent Haywood County in the WNC district contest, November 14-18. No other ratings will be made within ribbon groups.

Today's schedule included judging of White Oak, Fines Creek, Upper Crabtree, Iron Duff and Francis Cove Communities.

Tuesday the judges will visit Allens Creek at 9 a.m., Ratcliffe Cove at 10:30 a.m., West Pigeon at 1 p.m., Thickety at 2:30 p.m., and South Clyde at 4 p.m.

The three judges for the county contest include two farm agents and one home agent from Western North Carolina counties.

In conjunction with the contest, County Agent Virgil L. Holloway said that competing communities must turn in their scrapbooks, or else call the county agent's office to state that they are complete and will be turned over to the judges on Monday or Tuesday.

Health Center

The county board of health is composed of F. C. Green, chairman, Lawrence Leatherwood, J. H. Way, Dr. N. F. Lancaster, Dr. A. P. Cilne, Willis Kirkpatrick, and Ralph Keenum.

The health department moved into its new $50,000 building the last week of June this year. During the months since then the health program for the county has been broadened to include diabetic and mental hygiene clinics and plans for additional clinics are being made.

Sanitarian Milner is also completing plans for classes for dairymen and food handlers.

The dedication and open house are being sponsored jointly by the board of health and the county commissioners.

bury, first vice chairman, water resources, inlets, and coastal waterways.

After consideration of any other business to be discussed, the meeting will be adjourned and the group will leave here after lunch Wednesday.

On Tuesday four committee meetings are scheduled: advertising; water resources, inlets and coastal waterways, both at 9 a.m.; commerce and industry at 2 p.m. and forestry at 3:30 p.m.

A social hour will be held at 6:30 p.m., to be followed by a dinner at the Country Club Inn given by the Dayton Rubber Company with A. L. Freedlander, president and general manager, as host.

A 9 p.m. Wednesday meeting will hear reports from chairmen of the following standing committees:

Hugh Morton of Wilmington, advertising; R. M. Hanes of Winston-Salem, commerce and industry; Cecil Morris of Atlantic, commercial fisheries; W. J. Damloft of Canton, second vice chairman, forestry; Scroop W. Enloe, Jr., of Spruce Pine, mineral resources; Amos R. Kearns of High Point, parks; Miles J. Smith of Salis-same time, the oxygen hose for high altitude flying was being manufactured.

V-Belts (commonly called fan belts) and radiator hose are produced for the automobile. Offset blankets for printing on single and multicolor printing presses were started in production in 1946.

In 1949, Dayton entered another field and began producing the Foam Rubber products that are sold throughout the country today.

In entering this new market, a pillow was introduced under the copyrighted name of "Koolfoam". Today, this business has expanded at Waynesville to the production of full, half and Hollywood mattresses, furniture cushions, baby pillows, throw cushions and sleeping pads which have made a definite success on the market throughout the country.

Recently, a new item has been added to the list and that is the new "Do-It-Yourself" kit for the home craftsman. This is a complete kit for upholstering in the home.

The Waynesville Plant, nestled in the Western North Carolina Mountains, is the world's largest producer of foam latex pillows.

With the new "Jet Age", came the demand for anti-gravity hose used by the jet pilots in service today. These same hose are made by skilled workers at the Waynesville Plant.

The new model vacuum cleaners now include a light-weight flexible hose superior to the old fabric hose in all ways. Many of these same vacuum hose are manufactured at the Waynesville Plant.

Production of these many rubber and synthetic rubber products requires a great degree of skilled workmanship and many trained technicians. The majority of these people come from the mountain communities of Western North Carolina.

Thieves Enter Maggie Valley Grocery, Cafe

Two cases of breaking and entering and one unsuccessful attempt at a break-in in Maggie Valley Saturday night were reported by the sheriff's office today.

Deputy Gene Howell said that the thieves forced the front door of the Ward Grocery at Maggie and took merchandise valued at between $150 and $200 — including cigarettes, work caps, Prestone anti-freeze, motor oil, socks, candy, snuff, and soap.

Also broken into was the Mount Valley Grill, where $1.54 was taken from the cash register and a cigarette machine and juke box were rifled and an undetermined amount of money removed. The intruder also tore loose and carried off a counter coin box for the automatic record player.

An attempt was also made Saturday to break in to the Miller Texaco station at Maggie, but entrance was not gained, Mr. Howell said.

During the weekend, 35 persons were jailed — mostly for drunkenness — the deputy added.

The board also reserves the right to accept or reject all bids.

The order also sets out that the board reserves the right to sell the land at private sale, if it does not bring enough at public sale, if a better price can be obtained at a private sale.

The chairman was authorized to execute a deed or deeds for the property after the sale had been approved by the full board.

The county had completed plans for selling the property at auction last month, when a restraining order held up the sale. A hearing was held before Judge Dan K. Moore, who ruled after the three and a half-hour hearing that the commissioners had the legal right to sell the property in the manner they had proposed. The opponents to the sale gave notice of appeal through their lawyers. Later the appeal action was dropped, and the restraining order formally dismissed.

First Annual Bull Sale Will Be Held November 5

Haywood County's first bull sale, which is expected to become an annual affair, will be held Saturday, November 5, according to County Agent Virgil L. Holloway.

Rules of the sale are:

1. Only registered bulls will be accepted.
2. All bulls entered must be 6 months of age or older.
3. All bulls must be tested for T.B. and bangs (an effort is being made to get this done free of charge).
4. All bulls consigned will be checked by the county agents and a representative of North Carolina State College.
5. All breeders interested in consigning bulls must have their application in the county agents' office by Thursday, September 15th.

The sale is being organized to provide a source of supply for good bulls, principally for commercial breeders of Haywood County, Mr. Holloway explained.

He added: "All bulls will be closely inspected and must be approved before being entered in the sale. It is expected that the majority of the bulls will be from 6 to 12 months of age; however, in many cases breeders have older bulls that they are planning to dispose of. In too many cases bulls leave the county and often go for slaughter, for this reason older bulls will be accepted in the sale this year."

The site of the sale will be announced later.

Crafts Exhibited By County Women At State Fair

Three Haywood County members of Home Demonstration Clubs demonstrated crafts "Village of Yesterday" at the Carolina State Fair at Raleigh last week.

Mrs. Eugene Grouzet of the Merry Homestead demonstrated copper work. Jim Singleton of the Club demonstrated basketry. Mrs. Bert Cagle of the Club demonstrated wooden plates.

UNITED WAY

GIVE THE UNITED WAY

By Floyd Nelson

It is a wonderful realization to know that soon we will be able to look into distant places like Paris, Cairo, Rome, Tokyo by way of our TV screen.

World coverage by TV is nearing. Europe and the Orient have networks. Africa and Egypt will have stations this year. Even Russia has her main cities set up with a network. Mexico City will possibly be relayed into Texas this year. South America would be next.

One problem remains and that is relaying over the great distances of water. It can be done as shown with the world baseball series last fall. A plane equipped with TV relaying equipment, flew a small circle over the Atlantic half way to Cuba, and relayed the baseball broadcast to Cuba from a Florida relay post.

That TV in your living room has a great potential for the future. The servicing of TV for the best viewing potential are improving too. We at NELSON'S TV SERVICE keep up-to-date on all the latest servicing methods. Phone 4-6881 next time and see the difference in your TV picture.
