It is simply

It is simply this . . . with VHF only, you just can't have enough stations in the counstations in the country without overlapping TV waves. Interference between the same channels in distests and complaints.

UHF opened seventy additional channels in tant cities led to proa higher frequency area and allowed for better coverage to more people.

Richard Chase, noted story teller and ballad collector of the Southern Mountains, is now making a series of appearances in nine Haywood County schools.

Last week he visited Lake Junaluska, Bethel, East Waynesville, Allens Creek and Saunook, Clyde, and Hazelwood schools and will make a return appearance at all these schools and also at Central Elementary School for the first

In appearing before students, Mr. Chase is telling ancient folk tales, instructing in folk games, and presenting sketches of pup-

The folklorist is interested only in the old tales and ballads brought to this country from England by the early settlers and still preserved in the Southern Appalachians.

Mr. Chase determined that these tales, which were being slowly forgotten, should not be lost. Traveling the mountains, he has for years noted them down, together with folk games and songs. He tells the on the Haywood County Board of tales, complete with mountain words and accents, in his pro-

MORE ABOUT Sheriff Campbell

Although the cage in which they were riding was broken open and the sheriff and driver were badly hurt, none of the prisoners made any attempt to escape, in fact, they helped the injured officers.

The prisoners, all sentenced during the November term of Superior Court in Haywood County, were being taken to Central Prison in Raleigh.

Six of the prisoners were hospitalized at Memorial Mission Hospital and the other two at Aston Park Hospital.

At Memorial Mission were: Gene Watts, 29, of Canton, sentenced to seven to 10 years for breaking and entering, with a serious head injury and body bruises. Algie Fowler, 34, of Waynesville, and back. William Clontz, 26 of Canton, sentenced to 18 months for forgery, with a left leg injury, abrasions of the right hand and a bruised head. David Gardy Hall, 65, of Marietta. S. C., sentenced to five to seven years for forgery, with a left shoulder injury, injuries to the right side of the head, the right kidney and hand abrasions. Edward Chapman, 33, of Canton, sentenced to 18 months for forgery, with a right shoulder injury and
