

IF IT'S GIFTS FOR WOMEN, Sheppe's Store on Main St. may have the right answer for you in its complete line of women's clothing, shoes, and accessories. This year you are assured of finding at Sheppe's the right styles, fabrics, and sizes of women's apparel since they are showing an even greater variety than ever before. (Mountaineer Photo).

Home Agent Gives Hints For Broiling

By RUTH CURRENT
State Home Demonstration Agent

MAKE USE OF YOUR BROILER—To broil means to cook by direct heat, under gas or electric heat, over coals, or between two hot surfaces as in an electric grill. Nutritionists say it is just as quick and easy as frying and uses less fat. Broiler meals are quick, easy and delicious. One food or whole meals may be cooked in a single pan.

SELECT RIGHT FOOD FOR BROILING—Steaks, chops, cured pork, fish, chopped meat, liver, wieners and young chicken are good broiling meats. Since veal does not have much fat, it is better cooked other ways. Fresh pork should not be broiled. Pork needs longer, more thorough cooking for safe eating.

Vegetables and fruits: any quick cooking, tender vegetables and fruit can be broiled right along with the meat to complete your meals. Left-over or canned vegetables can be heated in the bottom of the broiler pan while the meat broils on the rack.

USE RIGHT SIZE PAN FOR BROILING—The broiling pan and rack in gas and electric stoves are fine for broiling large amounts of food. But you don't have to use this pan every time you want to broil two chops or a few slices of bacon. Any rack in a small pie or cake pan will do the job, and it will be easier to handle and wash. The rack in the pan is important. It holds the meat up, allowing the drippings to fall in the bottom of the pan. This keeps the meat from steaming and cooking in the juice or fat—it also gives drippings of better color and flavor for making gravy.

CASTLE OF CARDS

Slotted packs of cards have come into toyland to make a reality of the castle of legend. Only the one built from these cards is a little more difficult to topple.

PHONES THAT WORK

Inter-room communication is actually possible with toy phone systems available for giving to children this year.
