as here in Haywood County, where just a few hours after the disaster occurred people got together in order to help the workers, who have now temporarily lost their jobs.

"At Wellco the employees are also taking up money to be made available to the disaster fund," and Mr. Rollman stated that it is his belief that, as usual, the Wellco employees will give rather more than they can afford to give. "Whether it is foreign aid to the tune of fifty billion dollars in ten years or local aid to the tune of five thousand dollars, the world has never witnessed the unselfish generosity as is being shown every day, year in and year out, by the people of the United States," Mr. Rollman stated.

Is Tatum Going To Carolina?

The Daily Tar Heel, campus newspaper at the University of North Carolina, carried the following article under the headline, "Tatum Says He Is Not Coming Here."

The article is as follows: According to the Charlotte Observer, Jim Tatum will be the new head coach at the University of North Carolina next year. In a series of articles this week, the Observer has pointed out that George Barclay did not have a chance of remaining at Carolina, and that Jim Tatum, in all probability, would be named his successor.

The following article appeared in a Baltimore newspaper the other day and puts quite a damper on the outlook the Observer took.

College Park, Nov 17 — Jim Tatum may be at another school other than Maryland next football season, but it definitely will not be at his alma mater, North Carolina, he says.

Time and again the rumor has cropped up that the Terp tactician will go back to Carolina to right the listing Tar Heel ship.

Two Good Reasons

Tatum cites two very good reasons why he'll not go to Carolina. They are in the form of people on the athletic council there.

"One was team physician when I was there in 1942, and I fired him because some of the things he did conflicted with what my trainer wanted to do.

"The other is a successful business man around Chapel Hill whom I disagreed with on coaching policies when he was sort of "a gentleman coach" of our freshmen when I was varsity coach there.

Plus Two More

"So with two votes likely to go against me everytime I proposed something to the athletic council, it would be foolish of me to take a job there."

There are two other reasons which go hand in hand. One is that Carolina wouldn't be willing to offer large James the athletic dictatorship in addition to the head coaching job because Charlie Erickson has been there only a short time and is in pretty solid with the powers that be.

The other is that his alma mater could hardly afford to meet his salary of $18,500, simply for a football coach.

gation was conducted by Dr. Hayes. This was well received and the consensus of opinion seemed to be that the Church should be open to administer to all, regardless of race. The emphasis was that the Christian position was one of cooperation with the decision of the Supreme Court as regards segregation and that discrimination against any race was wrong.

Following are short summaries of those on panel representing as near as possible the position of their church in the matter of segregation.

The Rev. Father Newman of St. John's Roman Catholic Church, Waynesville read the Episcopal Letter of June, 1953 of the Diocese of Raleigh stating that segregation would not be tolerated in any manner in any Catholic Church in the Diocese.

The Rev. James Y. Perry, Jr. of Grace Episcopal Church stated that although it was possible to hold an adverse point of view, the Episcopal Church as a whole was opposed to segregation. The General Convention which met in Honolulu in September adopted with little debate a resolution which supported the Supreme Court's decision implementing integration in public schools, and urged that in the work of the Church, people of any race should be welcomed to any service and brought into the full fellowship of the Church.

The Rev. O. L. Roberts of the Canton Methodist Church stated that the action of the last General Conference was taken before the Supreme Court acted on Segregation. However, the Methodists went on record at that time stating: "There is no place in the Methodist Church for racial discrimination or segregation. To discriminate against a person solely on the basis of race is both unfair and unchristian."

The Rev. J. Clayton Lime of the Canton Presbyterian Church stated that the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. following the Supreme Court decision "urged that the trustees of institutions of higher education belonging to the General Assembly adopt the policy of opening the doors of these institutions to all races."

The Rev. T. E. Robnett of the First Baptist Church, Waynesville, stated that the general feeling of the recent Baptist Convention was that the problem of segregation must be faced and that the churches ought to lead the way. However, segregation in Baptist Educational Institutions was left up to the trustees of the individual institutions and on the local level, to the individual churches.

