

Number Of Spring Flowers Could Be Planted In Fall

ROBERT SCHMIDT
The usual spring flowers there are a number of flowers that are best planted in the fall, particularly in central North Carolina. In mind such flowers as sweet peas, annual phlox, stocks and cornflower or blue.

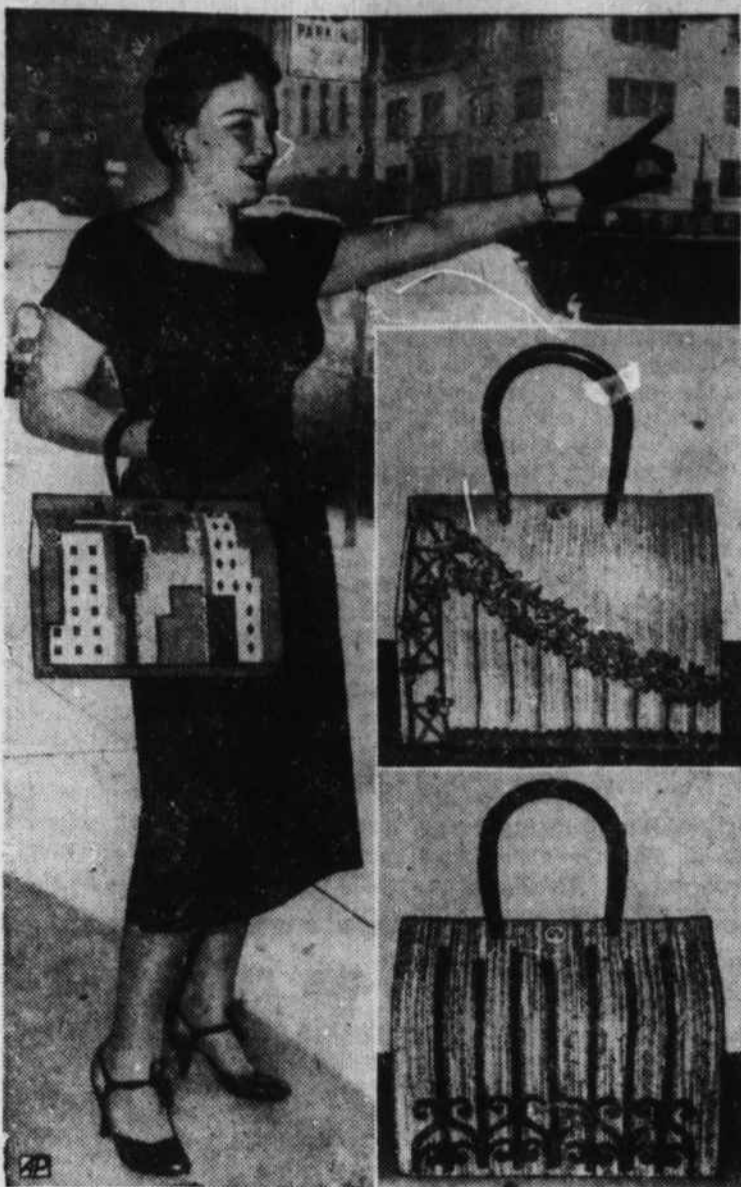

Pvt. Edwards Finishes Special Army Course

CAMP GORDON, Ga. — Pvt. Joseph F. Edwards of Love Lane, will graduate this week from the Message Center Procedure Course, one of the many courses offered at The Southeastern Signal School, Camp Gordon, Georgia. He is the son of Mrs. Mattie G. Edwards.

The Message Center Procedure Course, which is 8 weeks in length, trains selected enlisted men as Signal Message Clerks who receive and process messages for transmission by messenger or elec-into growth again. It is best to plant shallow, at least one-third of the bulb showing above the soil level in the pot.

Poinsettias growing in pots out of doors should be brought in at once. They are very sensitive to cool temperatures. They should not be placed in the living room where lights are kept on late in the evening but should be placed in some room where they will get 12 hours or less of light per day and where the temperature is constant about 70 to 72 degrees. The poinsettia is a short day plant and will not bloom if exposed to longer periods of light than 12 hours per day.

South Clyde Has Halloween Party

By MRS. KYLE LINDSEY
Community Reporter

The South Clyde C.D.P. had their Halloween party at the community house last Saturday, night with a report from the group of a real good time.

Several of the groups gathered early, dressed in costumes, and had pictures made. Supper was served with the menu being hot dogs, hamburgers, pies and cookies with hot chocolate and coffee and sweet buns.

Mrs. Mattie Mann had charge of the recreation.

Several visitors to the community were present, including Miss Lucille Cathey of Winston-Salem; Mrs. Clinton Towles and son of Enka; Miss Mary Francis Allen of Emory University in Atlanta, Ga., who was home visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. V. N. Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. George Limbo of Brevard.

The H. D. Club met at the community house for a workshop on stenciling, conducted by Mrs. Glen Allen, Tuesday afternoon.

The young people's class of Louisa Chapel will have a wiener roast this week near the home of Roy Stamey. Ben Killian is the teacher.

Mrs. W. C. Justice is confined in bed at home.

The Sunday school group of Louisa Chapel will have a supper and program at the community house next Saturday night.

All members of the school are asked to come and bring supper.

The C.D.P. will have a supper on Saturday, Nov. 19th, from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the community house. The plates will be 50c for children and $1 for adults. This will be a benefit for the C.D.P. treasury.

The Tobacco Festival will be next Monday and Tuesday. Please make plans to go see the exhibits and attend the program at the Courthouse Tuesday night, when the community prize money and beauty contest will be a feature of the program.

The men of the Louisa Chapel Church and some of the other churches on the charge are remodeling and painting the parsonage. The furnishings have been bought by the three churches and have been delivered.

Rapidly-Rising Populations Pose Serious World Problem

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—It is the rising generation who will be called upon to solve the increasingly complex problems of growing populations, described by the writer, Julian Huxley, as the gravest problem of our time . . . "More serious in the long perspective than war or peace."

It is this belief that prompted the setting up of summer workshops for graduate students here by the Population Reference Bureau, a nonprofit, scientific organization formed in 1929 to awaken public interest in population problems throughout the world. A clearing house for population information, whose main objective is to make available in accurate, non-technical form, the "essential facts upon which rational population policies must be based," it is now engaged in its fourth workshop, where each student must complete a research project, participate in seminar discussions, and help prepare and edit at least one of the bureau bulletins.

Pretty Aisuko Ogura, Japanese Fulbright graduate exchange student from Osaka University, who is working for a masters degree in American history at Smith College, is one of this summer's workshop students.

A smiling, soft-voiced young woman of 23, taller than most Japanese, Aisuko is particularly interested in immigration programs and the cultural assimilation of immigrants in the United States.

"These things are important to international understanding," she said. "I want also to study the role of education and political attitudes in the lives of different groups in this country."

"Traditionally, the Japanese have been taught that to be polite one must hide one's true feelings," she explained, "but I prefer to be frank."

Miss Ogura was frank about her reactions to this country.

They stopped and spent the weekend in Greensboro, where Mrs. Noland visited friends at Woman's College. Miss Billie Kitchen accompanied them as far as Greensboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Allen and children of High Point, spent the weekend with Mr. Allen's sister, Mrs. Fred Brown.

Mrs. Reeves Ferguson and her daughter, Nancy, left Sunday afternoon for a visit with her brothers, Buster and Bob Brown of Newport News and Norfolk, Va.
