Thousands Visit Parkway In Pisgah; Color Plentiful

Thousands of visitors have flocked to the new link of the Parkway from Wagon Road to Beech Gap, which was closed for months.

Luther Hodges, town manager, and guests, made Monday in two special parties were of one accord in their praise of the new link. "Terrific, magnificent, wonderful," were the words of the photographers who have been making color pictures, with Green Knob and Devil's Courthouse affording some of the best vantage points for the lensmen and women.

Hugh Morton, recognized expert cameraman, spent all of Tuesday afternoon in the Pisgah area shooting color as well as black and white. He also made many feet of movies of the area.

There will be lots of color in the area this weekend, according to Ted Seely, Pisgah Forest Ranger. Some of the trees on the very top have shed their leaves due to the high winds Tuesday, but the foliage on the slopes are still colorful. Some of the best color will be found from Cruso to Wagon Road Gap, over US 276, and around Lake Logan.

Lake Logan may be reached by taking the forest road at Beech Gap through Sherwood Forest. This road is not paved, but has been covered with crushed stone, and traverses the heart of Sherwood Forest.

The total value of all cattle on farms in North Carolina the first of the year was set at over 59 1/2 million dollars, or about 12 per cent less than a year earlier.