Clyde At Waynesville, Reynolds At Bethel In Cage Games Friday

Fines Creek To Entertain Flat Rock

Three basketball games will be played in the county Friday night with Clyde scheduled at Waynesville, Reynolds at Bethel, and Flat Rock at Fines Creek.

Canton will be at Enka, and Crabtree-Iron Duff will be idle until next week.

The Mountaineers found Reynolds unexpectedly easy victims here Tuesday night and won under wraps, 43-29. At one time in the fourth period the Gold and Black dribblers led by 26 points, but eased up and let the visitors cut the final margin as substitutes took over the hardwood duties.

Waynesville moved the ball well, were effective on defensive, and showed a good eye for the basket after a slow first quarter. The only department in which the Mountaineers were off form was in snaring offensive rebounds.

Waynesville's girls were impressive on offense against Reynolds, but couldn't throw up an adequate defense against the highly regarded Buncombe sextet and dropped their first game in three starts, after whipping Murphy and Brevard.

The Clyde Cardinals will take a 1-2 record into the Waynesville gym tomorrow night with losses to Canton and Bethel and a victory over Crabtree-Iron Duff.

The Maroon and Gold, however, led favored Canton until the last minute of the game and lost out only when the Bears made a last-minute surge for a 55-51 win. In their last start, the Clyde basket-keepers downed Crabtree, 42-31.

Canton won its third game of the season without a defeat by subduing Brevard on the Transylvanians' floor. But the Black Bears will be meeting their toughest opposition thus far in the Enka Jets, who downed Biltmore earlier in the week, 67-47.

The Black Bears have three starters back from the team that won the Blue Ridge Conference tournament last year—plus several promising reserves.

Bethel, state Class AA runner-up last season, ran into rugged opposition at Leicester and lost out.

The Blue Demons, however, should be able to get back on the right track over Reynolds at home.

The conference Belles also dropped their contest to Leicester—the first time in several years that both Bethel teams have been beaten in the same night.

Fines Creek was idle Tuesday night, so should be ready to go against Flat Rock at home tomorrow night.

In an earlier meeting with the Henderson County school, Fines Creek split a pair of games.

Dayton To Meet Beacon

The Dayton Rubber Co. men's and women's team will meet Beacon Mills in a WNC Industrial League doubleheader at the Crabtree-Iron Duff gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Beacon Mills won the loop championship in 1954 and is regarded as the top team again this year.

In their last start, the Dayton Rubber cagers took a twin bill from Old Fort, the men winning 92-50 and the women, 31-19.

Max Rogers, former Crabtree star, paced the rubber makers with 27 points, while Billy Leatherwood hit 17.

Rogers and Mease paced the Dayton women with 10 points apiece.

In their first game this year, the Dayton men whipped Youngblood Trucking Lines at Fletcher, 53-47.

The squad's other member is Bob Brannon, who played at Brevard High and later at the Norfolk Naval Air Station.

The Canton Black Bears turned back the Brevard Blue Devils without much trouble at Brevard Tuesday night, 62-43, but the Lady Bears lost out in a one-point finish to the Brevard girls, 46-45.

Jerry Raxter showed the way for the Bears with 20 points, while Dewayne Milner added 14 more. English was tops for the Blue Devils with 13 points.

In the girls' game, Phillips was the big gun for Canton and the game's high scorer with 33 points. Warren hit 25 for the Brevard sextet.

Canton's next game will be against the Enka Jets on Enka's floor Friday night.

Girls' lineup:
Canton (45) Brevard (46)

Leicester Surprises Bethel With Double-Cage Victory

Leicester's boys won, 66-52, after the girls had triumphed by one point, 52-51.

Teague's 30-point barrage paced the Leicester boys' attack, but three other players also hit in the double figures, Burruss was tops for the Blue Demons with 16 points.

In the girls' game, Kennerly poured in 33 points for the Buncombe girls with Lowe high for the Belles with 26.

Leicester was ahead at the half in both games.

Bethel's next game will be against Reynolds at home Friday night.
